School Choir Recital Sunday Norval Church

The Girls' Choir of Georgetown High School presented their second recital of the season in Norval Presbyterian Church Sunday evening under the direction of Miss Marion Hepburn. A similar recital was given in St. John's Church, Georgetown last week. The choir and triple trio sang a varied group of religious selections and carols.

Also contributing to the musical portion of the recital was the Georgetown String Ensemble. William Young, leader, plays first violin, Archie Kerr, second violin, J. L. Lambert viola and Keith Barber cello. The ensemble played selections by Mozart, Bach and Gluck and Mr. Young played Ave Maria as a solo.

The service was opened with a devotional period taken by Rev. J. L. Self and the congregation joined in the singing of Christmas carols. Rev. Alex Cowan addressed the meeting briefly. Rev. J. E. Maxwell pronounced the Benediction.

MACKENZIE NEWS

Dear Santa:
After you get the younger fry all fixed up with just the right colour, size, type, etc. in their presents here are a few suggestions for some others. How about some orchids for the "Marthas" (the girls who do the humdrum but necessary jobs?) You can give flannel-lette pyjamas to the glamour girls.

How about a dinner date for Mother during the holidays at the Hotel or Restaurant?
Or Hockey tickets for Father instead of the usual socks and ties?

Or theatre tickets for Grandma, Cousin Mary or Uncle Joe?
Or if you can't get a new car to everyone you would like to have one, how about some taxi fares or bus tickets?
We do know that you do give a lot of thought and go to a lot of work and trouble for us, so it's not that we don't appreciate your efforts.

Norval 11—Provincial 6

Unable to get untracked, Provincial absorbed their worst defeat this season in Monday's triple-header mercantile hockey fixture. Inglis and Dixon picked themselves up four points each. Provincial goals. Dillon slipped badly in the Vezina Cup race. Wylie and Wright kept themselves on top in the scoring even though their team was beaten.

Businessmen 3—Alliance 2
Businessmen put an abrupt end to the Alliance winning streak by turning them back 3-2 in a close game. Alliance led 2-0 at one time. Baldy Hulme shot one from the blue line which Jones failed to see to give Businessmen the victory with five minutes to go. Hennessey scored the other two for the winners. Muir and Thompson for Alliance.

Bax Lab. 3—S&S 3
Bax Lab. dressed in their new green and red sweaters had to settle for a draw with Smith & Stone. King and Gibbs were the big guns for S&S. Marshall scored two for the Acton lads. Lester Masters has an up-and-coming team and they will be a tough one to beat.

Hello Homemakers! It is not a special occasion unless the holiday meal is "dressed up." Yet accompaniments that are easily prepared as well as attractive should be selected since there's too much to do without trying one's patience with such things as curlicue garnishes. Too seldom do menu-planners realize that accessories can be thrifty as well as a factor in meeting the food requirements when the festive meal is apt to be very starchy.

Whoever first served cheese sauce on vegetables possibly had nothing more serious in mind than bringing a smile of pleasure to the faces of those served. But cheese sauce can claim credit as more than a flavour giver to cauliflower, cabbage, spinach or diced turnip.

You may rightly garnish the meat course of any fowl with cranberry relish which provides Vitamin-C. If however you are serving apple jelly or a good gravy, plan to make tossed salad or prepare a relish tray of carrot sticks, raw turnip slivers and celery pieces.

From your kitchen shelf, you can use canned tomato juice and make spiced tomato jelly. Sliced apple rings simmered in coloured syrup for 3 minutes is another suggestion. Leithon Curd is a tasty relish made from milk in the same way as cottage cheese, but season with lemon juice and lemon rind as well as minced parsnips.

Those who have used the canning season to advantage need not look further than among the home-made canned products, especially for the cold meat supper. To accompany fowl, select pickled pears, peaches, crabapples, or watermelon rind. For an assortment of cold sliced meat, serve pickled onions, dills, gherkins and spiced grapes.

Dessert gives the last chance for accessories to make up what a meal lacks nutritionally, or carries it beyond a good foundation diet (although few think of their diet at holiday time). The milk flavoured sauces for the plum pudding; the hard sauce to which you add lemon juice and grated lemon (at the last minute), the slice of orange for the pie, the custard sauce for the fruit gelatine pudding are excellent additions.

Finally a lemon slice with the hot cup of tea or a wedge of tangerine for the hot chocolate increases enjoyment and is a simple
