What's New...?

The new Telegram is exactly what they are advertising it to be. Now. Every page has been streamlined, and, even though I'm a Stat reader myself (better comes), I cannot overlook its tremendous strides in the field of journalism. I do draw the line at the so-called pink edition though. It is supposed to have new-found appeal, maybe so; but, it is such a shocking pink, one is reminded of tabloids and radical newspapers, at the sight of it. It is also difficult to read. This edition is a night edition only so the good people of Georgetown are spared.

This is the time of the year when housewives decide the house needs sprucing up. The husbands try very hard convincing them this is unnecessary (remembering previous springs), but the wives go right on planning a face lifting job on Home Sweet Home. McBean's can help in this undertaking. They have received a new shipment of drapery materials and trilly curtains. There are home-spuns, brocades, and smart floral prints. One of these caught my eye, a bold check, green, yellow, red and white. It is just the thing to put new life in the sunroom or Junior's room. This is homespun 50 inches wide and $1.00 a yard. There is also a rayon brocade in a soft chateaufe shade for drapes that would go a long way in giving the living room that "New Look". This is 48 inches wide and $2.79 a yard. The frilly curtains are a joy to see. It's amazing what they can do to freshen up a room, and they vary in size and price.

The new Chev is a honey. I attended a sneak preview at Scott's and watched the streamline four door model being shampooed, manicured and waxed for sound (G.M. Radio)—in readiness for its premiere. This car, in a beautiful shade of blue (patsley) is the "bustle-back" model. I viewed its merits strictly from a feminine viewpoint since valve-in-head engine, centre point steering, etc., etc., is a little too technical for me.

I especially liked the push button door handles and the accessibility of the back seat. No head banging. No crawling on all fours to get in. No garter-snapping acrobatics to get out! The trunk is another advantage. Friend husband couldn't mind my ten pieces of luggage on our next week end excursion, there is plenty of room.

The Fleetline Deluxe too was being groomed for its first appearance in Georgetown. It is the "streamlined" model and it also has all the new features — luxurious interiors — more driver vision — a controlled air conditioning system.

I tried to interest the Scotts in a proposition. For every four Chevs sold through the influence of this column, I would get one free! (I need more than one for it is difficult to decide on which mode — "bustle back" or "streamlined") They didn't snap it up. I wonder why?

The Lions St Patrick Dance is news! Everyone seems to be making plans for it. Every Irish Colleen is hoping for a corsage, including this wench. If "Harry Patrick O'Leary" reads this, the name is Rosedale Floral the phone number is 283, the date, March the 18th and I love gardenias.

Caldwell's now have juke box booth attachments, which will eliminate traffic in the aisle, and make it easier to pick your favourite tune. They tell me "Sweet Georgia Brown" is a mighty popular gal at the moment. Caldwell's is the meeting place for many of the children and grown-ups too. The children like it because they know that Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell have an understanding and a respect for them. The super jumbo sodas and milk shakes help a lot, too.

Two of our Georgetown children have brought laurels back from Milton. Marlene Blund and Diane Hillock won first prize (junior) in an amateur contest there, with their rendition of Sioux City Sue. There were 33 contestants and Georgetown should be proud of these young ladies who also appeared on Ken Sobie's Amateur Hour on Sunday afternoon.

Watch for something new in window advertising! Sid Silver has four water colours depicting Spring in his windows this week-end. The artist? None other than Hal Newman of Ballinacra. These two deserve a great big hand. Sid for his perception, Hal for his talent.

Night should be something! There will be movies the short 16mm. kind. These films were rented for the party by an anonymous donor, and they include name bands, Count Basie for one, a world series ball game, a juke box jamboree, and something titled "Scrub Me Mama" which should prove very interesting indeed.
