Chatting . . . With M.H.B.

BIGGEST NEWS of the week, to date, has been literally un-earthly, what with Sunday's lowering smoke clouds and Monday night's total eclipse of the moon. On Sunday, when the clouds first started to roll across the sun, we kept running out to the backyard, the better to see what the firmament was going to do next. We thought whatever it was would be pretty terrific, for we'd never seen a sky like that before, or the atmosphere so coppery-hued that even our heavenly-blue morning glories looked washed out mauve. Our came our oil lamp and flashlight, much to the ill-concealed amusement of the family. We turned on the radio, to see if it had any static. It was perfectly and puzzlingly clear, and we fortunately tuned in, in the middle of the newscast. So then we heard the almost unbelievable explanation for the weirdest and darkest Sunday afternoon this part of the country has ever known. What tremendous forest fires they must have been. . . . Reading about the month's total eclipse, it was rather odd to learn how the earth would look to moon-men, if there are such creatures. Astrologers tell us that when the moon is eclipsed, the earth would appear to be in darkness too, but around us will be an extremely beautiful bright red halo.

BELIEVING AND QUITE rightly, that their agents are an extremely valuable advertising medium, the Trans Canada

Airlines have an "agents' trip" each year, so that those selling their airline trips will actually be familiar with the various flights. Under this plan, Mrs. Marion Barber will be leaving a week from Tuesday, for a T.C.A. trip to Edinburgh and England. Mrs. Barber will be away for two weeks. Sounds like a nice vacation doesn't it?

Riley Brethour was visiting friends in town last Tuesday. Riley, who formerly owned the Georgetown Dairy here, has gone into the real estate business in Toronto, with two partners, and we wish him luck in his new venture. The Brethours have just moved into a new home, in North Toronto. The day Riley was in town, he had received a phone call from wife Peggy, who with the children, was visiting her parents in Preston, telling him that their little boy, Andy, had slipped on the living room rug and had broken his leg. Luckily it isn't a "bad" break, but will necessitate a cast.

CHATting WITH Mrs. J. D. Kelly, she told us daughter Moira had enrolled at MacDonald Hall, O.A.C. in Guelph. We have always thought the courses MacDonald Hall offered, very attractive and interesting. Often wondered why more girls who have the opportunity don't attend. For some time now, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cotton and family have been living in Toronto. The apartment above their store has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kay and their two children.

Mr. W. F. Bradley has transformed the property across from his home on Main Street South, into a beautiful garden of shrubs and flowers, and adding to the garden effect is the flagstone walk with which he has replaced the broken sidewalk.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Ernewein, Frances and Donnie have moved into one of the apartments in what was formerly the Diggins house in College View. Mr. Ernewein has the Canada Bread route in town. Into the cottage on the Russell Thompson farm, Limehouse, vacated by the Erneweins, have moved Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson and Lynda, from Toronto. Mr. Wilson is a driver for Credit Valley Quarries.

Recently come to town to practice law, Mr. and Mrs. James F. McNab are living in an apartment at Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walker's home on Maple Avenue.

Into the Bowers' apartment on Eberly Street have moved Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stevens. They were formerly living in one of the apartments in the home of Mrs. G. J. Mickus. Mr. Stevens is employed with B. F. Murfin.

THE NIXON house on Maple Avenue has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bird.

Another real estate change on Maple Avenue is the sale of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Orr's house to Mr. and Mrs. John Frost. Mr. and Mrs. Frost are an English couple with two young sons, Christopher and Anthony. Mr. Frost is a designer with the A. V. Roe Co. at Malton. They will be moving from Erin, where they are boarding at present, in November.

Work has started on Mr. and Mrs. Orr's new home in their subdivision on the 8th line, near Market Street. The house, which will be ranch type, will overlook the ravine. Mr. Hall of Brampton is the architect and McNally and Lane the contractors.

THIS WEEKEND Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Miner will be moving from Glen Williams to Sudbury. Mr. Miner, who is with the CPR was transferred there last August. The Miners have been living in what is known as the "Beach house" since a year ago last August. They have five children: Carol, 9, Mike, 7, the twins, Peter and Clyde, 5, and Mary Michele, 3 weeks old. Mrs. Miner tells us she will be very sorry to leave Glen Williams which she has come to like very much. This summer Mrs. Miner helped transport the Glen children to the Stay-at-Home camp activities, and last season assisted Mrs. R. B. Canham with her ballet classes by playing the piano.

Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Miss Shirley Dodd of Toronto was a week-end visitor with Miss Lillian Shortill.

ARCHDEACON PREACHER AT OAKVILLE SERVICES

Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson preached at St. Jude's Church, Oakville, on Sunday, when harvest thanksgiving services were combined with a special appeal for funds for church improvements and the building of a new church to serve one portion of the town.

Rev. R. E. Price of Guelph took the morning service at St. George's and Rev. R. H. Rowson, Oakville, was here in the evening.

Sunday Sport Vote at Next Brampton Election

Brampton electors will vote on January 1st on a by-law regarding the holding of Sunday sports within the corporation. The question was introduced at a recent meeting of town council by Councillors Carman Core and J. A. McCleave and passed without a dissenting vote.

It reads: "Are you in favour of public games and sports on the Lord's Day to be regulated by municipal by-law under the authority of the Lord's Day (Ontario) Act, 1950?"
