THE WEATHER

Mr. Editor: WOW! That drop of the week-end for two consecutive 7 degrees below zero was a rude reminder of what we should have had in the middle of winter. It was by no means a fit or proper celebration just before the first day of spring. The average minimum of 4.28 for last week was away below the monthly average for March which is 10. In fact, every day last week, was below the average.

Perhaps the winter season is waiting to finish with the hockey season. — Ern Batkin waterworks engineer) was to hire drilling equipment and that he had been surprised to learn that the drillers were at work.

Lyons — They're no good anyway. Hill — $1500 was allowed in the water estimate for this.

Goodlet — That was only an estimate. We should know what we are paying.

Lyons — I brought that up before and no one paid any attention.

Gibbons — I hope you aren't getting dissatisfied already.

Goodlet — I haven't had a chance to be satisfied or dissatisfied. I don't think we should joke about this matter.

Gibbons — The reeve and myself went with Mr. Roberts and he showed us the places he intended to drill. These have all been tried except at Silvercreek.

Goodlet — We have no report on this.

Lyons — They drilled three holes and got nothing.

Goodlet — We should have a representative of the firm advise us on their progress. Mr. Roberts is in Florida, but there are other men in the firm.

Gibbons — Then you think Mr.

Roberts has been lax. Is that what you mean?

Goodlet — I didn't say that. I want a report.

Gibbons — We feel we've been neglected, in other words.

Armstrong — I agree with Mr. Goodlet. In future we should be advised when someone is hired.

Gibbons — I agree with Mr. Goodlet too, that there has been some laxity on Mr. Robert's part in not being on the job.

Davidson — I suggest the clerk write the firm to give us a progress report and have a representative attend our next meeting.
