Raiders Win Against Kingsway Senior Bees

With Nick Ferri paving the way to victory, Georgetown Raiders won 7-6 on Friday in an exhibition game with Toronto Kingsway Lumbermen, a Senior B entry. Ferri, playing one of his best games to date, bagged three goals, one in the second and two in the third. Captain Ken Nash was right behind him, scoring one goal and assisting in two others. A two week lay-off seemed to have little effect on the Raiders and they looked like the championship team they are. It was the fastest game this year, even counting the Milton fiasco.

Action was fast and rugged right from the starting whistle. Kingsway scored first and Junior Beaumont evened it up midway through the period. Raiders went on a three goal scoring spree in the second, Ferri leading off, followed by Max Bradbury and Nash. Dunn scored for the visitors before the period end.

The last period saw the most scoring action and the game was tied until Leigh Bradbury shot from the corner to score the winning goal for Georgetown.

Dr. Endicott Flies To Ask Stalin Ban Use of Supe. Bombs

Dr. James G. Endicott, former United Church Missionary in China and one-time adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, is going to Moscow and hopes to talk with Stalin. Dr. Endicott left Malton Airport by plane last week en route to Russia as a representative of the World Peace Congress, of which he is Canadian chairman.

At Moscow he, with advocates of peace from the United States, Britain, France, Holland and Mexico, will meet the Soviet Supreme Council, of which Stalin is a member, and seek assurance for the peoples of the world that war is not inevitable.

Dr. Endicott appeared in town last year as guest speaker at one of the Lions Club dinner meetings. He gave a talk on his experience in China and his interpretation of the political situation at that time. He has been booked to speak again to the club this spring and was, in fact, to be here later this month but his Russian trip will postpone this to a later date.

(The remainder of this news item is quoted from an interview by a Toronto Telegram reporter with Dr. Endicott prior to his trip.)

He said he was going to Moscow in "high hope" of obtaining from the Soviet Union an official expression of her willingness to outlaw the atom and hydrogen bomb. He stressed that in his opinion, the Baruch Plan for control of the atom bomb—"United States keep the secret and create a stockpile and lay down the terms for its development"—had proven unworkable.

"The point now is that both Great Britain and Soviet Russia have the bomb, and an entirely new approach to the problem is needed," he said.

"I will impress on the Supreme Council that there is a demand here for adequate protection of the people. I do not think, however there will be an atomic war. There is no desire on the part of the people that the bomb be used. All they want is the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes—to improve their workaday life," Dr. Endicott argued.

"Am I going to ask Stalin whether he is willing to agree to a plan of disarmament? Yes I intend to ask him and the others on the Supreme Council whether they would agree to disarmament, say, at the rate of 10 per cent a year."

Accused in many quarters of being a Communist, Dr. Endicott said he was not surprised at the charge. To a direct question from The Telegram, whether he is a Communist, he replied: "No, I am not a Communist, but I have much sympathy for some of their teachings and an admiration for the way they have struggled up out of an abyss of misery. There is much we could learn from Russia."

Dr. Endicott smiled when he was asked who was paying his expenses to make the trip to Moscow, and later to the gathering at Stockholm of the World Peace Congress delegates from 69 countries. "We've been asked that even by my friends," he said. "As a matter of fact I borrowed $700 on my life insurance policy, but I hope to get it back when, or if, our Canadian organization raises its quota to the World Congress of $500."

ASHGROVE

"Labour and Farmer, Friend or Foe" was the topic discussed Monday night when Ashgrove Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cunningham. After an interesting exchange of views an hour of euchre was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Leslie will be next week's hosts, the topic being "Can We Farm Collectively?"
