The Editor's Corner

HOCKEY SEASON'S OVER

There were a lot of gloomy faces in town last week after Georgetown's one-two-three defeat by Milton Co-ops. This year, hockey enthusiasm seemed to take longer to come to the fore. The Raiders played to almost empty houses during the season and it was not until the club management lodged a protest with the OHA about Milton using illegal players that interest began to quicken. From that point on, we had a hockey season. The protest was lost, but it did start bringing the crowds to the arena and the two playoff games here saw a return to the old days with every seat filled.

It's too bad that Georgetown had to drop out of further competition so early. Particularly this year when finances are at a low ebb and there is a sizeable deficit to make up. On the other hand, looking at the picture from long range, it is best for the future of inter-town competition that one team doesn't hog the honours every year. A sure winner isn't the best thing for a team or its supporters. It eventually leads to dwindling crowds and to lack of interest, not only at home but in other towns. Perhaps that is the answer to this year's poor attendance at local games. Everyone thought there would be plenty of thrills when the team reached the playoffs. No one thought for a minute that Milton would have such a powerful team, that they would knock out the Raiders in three straight games.

Whatever the reason, the fact still remains that hockey is over and the hockey club has some obligations to meet. There is a way we can all help. The club has designed a lucky draw which, if all tickets are sold will net the club somewhere over $700. They need the money. If we all dig down for a dollar or two it will give them some enthusiasm to tackle the job next year.

POT POURRI

Last week saw two hopes for local hockey championships fade when the Intermediates and Glen Williams were eliminated from further competition. A faithful fan, Mrs. Jack Harrison wants us to say that she still thinks the Raiders had the best team and played the best game and it was only tough breaks that kept them from advancing further in the playoffs. Two citizens who had contributed greatly to the community were buried in Greenwood Cemetery on Saturday. W. A. Wilson had been one of Esquesing's most public spirited citizens and his interests included municipal affairs, lodge work and fair board activities. Miss Margaret Mathews leaves a heritage of music which will perpetuate her memory. Her fine work as a piano teacher has brought joy to many and will be continued in the work of pupils who themselves have become teachers in turn. It is a coincidence that these two, whose funerals took place on the same afternoon attended school together many years ago. Jim Vipond in his Saturday sports digest in the Globe & Mail repeats a story given him by Gordon Alcott. When Bob Golgham was playing hockey in Georgetown at the age of 14 he was six feet tall and weighed 170 pounds. He established a record by playing midget, juvenile, junior and intermediate in the same season. One night when Georgetown was playing Stratford for the NHL midget championship, a Stratford official took one look at Bob and loudly offered to wager $100 the young giant was over age. A man standing behind him spoke up in a quiet voice and said "I'll take that bet, friend." It was Bob's dad, Harry. "After that I always took Harry along as Bob's walking birth certificate," Alcott recalled. Bridgeport knocked out Doug Runions' Walkerton Vets after a thrilling series which stretched to seven games in the Intermediate B group finals. Mrs. Murt Allison who before her marriage was on the bank staff in Peterborough has joined the Bank of Commerce staff here, and Marg (Hoar) Helson is back on the job after a honeymoon trip south. Most of the Georgetowners who joined the exodus to Florida are back in town looking tanned and healthy after their sojourn in the sunny south. That mystery man who wrote to E. V. MacCormack for help in getting out of a Mexican jail as a bankrupt must have had a long stay. William Schenk reports that in 1940 he got a similar letter, word for word the same, except for a different signature letter. Mr. MacCormack reports also that in a drug trade paper, druggists in all sections of Canada have reported receiving the same letter. Ken Mendham had a narrow escape a week ago when his car swerved from the road driving from Erin home. Ken was uninjured but the car was almost completely wrecked. Mr. Alex Kean, who has been a fireman at the Provincial Paper plant since 1919, has retired on pension. Replacing him at the mill is Harvey Goar who comes here from a similar position with the Stevens-Hopner Company which manufactures the famous Key-Brand brushes in Port Elgin. Mr. and Mrs. Goar and their 11-year-old son are looking for a house or apart-

ANDERSON TEAM PULLS INTO THE LEAD AGAIN

Bill Anderson's team broke their losing streak last week to relieve Duke Wilson of 5 points and bring their total to 85. Wilson's team has 54.

The teams captained by Ace Bailey and Alf Kirby are still battling it out for second place. Kirby's team whitewashed Bailey 7-0 to pull into the lead with 78 points, Bailey trailing with 74. In the last game there were 22 headpins, eleven for each team. For single corner pins Kirby had 8 and Bailey 11.

Reception at Hillsburgh For Silver Anniversary

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robinson held a reception for their parents on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary on March 10th.

It took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gregson, R. R. 2, Hillsburgh, where Mrs. Gregson and her sister Mildred were joint hostesses. The dining room was tastefully decorated in silver and white and a three-tiered wedding cake centred the table for the happy occasion.

A salad supper was served to sixty guests by Mabel Sargent, Joyce Fisher, Millie Carney, Glenna Moore and Betty Scott. Mr. Walker Montgomery proposed a toast to the honoured couple before the cake was cut. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were presented with many lovely gifts. The popular couple expressed their thanks to all those present.

Progressive euchre was played, prizes being won by Mrs. Washington Montgomery and Mr. Ross Sutton — Lorne and Murray Robinson were ushers.

Guests were present from Georgetown, Erin and Hillsburgh. Mrs. town, Guelph, Acton, Orangeville, Robinson is the former Sarah Halpin.

HIS SECRET

We asked him his secret (we knew he'd lost)
 And yet he was smiling there,
 We wondered how he was bearing the cost,
 Was the smile just belying his care?
 He said: "If you try your best and fail,
 Are unlucky or so it would seem;
 If a step in the rear you're doomed to trail,
 And destiny laughs at your dream.
 And it seems you've finished, forced to retreat,
 And when adding the final sum,
 If you can learn to laugh at defeat,
 You have not lost. You have won."
 Bill Taylor
 Water Street, Georgetown.
