R. E. Heatherington, Halton Federation of Agriculture secretary informs us that he has already received several cheques from Women's Institutes earmarked for installing hydrp from the road allowance to the refreshment booth at Halton Community Park at Lovellville. Bob says you can always depend on the Institutes to support a worthy project. They have supplied the cash to build the booth and now come along with hydrp. "That's what I call simply grand," he says.

Chatting ... With Anne

On October the second Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gummer are going to be at home to old friends of Grace who was married recently to Don Massey. Don and Grace are coming home on that day and how about dropping in to the Gummerts for a social hour or so with an old friend?

Mr. Ben McIlarg has just returned from a holiday in Quebec where he visited with his father. Ben says it is much drier in Quebec than it is here. That is the land we mean. A nice new house is being built for Mrs. W. J. Alexander of Ashgrove on Maple Avenue. Mrs. Alexander is looking forward to living in her new home. Being an excellent musician, she will probably find us all dropping in for a sing-song once in a while.

The fair, in our opinion was the best Georgetown has ever had. Heard a lot of nice remarks about it everywhere. The McMillans, not because they are our own townfolk, are good sportsmen. They certainly add to a wonderful fair. They deserve all the nice things we hear about them. Heard a woman say she had to get to the fair, even if she broke her neck, because she couldn't miss seeing Glad McMillan drive. John Bird should have been a happy man on Saturday night. He must have been a very tired one.

We all had fun on Saturday night. The gang got together at Hungry Hollow and had a corn roast and sing song. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed it. We should do it more often. We had as our guest Mrs. Gladys Pell from Palermo who liked our fair, and joined in the fun at the corn roast, and made a lot of new friends. Mrs. Pell was a charming addition to the party. Our thanks to Mr. George Clave for contributing the wood for our fire.

Dropping in at our neighbour's Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Parker's we find them, with Mr. and Mrs. Carney, celebrating a wedding anniversary in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carney. Mrs. Parker makes light of her injured ankle and in spite of it, took in the fair and the corn-roast. We consider ourselves fortunate in having such congenial new neighbours.

Corn roasts are the order of the day. The children got together in or back yard and enjoyed a part on Thursday night. This reminds us, we have heard the children complain quite often that the grown ups have plenty of amusement, the teen-agers are well taken care of, but there isn't enough done for the small fry of the town, and they are feeling left out of it. Now that swimming is about over, and cool weather upon us, we have been doing a bit of serious thinking about the situation, and we plan to do something about it. We will welcome any suggestions. These children are our town's future. We should make their childhood days happy ones to remember. Children aren't content with just staying at home any more, no matter how pleasant that home may be, it is up to us to fill the need they have of entertainment, and to make it the right kind. Our children are important.

OUR CHILD
Against the oaken pew he leaned,
A child of summers three or four,
And smiled to see each stained-glass saint
Cast by the sunlight on the floor.
He wondered why the folks should look
So sad and stern on either hand.
His thoughts were wandering from the book,
The prayers he could not understand.
Yet, when the organ's thunder filled
The dim-lit aisles in praise and prayer,
Sweatily his childish treble trilled,
Happiest of all who worshipped there.
The sunshine made his heart rejoice;
And who shall chide him? Who declare
God did not hear the childish voice
That sang because his world was fair?
