

Hello Homemakers! The story of the first Christmas is familiar to us all — of the Three Wise Men who came from the East with their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh to worship the Christ Child. Legends have sprung up in different regions concerning the Wise Men but little is actually known about them beyond the brief story in the second chapter of St. Matthew. However, we do know they belonged to the "Magi" sect of priests who were noted for their enchantments, knowledge of astrology and wisdom. From the name of this sect comes our modern word magic for the art of enchantment.

At this season we wish we possessed more magic art in the selection of Christmas gifts to please our relatives and friends.

TAKE A TIP

1. Paper articles are numerous, attractive and economical — tray covers, place mats, serviettes, wall bracket towels, dollies, dish cloths, etc.
2. Coloured metal pieces in tumblers, trays, coasters, also pots and pans are stainproof and pretty.
3. The market abounds with all kinds of new little gadgets in metal or plastic. For instance, red plastic salad servers fashioned like scissors; different coloured dusters in plastic holders for the assorted polishes you use, variously sized bowl covers in assorted colours.
4. Something new in kitchen equipment is always acceptable — cake tins with depressions and ring bands; stainless steel spoons and spatulas on a hanging bar, a can opener which lifts and holds up the lid; a fruit jar opener; an electric clock; a kitchen fan; a box of stainless steel preparation knives.

5. Attractive serving dishes are a delight to any homemaker. This year, the novel salts and peppers are favoured — such as the goose and the golden egg, bride and groom, blossoms, fruit, etc. Aluminum book ends, water pitchers, trays, coffee makers, glassware, especially flower vases, tumblers and centre pieces.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. P. M.: Would like to know if it is necessary to chill cookie dough?

Answer: If cookie dough is mixed and chilled for a few hours it will be more easily handled when rolling or you may pipe it.

Mrs. G. S. asks: Why are waffles soft and yet dark brown in colour?

Answer: Too much fat may cause them to be soft, and insufficient egg or too much liquid makes them thin. If you separate the eggs and fold in beaten whites before batter is poured on the iron, the waffles will be more crisp and thick.

Mrs. N. B. asks: Why are some apple pie fillings so brown, others such a clear colour?

Answer: Powdered spice turns apples brown while a little lemon juice keeps apple flavor and color. Mrs. T. W. asks for the following recipe:

SHORTBREAD

¼ cup milk-flavoured fat
¼ cup butter
¼ cup brown sugar
1-8th tsp. salt
1 egg yolk
2 cups pastry flour

Soften fat and butter slightly but do not allow to become oily. Stir in sugar, egg yolk and salt, using a wooden spoon. Mix in flour adding a little at a time until mixture is too stiff to work with a spoon. Turn on to a floured board and knead lightly, working in rest of flour as needed until surface of the dough begins to crack. Roll about ¼ inch thick and cut with a small cookie cutter. Bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) about twenty minutes or until delicate brown. Makes about 4 dozen.
