PUBLIC SCHOOL NEWS
Verses composed by Terrence Harley after study of Ontario Wildflowers:

Jack-in-the-Pulpit,
Who stands so erect,
Is to be left there,
Not to collect.
The Showy Lady's Slipper
Is dressed up fine today;
It has on all its nicest shades
To greet the month of May.
From a carpet grows white flowers,
Their trick is very wise,
But, please don't let them fool you,
They're bunchberries in disguise.
Wild Columbine in a rocky place,
Nodding to the rain,
It also bows to wind and sun,
For May is here again.
May apples blooming everywhere
Each with a whitish flower,
Its leaves form an umbrella —
It's ready for any shower.
In the creeks and in the rivers,
In the swamps and in the pond,
The Marsh Marigolds are blooming.
Every flower's a golden blonde.
In a forest near the water
Underneath an evergreen,
The delightful, aromatic
Checkerberry, can be seen. 6-238
