Mrs. Clifton Drumquin Branch gave the address of welcome which was replied to by Mrs. E. L. Miller of Silver-Wood branch. Mrs. Milton Brown, the district president, was in the chair and introduced the conveners of standing committees, Mrs. R. L. Davidson reported on Agriculture and Canadian Industries; Mrs. E. Manning on Citizenship and Education; Mrs. E. Batkin on Home Economics and Health; Mrs. V. Norris on Historical Research and Current Events. Mrs. R. Dredge reported on Community Activities and Public Relations and the Junior Convener, Miss Lorna Lawrence spoke on the work of the Junior clubs. Mrs. E. Sanford reported on the Music Festival, Miss R. Hunt, the county home economist told of forming new groups of girls in the Junior Homemakers Clubs and there were reports of recent conferences in Guelph given by Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Dredge.

The theme for the day was "Have you lighted your candle?" and Mrs. Brown's address was an inspiration to all.

Mrs. L. Guild of Rockwood, the Provincial director, said that it is her belief that farm women are moving on; they are meeting more outsiders and proving themselves capable wherever they turn; she urged all to read most thoroughly the periodical "Home and County" and to obtain more knowledge of Women's Institute work through a small brochure put out by the Institute and procurable through Mrs. McCulloch of Brampton. The W.I. tent at the plowing match should be visited and every young mother was urged to obtain a copy of "Canadian Mother" from the Dept. of National Welfare in Ottawa. Mrs. Guild stressed the importance of keeping records and finding out historical anecdotes and events from elderly people who can remember these things. Each Institute is encouraged to keep a Tweedsmuir History of the district, not only the history as far back as it can be traced, but the current events which will become history. A recent competition was held at Guelph and histories submitted were given as an example to those starting this work. The prize winners were Glen Morris W.I. Brant North, Richview W.I. York West, Williamsburg W.I. Dundas. The prize-winning essays were by Mrs. S. McLeish, Mono Road; Mrs. N. Ritchie, Beaverton; Mrs. C. D. Fogarty, Mill Creek. The Institutes having the prize winning rugs were as follows: Cornwall Center W.I. Cornmont; Dorking W.I. North Waterloo; and Anna P. Lewis W.I. Oxford North.

A Standards Committee has been set up for the Institute members as a guide in grading, pricing and marketing handicrafts and W.I. labels will be supplied for this purpose.

Mrs. Guild announced the five girls winning scholarships as follows: Provincial winner, Mary Kern, Caledonia; Western Division, Ann Hauser, Guelph; Northern Division Barbara Rosser, North Bay; Eastern Division Margaret Fenton, Iroquois; Central Division, Christine Robb, Milliken.

Halton County. A 50th anniversary luncheon is to be held in Milton on June 26th and all members were urged to attend the Achievement Day activities put on by the girls of the Junior Homemakers in Milton on June 2nd.
