Hello Homemakers! The first
 grocery order which the homemaker phontes in after New Year's gives some indication of what resolutions
 she has made. If, among her staples,
 she includes a few herbs and spices,
 it will be a fair indication that she has resolved to provide more interest in and zest to her food for her family.

While spices and herbs are old-fashioned in themselves, they are right-up-to-the-minute when utilized to flavour modern dishes.
 (Brides take note.) They are not luxuries but essentials of fine cookery, and the well-equipped kitchen
 will have a special shelf for them alone.

When you begin to use spices and herbs, don't be too liberal. Remember that subtle seasoning is the most effective, so use in very discreet amounts.

The basic spices for your kitchen should include allspice, whole and ground; cinnamon, stick and ground;
 cloves, whole and ground; mustard,
 seeds and ground; paprika; nutmeg; chili powder; curry powder.

The basic herbs are bay leaves,
 savoury, sage, thyme, marjoram,
 dried parsley, mint and poultry
 dressing.

Further additions which the experiented homemaker might like to add to her spice shelf at this time
 are "accent," cardamon, saffron, dill seed, garlic salt, celery salt, white pepper berries and caraway seed.

TAKE A TIP

1. Add a 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon of chili powder to two quarts of stew.
2. Drop in one bay leaf when simmering corned beef or tongue.
3. Leave two whole cloves in tomato soup while heating, then skim them out before serving.
4. Measure out 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, then sprinkle over gravy as it heats. Also sprinkle sparingly over spaghetti and meat ball casseroles.

5. Take one pinch of dry mustard and mix into macaroni and cheese.
6. Sprinkle cardamon seed lightly into batter for dumplings or the tea-biscuit dough for meat dishes.
7. To improve the flavor of bland-canned pears, heat the syrup with two slices of ginger root.
8. Three dashes of celery salt over the sour cream dressing for fruit salad makes a difference.
9. Ground cinnamon, chocolate malted milk powder, and sugar mixed together makes a delicious spread for hot buttered toast.
10. Monosodium glutamate im- proves the natural flavour of meats and vegetables. Although it is a vegetable protein, it belongs on your spice shelf.

Legion Notes

by L.M.C.

DON'T FORGET the regular monthly meeting to be held in two weeks. Don't start slipping, fellows, let's all get out to each and every meeting. There's lots of room, sandwiches are served after the meeting, and most important of all, you give a big boost to the president and executive when you show your interest by attending.

THIS WEEK AGAIN we were a bit afraid that we would have no column, because of the dearth of news items, but President Dave came to the rescue with a goodly number of leads.

MARCH OF DIMES have asked the Legion to sponsor a local campaign for their organization, in aid of victims of poliomyelitis, but the executive decided because of the lateness of the request, that there was no time to organize a campaign this year. However, it will be left to the general meeting, as to whether and what size a donation will be made. Next year, it is hoped a campaign may be sponsored locally.

KEEP FRIDAY, February 23rd open Comrades. Hiram Walker Distilleries Ltd. are sponsoring an evening's entertainment for members, and their wives, and auxiliary and their husbands. This will be a big evening. Details will appear later.

THE DART ASSOC. of Toronto recently wrote to the Branch asking that any Dart personals be sent to them for publication in their monthly Digest. So some of you dart men could send in the odd item.

THE TELEVISION room is about to be equipped with new tables. We believe they will be here very shortly, and will smarten the room up considerably.

WE REGRET TO SAY that "Mr. Branch 120", Bill Roney is still in Sunnybrook Hospital. We had hoped that he would be home before now, however the powers-that-be decreed otherwise. We are sure Bill would be delighted to see any of the comrades who can get down to Sunnybrook to see him. Bill has been one of the most indefatigable workers in the local branch, and when his familiar face is not to be seen around the place well, things just aren't right. Hurry up, and get back, Bill, the boys miss you, and the Branch needs you!

CONSCRIPTION-BECOMES MAJOR LEGION DEMAND

The time-honoured question of national conscription has once more been brought to the fore by Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion under the leadership of Dominion President, Group Capt. Alfred Watts, of Vancouver, B.C. In a directive to the Dominion's 3,000-odd branches, Dominion Command urges that every possible pressure be put on the Federal Government to institute some type of national compulsory service. This course was urged last summer at the Dominion convention, and a brief submitted to the cabinet. However, in a statement to Legion officials, Prime Minister St. Laurent said that as yet the Legion proposals had not been considered by the Cabinet. Command urges that all Branches telegraph, phone or write their local Federal member of parliament, in the very near future, so that he may know the feelings of each Branch before Parliament opens in Ottawa on January 30th.

Group Captain Watts, in his directive, further points out what he terms "the alarming shortages of equipment", and stresses that not only are we deficient in war supplies such as planes and tanks, etc., but also in such ordinary items as boots, clothing, etc. The Command is confident that all Branches of the Legion will support their stand on this national issue, even in traditionally anti-conscriptionist Quebec.

The Dominion Command has specified no particular type of universal service, but rather inclines to compulsory service in reserve units for the present. However, no doubt the whole question will be given considerable space in the daily papers, from now until Parliament is opened the end of the month in Ottawa.

FROM HEARING members of Branch 120 kick the subject about, we think the majority opinion here is that some sort of compulsory training, based on equality of service will have to be instituted in the near future. As a member of the North Atlantic Pact, we find Canada and the United Kingdom (which has no army) are the only two countries without compulsory military training.

THE FRIDAY night socials are still going their merry way, under the convener'ship of the entertainment chairman. For a number of weeks now, the Modern Aires have been supplying the music.

If you haven't attended one of these affairs, do so. You'll find yourself thoroughly enjoying it.

IT IS NOT OFTEN that "Time" magazine has any Canadian Legion news; but this past week a small item appeared in "Miscellany." It seems that when a branch in Hamilton placed ads re their Christmas Tree in the papers, the said ad read in part: "those Comrades not having any children may bring two grandchildren." Guess the Comrade that was responsible for that little gem must have been into the Christmas Cheer a bit early!

FARM NEWS

D.H.I. Plan Shows Results in Halton

The herd averages for the East Halton Dairy Herd Improvement Association which have just been released by the Ontario Live Stock Branch, show the low herd with an average of 216 lbs. butterfat per cow, while the top herd in the group of 26 herds produced an average of 415.3 lbs. B.F. per cow. This is a difference of nearly 200 lbs. B.F. per cow which if valued at even 60¢ per lb. butterfat (creamery price) the difference in revenue is $120.00 per cow. Needless to add if this difference were valued at whole milk prices the difference in revenue per cow in the two herds would be even more startling. It is also of interest to compare the average production per cow of the ten high herds with that of the ten low herds in this one group of 26 herds.

Here we find the ten high herds with an average production of 10,525.6 lbs. of milk, and 372.4 lbs. B.F. On the other hand the average production of the ten low herds is 6552.3 lbs. of milk and 269 lbs. of B.F.

It should be remembered, however, that feed was a mighty scarce article in a large percentage of Halton barns a year ago and some of the low herds may do a very much better job under conditions where feed is plentiful. However, we are willing to wager that a large percentage of the 52 Halton dairymen whose herds completed their first year under D.H.I.A. last May, have been doing a lot of culling in the past few months. Certainly with beef at present prices quite a number of these marginal dairy cows are worth more for beef than anything else. The cost figures when available are going to be even more illuminating.

In any event, all fifty two herd owners and also the 26 additional dairymen whose herds were also entered under D.H.I.A. last August are to be congratulated on their initiative in taking advantage of the policy. Recently we were interested in the reaction of Jack Hamilton, popular Halton inseminator of the Maple Artificial Unit. Mr. Hamilton who services a large percentage of the Halton herds entered under D.H.I.A. stated in referring to D.H.I.A. work "That, in my opinion is the best piece of work ever started in Halton." Personally, we think Jack is about right and if the herd owners now under D.H.I.A. stay with it and also make use of the high production bulls available in the Maple Unit, the picture in ten years time will show a tremendous improvement to the financial betterment of all concerned.
