walk off with top honours. We also understand from the manager of the Glen team that they made no protest about the game Steamboat reports as being thrown out. As a matter of fact the Glen agreed to the line-up before the game due to the fact we could not field a team without the addition of Rene Martin. If Steamboat cared to look into facts before reporting them, he would find we used only two hardball players play hardball.

When accosted on Main Street Steamboat admitted he was the one who reported and had the game in question thrown out. In his own words, Steamboat says: "Why Cheltenham Concrete try these tactics is beyond the comprehension of the league."- In our piano solo. BUSY BEES INSTITUTE MEETS AT MRS. MCLEAN'S

Mrs. Peter McLean was hostess for the June meeting of the Nassagaweya Busy Bees Women's Institute. Mrs. Tuck, home economics convener, gave a paper on meats "L'et's cook it right" which pointed out some new ideas for this art. For instance, she said, slower cooking in some cases is advised when fast cooking had been the old way.

She introduced Mrs. Nelson Ander-

Fifty cups were donated to No. 7 School to replace those broken during war work. Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. Davenport and Mrs. Alf Allen were named to the Community Activities and Public Relations Committee with Mrs. J. J. Kennedy. Mrs. Pringle brought the ladies up-todate with current events. Fifty ples were offered from the Busy Bees for the W.I. booth at Nassagaweya Centennial. Accommodation for those coming from a distance for who have actually signed up to this event was also discussed and chosen for the District Annual at Palermo - Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Davenport.

The lucky draw was won by a guest, Mrs. A. Padbury, Martin Davenport entertained with several solos and Mrs. McLean played a
