HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The most important item of the past week was the Rugby game played by our team against Acton. On Wednesday afternoon the six man squad and subs journeyed by car to that thriving metropolis Acton. There they engaged in mortal combat with their arch-enemies the Acton Apes. The action was fast and ferocious with the larger part of the fray being a game of brawn against brawn with no brains necessary. In summing up the various plays of the game you could call them plunges with variations (Varied, of course as little as possible).

The only touch-down of the game was scored by guess-who. No you're right, Keith "Muscle-Meat" Thompson, the star wing who shuffled an underhanded pass by Kirkwood meant for Ireland and ran to the 10 yard line. At this point he thought he would give the other team a chance. He stopped and was plowed under. (He thought the 10 yard line was the goal line). On the next play he again came into the limelight and redeemed himself by plunging through the stalwart Acton line for a major score. A little roughing was enjoyed by both teams but there were no serious casualties.

We were not at the game and could not secure the Acton line-up but we can give you the Georgetown line-up. Snap, Scott, Arnold; Wings, K. Thompson, B. Baxter, Beaumont, Gillis; Quarter, Kirkwood; Halves, Burns, Ireland, Hutchinson, Denham. There is to be a return game in Georgetown this Thursday and at that time we will try and find out who the giants are that play for Acton.

The inspector was expected last week but as yet has not arrived.

This week we are going to make you suffer (more) by telling you a couple of (ugh) jokes. Overheard at a recent dance. Jim Follow — I don't like some of these modern dances. They're nothing but hugging set to music. A certain girl — Well, what do you object to about that? Jim — The music.

Ray Anderson's car stalled at a busy city corner and the traffic light changed redly yellow, green. The polite policeman stepped up, beside his car and asked "What's the matter, mister, ain't we got any colours you like?"

Episode 4. Ah-h-h As you remember last week poor Sam Mixmaster was hanging around a certain notorious pool hall; by a rope, by the neck. This week he was quoted as saying "B-r-r-rp."

Dr. Zaimsevitch found him in this peculiar condition and upon cutting him down started hacking him up in bits. First an ear, then the other ear, an arm, etc, and while doing this the Doc was muttering to himself "She loves me, she loves me not". (to be continued).

P.S. This column was written by candlelight, our power was off.

Thomas Carey Was Long Georgetown Resident

A well-known resident of Georgetown, Thomas Carey passed away in St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, on Sunday, November 7, at the age of 79. Mr. Carey had been confined to hospital with a broken hip which he suffered in a fall on fair day.

Born in England, he had spent practically all his life in this vicinity. He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Harris, and four sons, Clarence and Oliver of Georgetown, Albert of Aylmourt and Roy of Galt. There are seven grandchildren.

Rev. Alex Calder, of Knox Presbyterian Church conducted the funeral service from the home of his son, Clarence, on Tuesday, November 9th, with interment following in Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown. Pallbearers were William Cunningham, Perc Cleave, Harold Cleave, Joseph Watson, Jack Devereaux and William Marshall.

BAPTIST CHURCH HIGHLIGHTS

The pastor's subject for the Sunday morning service was: Working with God. The text was taken from Hebrews 3:4. Every house is builded by some man but He that built all things is God. This is in accord with the first verse in the Bible, which reads: In the beginning God created the Heaven and the Earth. God has placed man over His Creation. Every thing that man accomplishes in this world, he has to use the material that God gave him. Man works with God whether he recognizes Him or not. In any structure, invention or discovery, we must remember He that built all things is God. Man simply took God's material and refashioned it. Without God's provision man would be useless. In the words of the Psalmist: The fool has said in his heart there is no God. Many do not realize that in their daily toil they are working for or against the Great Creator.

Are you building that business with God? Are you building your home with God? Are you building your character with God? Within this world of millions, we have a part, a privilege and a duty. The evening subject was: The Exalted Christ, the text being the words of Jesus when He said: John 3:14. As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so the Son of man must be lifted up. The children of Israel had been bitten by serpents. Moses placed a serpent upon a pole and told them if they looked upon the serpent they would not die. Those who did so did not die but the disobedient suffered. Jesus referred to this and said: Even so must the Son of man be lifted up. He was referring to Himself hanging on the Cross. All who accept Him as their sacrifice, yielding their life to Him shall be saved, they who do not look to Him will perish. The Bible from beginning to end points to the Christ as the way of life. There is no salvation for those who do not accept Christ as their personal saviour. Jesus said: "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life, no man cometh unto the Father but by Me."

We must know Christ as our personal Saviour and then by word and deed lift Him up before the world. If we do, the world could be saved, if we do not exalt Him there is no hope for the world. Nothing else can save the world, but the acceptance of God's own gift, His only begotten Son. The quarterly business meeting of the church was held on Wednesday evening. On Monday evening the BYPU attended a rally in Guelph. Rev. J. L. Barley of Toronto was the special speaker.

Mason-Hyatt Wedding at Norval United Church

Norval United Church on Saturday, November 6th amidst a setting of gold and bronze chrysanthemums with a background of palms, was the scene for the marriage of Doris Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hyatt, Norval, to Oliver Milford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Mason, Brampton. Rev. F. J. Dunlop officiated. Mr. Kenneth Harrison presided at the organ and Mrs. Elgin Fritz of Kitchener sang "O Promise Me" and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in brocade, dotted with portrait neckline, full length veil was finished with a bonnet staped headdress, trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white lilies and wore a five strand pearl necklace, the gift of the groom. Mrs. Norman Somerville, matron of honour for her sister and Shirley Mason, bridesmaid, were gowned alike in gold taffeta with headpieces of brown velvet trimmed with gold veiling. Their bouquets were of pink delight roses. Mr. Norman Somerville of Guelph was groomsmen and Messrs. William Hyatt and Howard Malby were the ushers. For a reception held at the home of the bride's parents, at which the ladies of Norval United Church catered, Mrs. Hyatt received the guests wearing wine with black accessories and a corsage of Starlight roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore Resed; green with black accessories and a corsage of Starlight roses.

The couple left for a motor trip to the U.S.A., the bride travelling in a cameo pink dress with dark brown top coat, brown accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

TERRA COTTA ARTIST STARTS ART CLASSES

Tonight in the Public Library, Jordanus van der Vliet, well-known Canadian artist who makes his home at Terra Cotta, inaugurates a series of classes in oil painting. The classes are open to the public at a fee of $10 for ten lessons.

Mr. van der Vliet, who was born in Amsterdam, Holland, started his art studies at the Quillman Academy in that city, was later a pupil of A. Van der Ven and Jan Sluyters, and came to Canada in 1927, where he obtained a position illustrating farm life for the Family Herald and Weekly Star. In 1937 he turned to free lance and did war maps for the Toronto Globe and Mail and the Daily Star and for a year was on the staff of the Toronto Star Weekly. In 1945 he quit newspaper work to devote his time to the fine arts.
