Well, in a way, it was sort of encouraging, not writing a column last week. Quite a few Herald readers told us they missed it. And guessed they knew the reason why it wasn't in — and they guessed rightly too. Moving is quite a chore, even if it is just from one end of town to the other. But we're starting to poke our heads above the confusion now — getting settled, you might say.

"Confusion" — that reminds us of one little sidelight in this moving business. (we vowed we wouldn't even mention moving in the column, but here we go) . . . This has to do with telephones. When we came to Queen Street, naturally we had to have a new phone number, and what with pencils and scrap paper being among the many hard-to-find odds and ends, we hadn't jotted it down anywhere. So on Friday confusion reigned between a long distance operator and ourselves. She was trying to reach 346-J and a Mrs. Mumbo-Jumbo (she couldn't make out the name). Three times they called and three times we patiently explained they had the wrong number. Finally the Georgetown operator came to the rescue and said "But madam, 346-J IS your number!" . . . How silly can you feel?

Saw where Lotta Dempsey gave our Georgetown Girls Pipe Band a wonderful write-up in her daily column in the Globe & Mail last week. The girls and their leader deserve lots of credit and they'll certainly put Georgetown in the limelight when they hit New York.

We can hear the carpenters busily hammering these days, working on Councillor Cecil Davidson's new house on Durham St. It is bungalow-style and gives promise of being very attractive.

On our way down to see Finian's Rainbow Saturday night, noticed the Ron Mendham's were in their pretty new house, past War-time Housing. . . . And the trip to Toronto was well worthwhile. Th play — a musical comedy, was delightful.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Tomlinson and two little daughters have moved to Glen Williams, where they will live in part of the Earl Marchmont's house. Mrs. Tomlinson is a talented singer. . . . Perhaps you heard her at the Lions Garden Party, a couple of weeks ago.

Nice to see Max Hughson back in town. Max, a chemical engineer, with Provincial Paper Ltd., here, was transferred to the Port Arthur division about a year ago. He's living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Clark.

Seems we have an apology to make to Mr. and Mrs. Erwin. When getting the information over the phone we misunderstood the spelling of their name, and separated the two syllables, instead of making it all one word.

Downtown shopping on Friday, overheard a couple of mothers buying "something easy to fry" for their young sons. An over night camping trip for the Boy Scouts Troop, was being planned. We can imagine how excited the boys were. . . . And the experience from memories of such trips will never be forgotten.

Read in Saturday's Globe, (no, we're not getting paid for advertising the Globe) that Mrs. John Bell's brother, Mr. Ralph Snelgrove of Owen Sound, has been elected president and vice-chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters.

Mr. Snelgrove has just celebrated his 10th anniversary as manager of station CFOS at Owen Sound, and now has his own licence for establishing a radio station at Barrie. However it will be some months before station CKBB is in operation because studios are not yet available.

Asked Mrs. Bell how her brother had become interested in a radio career. . . . Seems it sort of runs in the family. . . . An older brother, Clarence, had always been interested in radio and is with the Rogers Majestic Company. . . . Ralph started out with his own recording studio, and was with the Metropolitan Broadcasting Company, before going to Owen Sound. . . . He started the station at Owen Sound "from scratch" as the saying goes — got the original building and staff assembled (staff numbered 7, ten years ago—now stands in at all the different jobs involved near 20) and besides managing the station, at various times has filled in sending programs over the air.

The Snelgrove family, Mr. and Mrs. two sons and a daughter, live in Owen Sound, where Mr. Snelgrove will continue to manage C.F.O.S. until the end of the year. . . . We wish him the best of luck in his new venture.

Simcoe Council Visits Halton and Peel

Members of the Peel and Halton county councils were host last Thursday to the Simcoe County council on a tour of points of interest in the two counties. It was a return visit for the councillors from the north who last year entertained the men from this district on an inspection visit to study conservation and reforestation measures being taken in Simcoe. The day was arranged by a committee composed of Reeve Jack Armstrong of Georgetown, Deputy-Reeve George Leslie of Esquesing, Reeve W. H. Biggar of Trafalgar, Warden Mary Pettit and County Engineer Roy Smith of Halton and Reeve Speirs of Callerton, Reeve Isaac Kelleem of Brampton, Warden Dr. Fletcher and County Engineer Newt Powell of Peel.

Leaving in the morning from Brampton courthouse, the group visited the General Electric plant at Oakville, had dinner at the Estaminet in Burlington where the two Reeves welcomed the visitors and in the afternoon visited the A. S. Nicholson lumber plant at Burlington, the A. V. Roe company at Malton, where jet planes are being made and the B. H. Bull and Son Jersey farm near Brampton, ending the day with supper at the Fresh Air Camp at Bolton.

GEORGETOWN MAN'S MOTHER DIES IN BRAMPTON

A resident of Brampton for sixty years, Mrs. Absalom Bailey died at the home of her son, Reginald, on June 8th. Born 84 years ago in England, she was formerly Annie Louise Andrews. Surviving are her husband and six children, Mrs. Fred Osborne (Eva), Absalom of Port Hope, Jack of Georgetown, Mrs. Albert Smith (Ruth), Bill and Reginald of Brampton.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. A. Johnson from the McKillop Funeral Home with interment in Brampton Cemetery. Pallbearers were six grandchildren, Jack Bailey, Jr., Ronald Bailey and Alan Bailey of Georgetown, Robert Bailey of Port Hope, and Donald Bailey and Kenneth Bailey of Brampton.

Excessive tidiness is said to indicate a mild form of insanity, from which most newspapermen are happily immune.
