TORONTO ORCHESTRA PLAYS HERE FRIDAY

A new dance band makes its appearance here this Friday night when Don Brill, a former resident, introduces the Queen City Quintette, who will play for a dance in the Rose Room. Don says that that is the only quintette in the world with six members, and that they dispense music which is ideally suited for dancing. Most of the members are high school boys from Oakwood Collegiate, and they came into prominence a few months ago when they won an amateur show in Oakwood Auditorium. They have since been playing dance dates around Toronto and are becoming very popular with city dancers.

Running a car helps a man get experience. For instance, when he is out on a trip, and has car trouble, he learns all about what it feels like to be at the side of the road while the rest of the world goes by.

Entertaining Comedy Presented by GHS Players

An amusing comedy, "June Mad", was presented by the Georgetown High School players in the Old Town Hall last Thursday and Friday, under the direction of Principal J. L. Lambert. Moira Kelly had the starring role of a teen-ager in the throes of her first romance with a college ringer (Bob Addy), who is a week-end guest at her home. When the college man deserts her for a neighbour (Wanda Timbers), she realizes that the boy next door (Jim Kirkwood) is the real man of the two, and she has reached the first stage of "growing up."

The cast of the play were uniformly excellent in their roles. Rosemary Jordan and Lorne McBride played the parents, and Dianne Cameron got the most from her role as a pig-tailed juvenile who pursued Mervyn (Bill Hewitt). Marion Ashley had a good part as Milly Lou, the family cook, and Bill MacCormack was Elmer Tuttle, the gardener. Gray Merriam, Marilyn Bell and George McClure completed the cast.

Barbara Cromar was stage director, with Eling Berg, Ron Denham, Jim Buck, Jack Bettke, and George McClure in charge of stage and lighting. The property committee included Bill Arnold, Keith Scott, Alan Gillis, Jim McDonald and Don Hutchinson. Miss Rose Piercey, Joan Latimer and Stella Semanyk were in charge of costumes, and ushers were Joyce McMillan, Ann Crabtree, Eleanor Spitzer, and Elaine Pries.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

New Names in the NORTH

THERE'S new activity in Ontario's bushland north of Lake Superior. Marathon and Red Rock, Terrace and Heron Bay: they all tell the same story. New towns have arisen, old ones expanded. Only five years ago on the site of Marathon, for example, there was nothing but bush; today a new community beside a new pulp mill is contributing millions to Canada's export trade.

Such spectacular developments in the north are matched by continuing industrial expansion in the older established communities. Throughout Canada today ever-widening avenues of opportunity await the enterprise of young Canadians.

With newsprint production 50% above pre-war levels, Canada today has an output five times that of any other country, and accounts for three out of every five newspaper pages in the world.

"Canada is a land of opportunity..."

There is a field for almost anything one can think of, and anyone with a willingness for hard work has a good chance to achieve success", says Donald J. Smith, President of Hornet Industries Limited, Guelph, Ontario.

One of a series presented by

to promote a fuller realization by Canadians of Canada's present greatness

Hornet Industries Limited, which was founded in 1945, has in this short time achieved remarkable success in the manufacture of chain saws and combustion engines. More than half the production of the plant reaches markets outside Canada. From a staff of only a half dozen men in 1945, Hornet Industries Limited has expanded to three plants in Guelph, employing 296 workers.
