

●●● If all the people who work for the telephone company, And all the people who earn a living by making the things the telephone company needs, And all the people who have their savings invested in the telephone company, And all the people who depend on good telephone service to run their businesses and manage their homes; If all these people, with their families, lived in one city, This City-With-No-Name would be by far the largest in Canada, and one of the largest in the world.

Keeping pace with the growing needs of communities everywhere for more and better telephone service has taken lots of work and lots of money. Only a financially healthy telephone company can carry on this big job. Telephone users, employees, shareholders — everyone has a vital interest in a service that means so much to the welfare of so many people.

THE CANADIAN ARMY — "INSURANCE FOR PEACE"

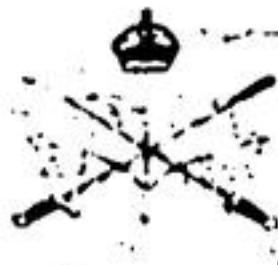

NERVE CENTRE of the Army

Communications are vital to every phase of Army operations. A single message could be the deciding factor of victory or defeat.

The men responsible for this key operation are trained in the use of the most advanced equipment and methods — wireless, telegraphy, electronics, telephone. The opportunities to learn and advance in the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals are boundless. The Corps offers a wide selection of specialist trades: wireless and teletype operation and maintenance; line and cable laying; switchboard installation and operation. All training is carried out with the most advanced equipment and methods.

The new Canadian Army can offer young men truly outstanding career opportunities. For complete details visit your nearest recruiting office. You are eligible if you are 17 or over and can meet Army requirements. Bring with you certificates of age and education.

NEWS

Dear Hearts and Gentle People, we sincerely hope that all of you have not got a cold. We have, and as we peer through our bloodshot and bleary eyes we see that it is a fine spring day out, which it should be for it is the first day of Spring. (Pardon me, George, but what do all those "its" refer to?) Why, my dear Alphonse, those "its" refer to the glorious spring weather that we have been having off and on all winter, and to the melodious chirping of the birds; and in honor of the occasion we have composed a POME.

Spring is sprung, the grass is rizz I wonder where the boulders is? The 'boulders is, Oops wrong one: Some one is going to think we are stealing from Ogden Nash. Wait'll we reach in our shirt pocket, ah, here it is.

Soft, the whisperings of the breeze, Laughs amongst the budding trees: The joyful chirp of Robin's song, Enter Spring with tresses long. Behold the snow retreating done, Defeated 'neath the burning sun. Behold, the blue, the cloudless skies.

Hear the moaning lover's sighs, Oh! Spring, you are the living breath That rescues quick the plants from death.

You are the power to wake a-wide The dormant life that is a-hide. When Venus sends her Cupid's bows To pierce the fated lover's souls, But Spring has yet another tool, She heralds holidays from SCHOOL.

Last Thursday night a group of fifth formers (that would be all of them) went down to Toronto to the Museum Theater. The New Play Society was presenting "King Lear" and we hear that the students enjoyed it very much! The fifth formers are studying King Lear this year and are sure that a presentation and interpretation of the drama that was shown definitely illuminated some of the dimmer points that the students (we keep saying students for lack of a better word) missed (and no doubt they missed a few).

Here is great news, there are several new books in the school library. As yet we have been unable to determine their titles, but we are sure that they are good books for the High School library. We really got quite a number of excellent novels and stories except for those books for the first formers to read, and any addition to the shelves will be only good manuscripts and a blessing for those unfortunate souls who have already read all the good books and are wasting their time away studying.

We hear from the grapevine that the Student Council is planning a dance sometime in the near future. We have a suggestion, if the Student Council is planning a dance why not start arranging for a hall now instead of the day before the dance. Also they can start getting ideas on what is going to produce the music. That is all the comments that we wish to make (maybe it's all we could make).

Like two partially dead coals the eyes of a GHS student peer through the gloom at his or her report, then silently, mournfully and with tears in his eyes the student draws a gun and points it to his temple. He is just about to pull the trigger when another bleary-eyed individual rushes up and shouts "Wait, stop, you can't do that until you've paid your student council fees." There is a tinkle of money and then the deafening sound of gunfire and a thud as the student collapses a gory mess upon the second landing. Silence prevails, then like a shade from the dark comes a member of the staff, he or she, as the case may be, bends over and shakes the dead student and says "Wake up, you've got a thousand lines for messing the floor." Such are the conditions at GHS after the exams are over, students shooting themselves (committing suicide) even our Chinese student, Wong, shot himself (chop-sueycide).

HORNBY

The monthly meeting of St. Stephen's WA was held on Tuesday last at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Thompson when the ladies worked on their quilt. At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Thompson served lunch, assisted by Mrs. Ken Pettress and Mrs. John Bradley. A St. Patrick's Social was held by the members of St. Stephen's congregation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Busseil, Hornby, when the following won the eucharist prizes, Ladies, Mrs. Royce, Mrs. Bradley; gentlemen, Mr. Bradley, Mr. Ken Pettress.

U. N. Flag Raised in Eritrea

The blue-and-white flag of the United Nations is run to the top of a flag pole at the Eritrean capital of Asmara, signalling the beginning of work by the U.N. Commission for Eritrea. The Commission is now in the former Italian colony to ascertain the wishes of the inhabitants and to make recommendations on its future status.

SCOTCH BLOCK NATIVE WAS WINNIPEG MAYOR

A native of the Scotch Block, Col. Dan McLellan died last month in Winnipeg. A miller by trade, he was manager of several mills in Ontario and in 1892 purchased a business in Morden, Manitoba. Later he engaged in the real estate and brokerage business in Winnipeg, where he was mayor in 1928 and 1929. In 1917 he organized and commanded an infantry regiment overseas. Eighty-two years of age, he is survived by his widow, three sons and two daughters.

Easter, Friday, April 7th, will be the next public holiday.
