Chatting . . . With M.H.B.

WE'D SAY Wasaga Beach is the summer resort most favoured by Georgetown people, judging from the numbers who spent their vacations there each year. Nearly every week from July on, there have been several "Personals" mentioning holidaymakers at the popular resort, and last week was no exception. In fact it reached a new high, with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maveal and Donny, Mrs. Manley Denamore, Wayne and Morvyn, and Miss Marion Peddie at Bayside Cabins. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gummer at Green Gables. Mr. and Mrs. William Dwyer and Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Collier and Mr. and Mrs. Reg Broomhead and Glen of Brampton. And quite likely there were others we didn't know about.

COINCIDENCES ARE those little touches that help make life so interesting. Just recently Mrs. J. J. Kemshend had written her son Abbie in Edmonton, mentioning that LeRoy Dale, K.C., was on a trip out West. Abbie opened the letter, read it, and then being on vacation decided to go down to the main business section of the city for a while. And, yes—you've guessed it—Practically the first person he encountered was Mr. Dale!

Many friends are receiving interesting post cards, these days, from the W. F. Bradleys who are taking their annual vacation trip. . . . Ours was mailed from the State of Washington. On Sunday morning St. George's Choir President Thomas Warnes read one Mr. Bradley sent to the Boys Choir in which he mentioned having heard a wonderful boys' choir sing while in California but added loyally—"They weren't half as good looking as you fellows, tho!"

A MONTH CAN make quite a difference in the "moving news" and it will likely take us a week or two to catch up. We do know, however, that Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeve have moved into the house on Main Street South, which they bought from the Young family. And that Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Crabtree and family have moved to his father's house. Mr. James Crabtree's home is on Guelph Street. Into the Crabtree's apartment in the Grandview Apartments have moved Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ostrow and family, who formerly lived on Emery Street, are now making their home in La Tuque, Quebec, where Mr. Ostrow has a position as a chemical engineer with the Brown Corporation. The Ostrows have lived in town since last fall, when Mr. Ostrow purchased the Credit Valley Lime Quarries.

WE'RE READING a very interesting book just now. "The Little Princesses" written by their former governess, "Crawfie" (Miss Marion Crawford). As Miss Crawford writes of her life with their Royal Highnesses, Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, she brings you very close to our Royal family. The book will be widely read, we imagine, and as a result the affectionate regard with which the lives of Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret are followed, will be deepened.

MRS. FLORENCE Curtis is spending a few months in England, visiting with relatives in Tilbury, London. Mrs. Curtis sailed on the S.S. Samaria. . . . The accident prevention association is forever telling us that 99 per cent of all accidents occur in the home. Certainly accidents can happen, very easily. Just the other day, for instance, Mrs. James Richardson slipped on the floor of her kitchen and as a result chipped a bone in her wrist, which has necessitated a cast on her left arm.

So many people have asked us about our animal friends at the lake, we thought you might be interested to know that the last week we were there, the mice disappeared, or at least learned to be more discreet in their habits—and the garbage cans weren't tipped over once—a good indication that our raccoon and skunk had apparently found better foraging at someone else's cottage.

THE GIRLS OF the Georgetown Girls Pipe Band have been having an extra busy summer and have been on the go practically continuously since they were at Cochrane for Old Home Week the first week of July.

The trip up to the northern town took 16 hours by bus, most of the trip being overnight. The girls report a friendly reception in Cochrane which is about the same size as Georgetown. They played every afternoon and evening and left on Friday morning for a 17 hour trip home. . . . Later reports said that the celebration definitely lagged when the colourful Georgetown band left town.

The band was scarcely home when they packed up and left for the Sarnia band tattoo. . . . The next week-end they were a feature attraction in Chesley where bands from Hanover, Owen Sound, Chesley, Milverton and Walkerton gathered for a tattoo.

Pauline Norton, who is in charge of public relations for the band says she had an interesting talk in Sarnia with the 86-year-old founder of the Chatham Brass Band, who paraded with them. Pauline had her picture taken with him and it appeared in the Windsor Daily Star. . . . Another July engagement was an appearance at the New Dundee garden party.

August promises to be another busy month for the band. . . . On Saturday they had a trip to the States to take part in a tattoo at Pittsburgh, then doubled back to Canada and a return engagement at Port Elgin on Civic Holiday. . . . Next stop is Detroit this coming weekend where the St. Andrew's Society has planned their last big celebration.

YOURS TO PROTECT

The SHARP-TAILED GROUSE is a brown, chicken-like bird with a short, dark tail. This tail, and the absence of neck ruffs, separate him from the ruffed grouse. Sometimes called the "prairie chicken", he's a valuable northwestern game bird, and deserves protection.
