What's New...?

The mud is new, the incredible mud! I wouldn't hesitate to claim King Street as the champion mud hole in Georgetown!

Along with the mud comes the unmistakable air of spring — and — spring is much more than a whiff — at Silver's. You can see and touch spring — beautifully tailored suits... gay, mad hats... ultra feminine gowns! Navy, the old reliable, is predominant, as it is every spring, but this year, more than ever, it is the setting for riotous colors, crisp white, and flattering pastels. Lillian Watson is happily sorting out this overwhelming array and, hush that, you ain't seen nothin' yet! Look in her eyes.

Tooth powder is new. Amm-i-dent by name. It has been extensively advertised as a decay aid. Certainly it will never replace a good diet, or a good dentist, but it is gratifying to know that it will help to prevent decay. My family has tried it, and while it is too soon for results, they like its fresh taste. The literature accompanying the attractive blue and white container reads: Amm-i-dent, the ammonium ion. That word, ION, sounds suspiciously like those fancy words we've been reading in connection with the dreaded atom bomb. I draw some consolation from the fact that the fearsome atomic age can produce some benefits. It is reassuring to know that there now are ions available in tooth-powder form that can devastate those little gremlins who gleefully hack away at our teeth! This new powder is in stock at all drug stores in Georgetown.

A new orchestra in Georgetown! The Stardusters. This group consists of Jim Burns, piano, Owen Hughes, drums, Bob Addy and Herb Moreton, trumpets, Norm Long, trombone, Em Thompson and Frank Carter alto sax, and Don Herron tenor sax, with the altos doubling up on clarinet work. I heard the Stardusters last Friday night in Teen Town, and I believe these boys deserve a lot of praise and encouragement especially when I was told they had made their own bandstands (well done too) and bought their own arrangements. This comes under the heading of recreation at its best, for there is nothing more satisfying or beneficial, to a group of boys brought together under the spell of music, be it orchestral work or choral effort.

Town Hall was a busy hall Friday night. The earlier part of the evening was taken over by the newly formed Junior G.R.C. It was rowdy! It was noisy! It was wonderful.

The parents had as much fun as the youngsters and the hall was reluctantly emptied by 9 o'clock. Let's have more of these evenings, but not for a while yet. As one of the parents present I should like a few weeks to recuperate.

Joan Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz, King and Sarah Streets, was there dancing in her new walking cast. Ah! The resiliency of youth! Joan had an accident and broke two bones in her foot and leg, she is looking forward to parting with that cumbersome ornament in the near future.

The winter menus are beginning to pall on everyone Farnell's frozen foods are just the thing to pep up all the members of the family. The unbelievable green of frozen peas, the cheerful red of great help to the harassed chef these dull days.

McClure's have the sensational album "I can hear it now" issued by Columbia. It is an amazing album and I heartily recommend it. It consists of fragments of speeches recorded from 1932 to 1945 by the world's famous men, such as Roosevelt, Wilkie, LaGuardia, Chamberlain, the Duke of Windsor, Al Smith, Hitler, Mussolini, etc., etc. My only criticism of it is the assumption by the Columbia Record Co. that all the Americans in the album are or were world famous people. The strong nationalistic pride that grips all Americans is a bit tiresome to some nations. Being neighbours, we are more exposed to this nation-wide conceit. Most of us are now immune, we could be compared to an indulgent and tolerant brother, who lets the bright one in the family praise his achievements to the sky, knowing the achievements are real. There is no denying it is most trying, take for instance, those appalling pop tunes extolling the virtues of every state (at the last count, at least 48). Since Jolson, long long ago sang with a terrible urgency: "California, Here I Come" we've been bombarded with lullaby songs about all the States — even lil' ol' Rhode Island! This great Hall-lujah can be heard everywhere — movies... radio... literature... and the album has not escaped it. This does not prevent it from being a very interesting and entertaining effort. I might even go so far as

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY PARTY FOR R. H. IRELAND

Directors of Esqueuing Agricultural Society combined with members of Esqueuing Council and township officials on Monday night for a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ireland. Mr. Ireland is leaving town next week to assume his new duties as Bank of Commerce manager in Brantford.

The party was held in the Community Hall at Stewarttown. Euchre was played during the evening, with Mrs. Trevor Williams and Ward Brownridge winning prizes. John Bird, society president, acted as chairman for a short program when Perc Cleave and Miss Charlotte McCullough spoke for the society and Reeve George Cleave for the township, each expressing regret at losing Mr. Ireland as a member of the directorate of the agricultural society. Ex-Warden George Cleave was also asked to say a few words. On behalf of the gathering, H. Craig Reid presented Mr. and Mrs. Ireland with a set of crystal goblets as a farewell gift.

VALENTINE EUCHRE, DANCE IN NORVAL PARISH HALL

A successful Valentine euchre and dance was staged under the auspices of St. Paul's Guild in Norval Parish Hall on Friday. Thirty tables of euchre played during the early part of the evening, with Mrs. Berk Hunter, Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Graydon Chester and Arthur Burton winning prizes. Doris Hulls' Orchestra played for dancing later in the evening. The committee arranging the event included A. Hudson, I. Rawlins, D. Jolley, H. N. Mottershead, D. Hazell and W. Coupland.
