CHATTING.

M.H.B.

Saw a great improvement on the baby high chair idea, the other day, when Ernie Crawford called around to show us the "Baby Butler". What interested us most was the safety feature. In the "Butler", it is impossible for baby to upset, because he is cushioned and safety-strapped in the seat set down in the middle of a small table, which is non-tippable because of the angle at which the chrome legs are set. Besides for any baby of four months or more, the Butler does duty as an auto-seat, and later as a blackboard and playtable. They are just being introduced to Canada, and they seem like a good idea.

Isn't it amazing the way the simplest mishap can result in a painful injury? When Mrs. J. B. Mackenzie tripped on a step at her back door, one day last week, she fell in such a way that her hip was broken. The only consolation the family has is that it was a "clean" break, so it will mend that much more quickly. Mrs. Mackenzie is recuperating in St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph.

Can imagine what a thrill it must have been for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ferguson (Mrs. Ferguson is the former Belle Hill of Glen Williams), when they heard the Saturday Scrapbook broadcast from Georgetown Fair at their home in Kyle, Sask., which is 545 miles west of Winnipeg.

And Mrs. H. Isley, who was visiting at her niece's home near Minden Sask., also heard the broadcast, over Station CBK at Watrous, Sask. Mrs. Isley mentions hearing Mr. Buck, John Bird and Corey Herrington, and the Girls' Pipe Band. She said the reception was very clear. Her relatives, hearing the broadcast, thought "we must have a wonderful town and also a very good Girls' Band", to quote from Mrs. Isley's letter. Incidentally, Mrs. Isley mentions that the crops were bad in their district, with wheat yielding only around 10 bushels an acre, and of poor quality.

Georgetown received another bit of radio publicity last Thursday, on the "Pick the Hits" program, when Joan Latimer's name was drawn for the $90.00 jackpot. Unfortunately, Joan hadn't listed the songs in the correct order of popularity, so instead of the jackpot, she received two admission tickets to the Club Top Hat in Toronto, and two Toronto theatre admission tickets. It was a really tough break for Joan, not winning the money, because she has been entering the contest for quite a long time, and has quite often picked the hits correctly—but of course her name wasn't drawn those times.

Why DO things sometimes have to happen that way? ... Because it will keep him nearer his work in Toronto, with the real estate firm of A. W. Farlinger, Riley Brethour, his wife Peggy and baby son Andrew, have bought a house in the city and will move from their Queen St. home, the end of this month. Riley was the former proprietor of the Georgetown Dairy.

Wing Commander and Mrs. Ray Footitt have moved into one of the most attractive houses built here in recent years. Built with a great deal of beautiful cut stone, it is situated on top of the hill, just as you round the curve on College St. and was constructed by Roland Haines. The Footitts and their three children, Wendy, Susan and Johnny, formerly lived in one of the Marshall Apartments, on Queen St. Before making their home in Georgetown, Wing Cmdr. and Mrs. Footitt lived in Ottawa. He is the RCAF resident engineer officer at the A. V. Roe Company, Malton.

Very soon, now, Wing Cmdr. Footitt's assistant, Ft. Lt. A. B. Howell, and Mrs. Howell, will be moving to Georgetown, and will live in the attractive brick house on Albert Street, just completed by Mr. Cyril Bradford, Ft. Lt. Howell has just received his Master's degree in Aeronautical Engineering from McGill University.

While chatting with Mrs. Footitt, we felt a real thrill of pride for our town, when she told us how much they liked living here, and how surprised and pleased they were to find the town taking such an interest in the school children and adolescents. The recreational facilities, free skating, stay-at-home camps, etc., and the well-organized Teen Town activities, are seemingly exceptional. For example, she told us that in Ottawa each child had to pay 50c admission to go ice skating.

THE WEATHER

Mr. Editor: This week's summary records our first frost of the season — an even 32 degrees; but only some things felt the effects of it. Look at the rain column this week — a little drizzle every day but one, and the whole total hardly equal to one real good shower.

ASHGROVE

A beautiful Rally Day service was held in the church on Sunday morning. The theme was "He shall have Dominion". A bouquet of gladioli and zinnias was on the front table. Rev. Fred Ainsworth presided and all used the printed programmes. The Scripture was read by Joan Drake and the story "The Good News Parcel" was told by Bernice Wilson. The choir of school children sang the number "Praise the Lord Today". An address was given by Mr. E. V. McCormack of Georgetown whose subject was "Building". He said that good character is built out of three materials, our home, school, Sunday School and church. Everyone should build strong foundations as the world needs good men and women more today than ever before.

The September W.I. meeting was held at Mrs. Stringer's home last Tuesday with twenty ladies present. Mrs. Charles Austin opened with the Ode. The secretary, Mrs. Harvey Nurse read the minutes of the last meeting and also read the correspondence and letters she receives. It was decided to send parcels to Britain every other month. As this was Grandmothers' meeting Mrs. C. B. Dick took charge. The Roll Call was answered with a recipe that belonged to grandmother. Mrs. A. J. Ruddle gave the motto: "Age is not a matter of years, it is a state of mind." Each grandmother had made up an original poem and the prize of a tatted doily was won by Mrs. Fred Wrigglesworth. Mrs. George Nurse conducted a very interesting contest on things our grandmothers missed, which makes one realize how lucky women are today with all the conveniences to be had.

Before Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Martin and Patricia left for their new home in Orangeville, twelve of Mrs. Martin's neighbours on Normandy Boulevard surprised her with a farewell party, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Parry. The girls enjoyed a pleasant chat over the tea-cups and presented Jessie with two beautiful cups and saucers, as a remembrance token.

Most of you probably know Mrs. Dick Licata's very attractive sister, Miss Ann Curto of Hamilton who often visits in Georgetown, and will join with us in wishing her happiness in her marriage this Saturday to Mr. Louis Battaglia, also of Hamilton. The marriage will be solemnized in St. Anthony's Church, last week, Mr. and Mrs. Licata attended a large miscellaneous show for the bride and also the troussau tea.

Interested to learn that Mrs. Doug Greer was on the secretariat of the 4th Commonwealth Relations Conference held by the Institute of International Affairs at Bigwinlim, Muskoka. There were seventy-five delegates representing all countries in the Commonwealth. The Greer's are still living in town, while Mr. Greer, who was formerly cost accountant at Smith & Stone Ltd., commutes to his new position in Toronto, with Fiberglas Ltd.

Forgot to mention while talking about Mr. and Mrs. Gord Martin's moving, that the John Henderson family from Stewarttown have moved into the house they vacated on Normandy Boulevard.

The road to the Glen, and Emory Street, have certainly been immensely improved; to put it mildly, by their resurfacing. The road reconditioning plan is now well on its way. Takes a few months of bumps and bangs to make us appreciate a smooth road.

There's a maple at the foot of Silvercreek Hill that's the most vivid scarlet. Really, it's worth seeing, and you can't miss it. It's fairly flaming.

Miss Peggy Pasmore has returned from her holiday trip to Fort William. Her cousin, Miss Jean Mackenzie made the boat trip with her and then continued west to Victoria, B.C., travelling by train and plane.

Evelyn Robinson Weds, Will Live in Brampton

At a ceremony performed in the Glen United Church on Saturday, September 17th, Evelyn Hazel Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Robinson of Glen Williams became the bride of Charles James Hennessey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Hennessey of Brampton. Rev. Alex Cowan officiated. The church was decorated with standards of pink and white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of white sheer with sweetheart neckline and full skirt. A three-quarter length veil fell from a crown headdress. She wore a double strand of pearls and carried a crescent of Better Time roses. Maid of honour was her sister, Rose Marie and the groom's sister, Miss Irene Hennessey was bridesmaid. They were gowned in pink and green nylon sheer respectively, both gowns fashioned with off-the-shoulder neckline, matching mittens and headress, and each wore a single strand of pearls. Little Elaine Robinson, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing yellow nylon sheer trimmed with lace and a matching ribbon headdress. All the attendants carried nosegays of autumn flowers.

Mr. Robert Bean of Brampton was groomsmen and the ushers were William Parker of Streetsville and the bride's brother, Herbert Robinson of Georgetown. Mr. Alf Goodwin was organist. The soloist, Miss Jean Harley, who was gowned in yellow, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

At a reception in the church basement, the bride's mother received wearing a forest green crepe dress with black accessories and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother assisted, dressed in fuchsia crepe with navy accessories and corsage of pink carnations. For a honeymoon trip to the States, the bride changed to a green gabled suit with gray and black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The wedding party feted the bride and groom later in the evening at the Club Kingsway in Toronto. They will take up residence in Brampton.

Prominent Orangeman, J. McCartney Dies.

A resident of town for many years, James McCartney died last Friday, September 23rd at the age of 83. Mr. McCartney was a retired railwayman, and had worked for many years as a sectionman on the Georgetown-Barrie line. Born in Ashgrove, he was a son of the late William McCartney and Margaret McDowell.

In 1893 he married Catherine Rancier. They lived in Georgetown, then moved to Acton and later Lynden before returning to town several years ago. Mr. McCartney joined the Orange Lodge when he was seventeen and maintained a keen interest in lodge affairs throughout his life. He was a member of Cheltenham, Acton and Georgetown Lodges.

Surviving are his widow, one son (Fred Dutch), 5 grandchildren, one great-grandchild. He also leaves one brother and three sisters, Robert McCartney of New Toronto, Mrs. Robert Buchanan of Georgetown, Mrs. H. Stapleton of Norval and Mrs. James Berlanguet of Vancouver, B.C.

Rev. John M. Smith conducted the funeral service on Monday from the McClure Funeral Home. Pallbearers were David Bowman, Jack Long, Perc Chaplin, Joe Hall, Alex Taylor and Fred Armstrong. Interment was made in Glen Williams Cemetery.

NEWS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

Films shown last Friday afternoon at the Public School included "River Watch", "Canadian Wheat" and "Buffalo Lora". Being deprived of an assembly room proved rather inconvenient, but the difficulty was surmounted by taking the equipment to different classrooms where classes had been grouped together.

Children are busily practising for field days which are scheduled for next week. If weather permits, a sports day will be held on Tuesday afternoon, October 4th at the school grounds in order to eliminate those in various classes to six or eight entries. The latter will engage in similar events, at Georgetown park, Thursday afternoon, October 6th, in order to pick winners to compete against Milton and Acton pupils at the three-town meet to be held later in Acton. It is hoped that Georgetown will be able to recapture first place in sports this fall, an honor which last year was won by Milton pupils. All interested parents and friends are invited to attend Field Day, in the park, Thursday afternoon.

The School exhibit of writing, art, and handicrafts at the fall fair was again adjudged as work of high standard. Many expressions of satisfaction were voiced by the public concerning it. Both teachers and pupils deserve credit for such a fine display.

About eight or nine ball diamonds are in use these days at the school, and the girls are resuming their interest in volley ball.

The work routine has gotten well under way in each classroom, and both teachers and pupils feel they are off to a happy, profitable year.
