Chatting... With Anne

How time flies. It will soon be Christmas again. We are reminded quite often by the children. Cordaro's candy store has two enormous candy cases on display in their window. These are to be given away at Christmas time to two lucky customers.

We are sorry to know that Mr. George Wilson had suffered a stroke and is quite ill at his home on Union Street.

The Georgetown Choral Society under the leadership of Mrs. Hal Newman is well under way, and there are some lovely voices taking part in the singing. We and many others have always found Tom Warner singing a pleasure. Tom is a member of the Church of England choir as well as a member of the choral society.

Life holds many a smile. The royal sector have a hydro. But off every morning, and afternoon. The other day a lady who does something for me phoned and without saying hello said "Darling you and Colonel Drew". I enquired, "What Col. Drew and I had in common, to which she replied "Your shirts and his hydro. If he doesn't do something about it soon I can't get your work done." Looks like he has a big job ahead of him. I imagine the hydro situation should have been foreseen long before Col. Drew ever got there. We have been very lucky in Georgetown concerning our hydro. We should all co-operate as much as we can. I don't know of anything that does as much for as little money, as the hydro.

Speaking of politics I remember well the time when Mitchell Hepburn came into power and Mrs. Will Sinclair, being a staunch Conservative was putting up a great argument for her own party. Time being well on the way for lunch time she decided there was a rooster to be killed and dressed. During the killing the blood flew and splattered her dress and face well and when she came in, Will said, "Well, Lizzie, I knew you felt strongly about the political situation, but I never thought you would come to blows." This created much merriment and everyone went happily away to vote.

We are sorry Bill Milliere had such a serious accident, but glad that Bill is no worse. Bill being a favourite with everyone in the neighbourhood.

Children are good judges of character. I heard two very small ones discussing their respective churches. Said one: "You should go to the United Church and hear Mr. Smif". (Rev. John Smith) "Well," said the other one. "You should hear our Mr. Thompson and besides Mr. Thompson, we have Harvey Dewhurst and everybody knows he is the best fellow in the world." It was a nice tribute to their Sunday School superintendent. At this point in the discussion the younger one spat importantly on the ground and said "What do you think of the new cop?" "Oh! He's OK. He's got a smiley face." The younger one said "Bet he could get tough if he wanted to." "The other replied "He won't get tough. He knows the kids in Georgetown are good kids. He's our friend."

St. George's had a new and interesting service when a dedication service was held to dedicate the Sunday School teachers and officers. This was impressive and gave one much food for thought that we must not take our duties too lightly.

Lord, who are we to teach the way To little children day by day, So prone ourselves to go astray? We teach them knowledge, but we know How faint they flicker and how low The candles of our knowledge glow. We teach them power to will and do, But only now to learn anew Our own great weakness thru and thru. We teach them love for all mankind And all God's creatures, but we find Our love comes lagging far behind. Lord, if their guide we still must be, Oh, let the little children see The teachers, leaning hard on thee.

STEWARTTOWN
(last week)

Hallowe'en has come and gone once more. It surely was the foggiest Hallowe'en for many years. The children had a good time visiting the village homes and collecting all kinds of goodies. One car didn't make the bad curve on the hill and went into the ditch. No one was hurt and when — after a long wait—the tow truck got busy and pulled the car out no damage was done.

The monthly business meeting of the W.A. was held at Mrs. Cecil Smith's home.

Mrs. Milleham has returned home after a week in Brampton Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkinson and family of Mount Dennis, were in the village last Saturday calling on former neighbours and friends.
