ESTIMATE $19,500 FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL THIS YEAR

Georgetown Public School board has requisitioned the town for $19,500 in their estimates for 1950. This is $1300 over last year's grant of $18,200. This year the board has additional salary expenses due to increases under the salary schedule as well as an estimated $1000 expenditure for free dental treatment which is available for all students. Because of these extras, normal maintenance costs at the school have been pared as low as possible.

At the last board meeting on March 1st, chairman Edwin Wilson was asked to request the town council at their meeting to make arrangements for the borrowing of $190,000 to build a proposed auxiliary public school to take care of increasing enrolment. (This request was made at council meeting on March 6th and council decided to have the question voted upon next September or later.)

The fee to be paid local dentists for their work with the children was set at $5 per hour. It is planned to decorate the teachers' room and the principal's office this year and install an outside drinking fountain. It is possible that an electric alarm system may also be installed to facilitate classroom changing.

Coming Events

The Rexall sale is coming to Robb's, Wednesday to Saturday, March 15-16-17-18.

Georgetown Women's Institute will hold a euchre party in the Rose Room, Friday, March 24th.

Keep in mind the big St. Patrick's Euchre and Dance in Norval Hall, Friday, March 17th, under auspices of the Esqueving Agricultural Society.

ST. JOHN'S UNITED CHURCH

Regular morning worship was conducted in St. John's United Church on Sunday by the Minister Rev. John M. Smith who had as his theme: "The Temptations of Jesus". This message was the second in a series of Pre-Easter meditations on the life of Jesus. The lesson was read from the Gospel of St. Mark, 1:1-22. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Norman Laird sang the anthem "Dearly Beloved" and the combined Junior and Senior choirs sang an arrangement of the 23rd psalm; the solo parts were sung by Miss Barbara Blackford and Mrs. J. Bailey. The children's story was entitled "31 Pair of Pants".

The evening service was held in the Assembly Hall where pictures depicting Chinese life and customs were shown. Miss Gladys Cole accompanied the congregational singing.

It was announced that the service of worship next Sunday morning would take the form of a Dedication Service and would be held in the Assembly Hall at 11 o'clock. The Sunday School scholars and teachers are to remain in their places at the close of the service when the congregation will join them.

IN THE MAIL BAG

Dear Mr. Editor:

The Georgetown Lions Club, through its Civic Improvement and Community Betterment Committee, plans on conducting a "Yard and Garden Beautiful" contest for all of Georgetown (within Corporation limits).

The contest is to be held for the sole purpose of creating an added incentive to all home-owners and tenants, to beautify their dwellings and surroundings by planting flowers, cleaning up all weeds and unsightly spots, etc. to the end that the town as a whole, will take on a more pleasing aspect to ourselves and visitors.

No entry fee will be required, and the contest will be divided into two classes, namely "Owned Homes" and "Rented Homes", with a point scoring system to cover each class, making the contest of interest to Owners, as well as Renters.

Cash prizes will be donated by the Lions Club, to winners in each class in the separate zones, to be established, with a grand prize, in the form of a trophy for Annual Competition, going to the best of the Zone winners.

Full details as to rules, etc., will be published later, but the Georgetown Lions Club wants all citizens made aware of this contest to enable them to begin planning at once.

Thank you, Mr. Editor:

Jas. Greenlee, Asst. Chairman

Guests with Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Noble for a few days last week were her mother, Mrs. George Crocker of Moorefield and her aunt, Mrs. George Storey of Palmerston.

MACKENZIE NEWS

With the sun shining brightly through our dirty windows—the water running down the streets, and hockey play-offs starting, Spring must be on the way.

This could be the year to build that dream house. Building costs are down, efficiency is up, and supplies readily available. If you are interested in building or remodelling come in to see us and we will be pleased to help you work out your plans.

See you at the Georgetown-Caledonia play-off.

News and Views For Halton Farmers

JUNIOR FARMERS TO HOLD JUDGING COMPETITION AT HALTON SEED FAIR

Halton Junior Farmers are holding their annual seed judging competition at the Milton Town Hall, on Saturday, March 18th, with registration at 9:00 a.m. This event is being held in conjunction with the Halton Seed Fair and Bacon Show. In this educational event there is a special section for beginners, and all competitors will receive cash awards. In addition to judging classes of cereal grains and small seeds, the young people will be given some training and experience in judging of hog carcasses and the identification of weeds and forage plants. Three trophies in addition to the cash prizes will be awarded.

Twenty-six Halton farmers, six from each of the four townships have each entered a hog for the Bacon Show. These hogs were marketed early this week and after being processed and made into Wilshire's will be brought out to the Halton Show for display purposes.

Halton farmers are looking forward with keen interest to the address of John A. Stewart of Allis Craig. The Stewarts, Alex & Son — are recognized among the top farmers in Western Ontario where they specialize in production of high class seed grain and livestock. In short the Milton Town Hall will be the mecca for farmers from all sections of Halton on Saturday, March 18th, for this annual outstanding event, which always draws a capacity audience.

Yesterday, in conversation with one Halton farmer, we learned he had 40 bushels of Grade No. 1 mammoth red clover seed for sale which he plans to exhibit and offer for sale. The same holds true for cereal grains — in short, the primary purpose of the Halton Show is to provide a medium by which sellers and buyers may get together. From our experience we would suggest that those requiring seed, whether it be cereal grains or grasses and legumes, would be well advised to buy nothing lower in quality than commercial Grade No. 1 seed which is backed up with a termination test.

In conversation a few days ago with Dr. Robt. Weir, Forage Crop Specialist at the O.A.C., we were interested to have his comment that Ontario farmers would be well advised to secure Canadian grown red clover seed if at all possible. Unfortunately Canadian grown red clover seed is in short supply, and it may be necessary to accept some of the British-grown seed, which certainly is not as hardy for our conditions as would be desired.

MANY DISTRICT FARMERS PURCHASE HOLSTEIN CATTLE AT MCCLURE SALE

One of the best known Holstein herds of Peel County was dispersed February 23rd when 31 head, owned by W. L. McClure, Norval, brought $13,185 for a general average of $425. Three bulls averaged $358, 12 milking females $502 six Bred Heifers, $518; four Open Heifers $351 and six Heifer calves $207. The sale was held at the Oakville Sales Arena, Oakville, Ontario.

In addition to the McClure cattle, 13 head were sold from the herd of Albert Hunter, Norval, and four head from the herd of Angus Green, Embro, Ontario. The added entries gave a total of 48 head of $10,595 for a general average of $408. The added entries boosted the average on 16 milking females to $512.

Top price of the day was $800 paid by Free Bros., Thamesford, Ont., for Greenlynn Pet Inka Mercedes, a five-year-old cow consigned by Angus Green. Second highest price was $715 received from Alvin B. Snider, Brampton, for a four-year-old daughter of the three times all Canadian and $14,000 Spring Farm Lochinvar. Snider also bought a bred heifer at $660 and a four-year-old at $650.

The yearling herd sire Spring Farm Supreme Expectation, a son of the $20,000 Spring Farm Sovereign Supreme, went back to his breeder J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, at $700.

Other good prices included $675 paid by Paul Jennings, Mount Joy, Pa., for a daughter of Chip of Nettle. This was the top price for a bred heifer. J. M. Fraser paid $575 for a three-year-old; Bruce Beer, Brampton, $530 for a four-year-old; Paul Jennings $525 for a bred heifer; Russell Boynton, Woodbridge, Ont., $580 for a six-year old and Free Bros. $500 for a seven year old.

Auctioneers were L. E. Franklin and Tom Hays with Hugh Colson on Pedigrees. A surprisingly large crowd was on hand for this sale despite the bad driving conditions.
