out" this week - seems we did more than our usual share of chatting via the telephone last week, when so many kind inquiries came concerning friend husband's appendicitis attack and operation. We're glad to say that he's now home from hospital and feeling quite well, considering

THESE THINGS sometimes happen so fast you don't quite realize they are happening. Then afterwards comes the reaction - a renewed appreciation of good health, and the ability to get around as usual. While talking with a friend last work we dearned that Mrs. Gerald McCallum has been laid up all the month of July with a left leg broken in three places the result of a fall down her base ment steps. She is progressing favorably, but doesn't expect to get around very easily for another month anyway . . .

HOWEVER, LOOKING' at these misfortunes from another - perhaps a bit more facetious angle . . . For'a woman to be ill during July or August may mean

WE MAY BE a bit "Chatted- missing the fruit and vegetable canning season, and we must admit canning is not our favourite household chore by any means. But we do like to have some preserves come winter, so the so-called dog days of summer usually find us a trifle below boiling point; just like .the fruit in the preserving kettle. We must say, tho, that the raspberries have been wonderful this year plentiful and of excellent quality, providing the basis for a good many easily concocted desserts . . .

> THIS WEEK AND next are the quiet weeks in town with so many people in industry on vacation. This is speaking from Monday - a real summer sizzler of a day and ideal lakeside vacation weather. We hope the weather holds so that all the holidayers can have an ideal vacation-There is a quite noticeable lack of traffic on the street during these evenings .

ored to Victoria, B.C., and are now Millar, killed in World War II, a headed eastward again. The post card showed a large totem pole at baskan. Prospect Point, Stanley Park, in "Vancouver. Jim says it's been a mer Anne Divine, two daughters, grand trip, so we may be hearing more about it when they arrive home Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Evans on their trip are their two little girls, Mary and Barbara, and Mrs. Evans' mother, Mrs William Frank. The Evans family visited several relatives in the West enroute to the coast .

WHICH REMINDS us that former Georgetowners now making their home in Calgary. Alberta, are Mr and Mrs "Mac", McKinnon and family, former residents of Berwick Hall . .

WELL, THE Stay-at-Home Campers had their grand finale last Friday night in St John's Hall, and we would say that the whole affair was a definite success, judging from the quite audible and visual enthusiasm. From the first hand reports we have been receiving for the past couple of weeks we would say the sponsors deserve to be congratulated for providing a really interesting and to our "camper" at least -- a thrilling program The puppet show, magician and treasure hunt provided, were 'firsts' for the majority of the younger ones, and that is something they will never forget

IF YOU WILL remember. when Miss Isabelle Preston first moved to her Market St. home in Georgetown, we told you of how she had received many honours for her work in developing a great many well-known lilies which are both hardy, beautiful, and easy to grow in most gardens. Much of Miss Preston's work with lillies was done while she was with the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, and just recently at the show of the North American Lily Society in New York City more honour and -recognition for her work was re-oeived. While in Ottawa, Miss Preston developed an upright flowering yellow lily of a different type from the ordinary "Elegans" type. Mr. Sandy Best (son of the famous Dr. and Mrs. Best who have their summer home just outside town) was working at the Farm in Ottawa, and as he Was going to the Lily Society Show in New York, asked if he might take this particular lily with him and exhibit it as from the Experimental Farm. Permission was granted, and Miss Preston's lily won the prize for the Best Unnamed Seedling, and it also won the Griffiths Memorial Cup. . . .

LAST TUESDAY evening the ladies of St. Georges' W.A. held a surprise party for Mrs. Howell, their treasurer, which took the form of a pot luck supper at the Rectory. The members also presented-her with a necklace of antique design and boutonniere of violets which matched the stones in the necklace. Afterwards, the ladies enjoyed a game of bingo, and all expressed regret at Mrs. Howell's departure from town. The Howells will live in an apartment at Weston, after a month's vacation in Ottawa and Boissevain, Manitoba.

MR. AND MRS. "Pete" Hunter's apartment on Queep St. is being rented to Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffries and family of Toronto, for the summer months, while the Hunters operate their tourist cabins near Huntsville . . .

MRS. HARRY SCOTT tells us that Max Freilich, who made his home with the Scotts while working at Smith & Stone Ltd. during the war, called in to see them on Sunday. . Max. is working in Toronto now, and he had his brother Felix with him. His brother has just arrived in Canada, via England, from Israel. Incidentally, Max had a two-month vaca-.tion trip in Europe last winter, when he visited his brother in the newly-created state. .

Glen Upset by Lions In Donkey Ball

Those who have never seen an athletic contest, where the motive power depended upon the slowmoving Rocky Mountain Burro certainly missed about the funnest spectacle imaginable if they failed to attend the donkey baseball in the park Monday night.

However, there weren't many sport fans who did miss the game, because there were literally hundreds at this baseball burlesque, sponsored by the Georgetown Lions Club. This was gratifying to the club, as all proceeds go to their welfare work, and having completed a two-week stay-at-home camp that cost the club in the neighborhood of $1,000

The game was played in a very organized fashion, with each player in position most of the time. That is when his burro decided he should be. One of the weirdest sights was to see Dick Licata trying to stay aboard, and Kenny Nash aboard his bucking steed.

The game went into a tie, and the Lions brought Joe Gibbons in as pinch hitter. It was seventeen years snce Joe had ridden the burro before, but he came through with a lovely home run to put the Lions ahead. This sparked the team and the Glen were never able to catch up, and the game ended 5-3 Lion Joe McBain was rated the best fielder of the game, with Tom Hill running a close second: Ken Richardson probably got the roughest ride of the game, while Walker Cleave couldn't move his donkey out of his tracks with any kind of
