LOUIS BROMFIELD ADDRESSES ONTARIO CROP CONVENTION

The famous Louis Bromfield addressed the annual banquet of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association, in Toronto last Thursday evening. He had a capacity house of around 300 and if accommodation had been available there were equally as many more who would have liked to hear him.

We have read his book "Malabar Farm" and were intrigued to say the least. We have talked to several who have visited his farm and in all cases they pictured an outstanding practical farm and combination of practical farmers that's quite a mixture. We had been warned that the humility of a speaker was in direct disproportion to the amount of time he spent on the platform. However Louis Bromfield disappointed us. He proved himself an impressive speaker who just let the audience know what he had done and how he had done it. He made no attempt to tell us how we should run our farms. He left that entirely up to us. He did however make a number of suggestions which could have considerable significance to us if we would only put them into practice. He said that we should have seven acres of land per person to feed the people of the United States. He said that we should have more and better livestock. He said that we should have more and better pasture. He said that we should have more and better crops. He said that we should have more and better farmers. He said that we should have more and better farms. He said that we should have more and better farm buildings. He said that we should have more and better farm machinery. Mr. Bromfield, we would suggest that you get a copy of "Malabar Farm". You will enjoy it and you'll get food for thought. Now some of the Halton boys are beginning to ask, "How about the possibilities of organizing a bus trip to Malabar Farm next May or June."

JERSEY BREEDERS ELECT AS PRESIDENT, DUNCAN MOFFAT

Wilfred Tolton, Director of Public Relations, Ontario Agricultural College, was the guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Halton Jersey Club held at Hornby on Tuesday of last week.

Approximately 90 persons, mainly members and their wives, were in attendance at the business session, the meeting and the supper which preceded it. Gerald Graham, president of the Halton Club, was chairman for the meeting and in addition to Mr. Tolton, Harold Luttrell, secretary of the Ontario Jersey Club, and John Bull, director of the same organization and some Jersey breeders throughout Canada were present. Wilfred Tolton, famous as a speaker, was in fine form and his address to the gathering was enjoyed by all present. However, humorous as some of the remarks were, they also contained much food for thought and we are sure that all present appreciated the opportunity of meeting and hearing Mr. Tolton.

Duncan Moffat, Milton, was elected president of the Halton Jersey Club for the coming year. Other officers elected were as follows:
