HARVEST NEWS

Have had two customers after us lately wanting to know when we were going to start giving something away. Other than the odd calendar we haven't given a souvenir away in years. After looking the place over from front to rear and from cellar to roof, we eventually found something. Have been trying to get rid of our chimney before it falls down, go to the first eight thousand customers on Saturday morning, we will give each a brick, or to the first customer we will give eight thousand bricks. It's cafeteria day. Help yourself. Many of us at a hockey game have seen Vern Archer go "up in the air", but on Sunday Vern did it literally. A friend of his landed his fifth plane on Vern's farm and took him for a ride. In listening to Vern's description of the flight, we really believe he was glad to pick out his own buildings and arrive safely home again.
