

Barbara Cousins Weds Saturday at St. George's

St. George's Church of England, beautifully decorated with multi-colored gladioli, was the setting for the wedding on Saturday, September 11th of Marion Barbara Cousins, elder daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Gordon Cousins of Georgetown to Keith Joseph Duncan, son of Mrs. Barry Cooke of Toronto and the late Clifford E. Duncan. It was a choral ceremony, with St. George's Choir taking part. Mrs. W. F. Bradley at the organ, Miss Lillian Obelansky of Toronto was soloist, and sang, "Oh Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of slipper satin fashioned with lace yolk, fitted bodice and paillettes. A floor length gown of embroidered net was caught with a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Her sister, Miss Pamela Cousins, was maid of honour, wearing flowered organdy and carrying pale yellow gladioli. The groom's sister, Miss Marion Duncan of Toronto, and Miss Beatrice Brill of Toronto were bridesmaids, wearing turquoise and pale pink organdy gowns and carrying harmonising bouquets of gladioli and Shirley Duncan, niece of the groom, as flower girl wore pale pink and blue. The gowns of all attendants were fashioned on similar lines as the bride's gown and all wore matching headpieces of net and ribbon and matching pearls, the gift of the groom.

The groomsmen were the groom's brother, Edwin Duncan of Toronto, and ushers were the bride's brother, Colin Cousins and James Sinclair and David Edmond both of Toronto. Over one hundred guests were entertained at a reception at the home of the bride's parents near Georgetown where a marquee tent had been erected on the lawn. Her mother received wearing a rose-colored gown with white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli. The groom's mother, chose a gown of turquoise silk with white accessories and a corsage of pale pink roses. Mr. W. F. Bradley proposed the toast to the bride.

After a honeymoon trip the couple will reside in Ajax, where the groom is a student in electrical engineering. The bride will also attend the University of Toronto, where she will continue her course in physiotherapy.

WHY COMPLAIN?

"I can hear your new radio set as clear as though it were in my room." "Then would you care to help me pay, off the instalments?"

Crazy for Money

By ERNEST MILES
WNU Features.

BACK for the "Crazy for Money" program, Bud Watson was on the platform waiting to go on the air.

If you listened to the show two weeks ago you will remember Mart Ringearly, the Master of Ceremonies, introduced Bud. He told how Bud had just been discharged from the army and had volunteered for any stunt asked of him. Bud was to go out to Roscoe's Mammoth Carnival in the Fair Grounds, and to act as a spicler for Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties.

And now the program was on the air and Mart Ringearly was saying, "Hello, Hello! Hello! Tonight we are going to hear what happened to Bud Watson, who two weeks ago went out to the Carnival to be a spicler on Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties show. Captain Billy is here, too, and I see he has brought a very pretty blonde with him. We'll start with you, Captain. But first, who is this lovely girl?"

"Oh, this is my daughter, Dora, who got herself involved in the stunt so I brought her along, too."

"This sounds mysterious, but tell us first what you did with Bud."

"There was a big crowd of folks who had heard your broadcast and they came out to hear the fun. They began calling for Bud so I brought him onto the platform. That big, red-headed six-footer just stood there tongue-tied. However, I managed to get him going and he did pretty well so I sent him inside to announce the events."

"Then you would say Bud was a success and deserves the money?" "He did all right but he was still paying more attention to my daughter than to the show. It ended up, my having him thrown into the tank of water."

"The audience was screaming as Mart asked, 'You mean to say the evening ended with you in the water, Bud?'"

Bud stammered a bit, "Well, as the Captain told you, we went out to the show and I was to listen and learn from him what to do. But that girl in the ticket booth set my head in a whirl and I just couldn't concentrate on what the Captain was saying.

"I got along fine with Dora."

"The crowd laughed at me and Captain Billy said, 'Get going kid, so I did the best I could.'"

"But," asked Mart, "how in the world did you get thrown into the tank three nights later?"

"Oh, I was crazy about the girl in the booth and went back each night, determined to make her like me. I hung around but she wouldn't talk. Captain Billy got madder and madder and tried to chase me away. On the third night he had a couple of fellows throw me into the tank."

"I was certainly wet and just as I got out of the tank Dora came back with the cash and tickets. When she saw what had happened she let out a yell and chased those fellows out. Then she turned and gave Captain Billy a tongue-lashing. I didn't know until then she was his daughter."

"Ha, ha, romance seems to have bloomed," said Mart and "let's hear what Captain Billy has to say."

"I didn't like it at first because Dora is only 18 and I've been both father and mother to her. Her mother died when she was three. But Bud is a persistent guy. I could see Dora had fallen hard for him."

"She got him a job so he'd be able to marry her?"

"She certainly did. Bud is now my chief assistant and doing a swell job. When the season is finished they plan to get married and I'll still have my daughter, plus a darn fine son."

By now the audience was standing, cheering. Mart finally broke in: "It just goes to show you never know what will happen on this show. Bud, here is the other half of that $100 bill. Good luck to both of you."

"Thank you very much, it has been a wonderful experience," said Bud and passed the bill over to Dora.

"There," said Mart, "it's the woman who wins. Tell us, Dora, what are you going to do with that money?"

"Well, Mr. Ringearly, Bud promised it to me towards the finest trousseau a girl ever had, but Bud is the best prize of all, a real Valentine."

"I'm sure you will be happy," said Mart, "and Bud may have been crazy for money but he certainly is wise in his choice of a wife."
