University Students Here For Summer Employment

Several University of Toronto engineering students will make their headquarters in Georgetown this summer.

Six chemical engineering undergrads have already come to Provincial Paper, Ltd. and will gain practical experience working at various jobs in the mill. They will help relieve during regular vacations of plant employees, as this year, instead of shutting down the plant for a vacation week, holidays will be staggered while production is maintained.

Third year students are Norman Kissick and Keith Dunlop of Toronto, M. A. Fraser, who comes from Kitty, British Guiana, and Joseph Fehrenbach, Kitchener. All are making their home with Mrs. L. W. Dann. Ron Holmes of Toronto, a second year student, is boarding at the home of Wilfred Spence, and Morley Marks, of Perth, first year student is staying with the John Farmers.

Two third year ceramic engineering students are working for the summer at Smith & Stone, Ltd. They are David Caven of Toronto, who was here last summer, and who is boarding with the E. B. Tyers, and Clare McLaughlin of Guelph, who is staying with the Wellington Wilsons.

Andy Molozzi, a graduate of Georgetown High School who is completing his second year in engineering and physics is also with Smith & Stone, working in their King Street plant.
