Hello Homemakers! Inspiration is what we need to overcome hardships and extra work. Perhaps some "quickies" concerning our problems on the homemaking agenda during this hot weather may be helpful. Apply a little insect repellent and then enjoy the newspaper's columns in comfort.

TAKE A TIP

1. Do not try to wrap hot coffee grounds in paper. Remember hot coffee will stain linoleum and the rubber pads — yet tea leaves and coffee are good for the garden.
2. De-lime a "coated" tea kettle with some commercial scale remover. The water will boil more quickly and eliminate much heat in the kitchen.
3. Oil the jelly tins and the moulds will slip out all in one piece.
4. Keep the jams, marmalades and sugar containers tightly covered since they coax ants. Kill ants with borax or a commercial preparation before they bring their uncles and cousins.
5. Put 6 or 7 kernels of rice in the salt shakers to keep salt from caking.
6. Make a junket dessert with left-over coffee and milk.
7. Place tomatoes in a hot oven for a minute, skins will slip off readily.
8. Keep rubber bands out of the silverware drawers as they will cause tarnish. You may save polishing silver by covering tightly with cellophane.
9. Wash glassware in the dishpan of water to which you add 1 tsp. dry ammonia only. Afterwards, add the detergent or soap for the dishes.
10. Bake forks in a low temperature oven of 250 for 1 hour to remove fish flavour.
11. Gather nasturtium seeds and make your own capers by pickling them as you do onions.
12. Soak small onions in milk, then pickle them if you wish to keep them white. For festive occasions add red or green colouring to the bottled onions before capping the jars.
13. To make hot mustard stir a little milk into a teaspoon of dry mustard. Keep the wee dish covered and it will not dry out.
14. For a delicious ham sandwich put cooked ham and walnuts through the food chopper and moisten with boiled salad dressing mixed with a pinch of dry mustard. The ham "goes" further and tastes good.
15. Don't forget to scald the silver knife before you slide it into the jar of fruit. Then place the tops in position for canning.
16. Never chill the pressure cooker with jars of preserved food in it as you do the raw food for the table. This forces the juices out of the jar. It usually requires 40 to 50 minutes for pressure to return normal in the pressure saucepan of the heat.
17. Keep bread in the refrigerator during the hot weather to prevent mould.
18. Browned almonds will not become wormy whereas unblanched nuts will, during the summer. So bake the blanched nuts until golden brown in a moderate oven, let drain on absorbent paper, then store.
19. Raisins or chopped dates keep cookies moist and fresh. A hermit or drop cookie recipe is our favourite mixture at this season.
20. To make a double batch of drop cakes place sealer rings on a cookie sheet, insert paper baking cups in each and fill two-thirds full of batter.
21. Soft water is best for pickling. Water that is high in lime may cause the pickle to become soft.
22. Store pickles in glass jars with lacquered tops or wax-coated tops. Tin or zinc lids will rust and cause a relish to spoil.
23. Cider vinegar is most commonly used for pickling, except where white vinegar is preferred when making light coloured pickles such as onions and cauliflower.
24. Never fill jars to overflowing — especially the fruit to be processed. If there is one-half inch of space from the rim the contents will not be forced out.
25. Our favourite summer salad: Prepare two packages of lime jelly powder and pour into a rectangular casserole. Then spread six slices of cooked ham with a chive flavoured cream cheese, and roll up each piece. When jelly is partially set press each roll into it allowing an inch around each one. Chill firm. Cut into servings. Accompany with potato salads and tossed greens.

Young People Conduct Sunday Church Service

The Church Service on Sunday morning was taken by the Young People and each did his part splendidly. The president, Miss Mae Wingfield presided and opened with the Doxology and a hymn. Elmer Bird, led in prayer. Barbara Cunningham read the Scripture, Frankie Wilson led the responsive reading from the Psalms. A musical number was sung by four girls, Bernice Wilson, Marion Bird, Barbara Cunningham and Marilyn Barnes, followed by the topic taken by Billie Wilson, "Radiant Christian Living." The text was taken from Exodus Chapter 34, verse 29. When Moses came down from the Mount his face shone. It told of the different leaders who in God's time were both radiant and fearless. Peter and John who so impressed the people of Jerusalem that both men and women became Christians and Moses who went off alone to have fellowship with his God and when he returned his face shone so that the people shrank back from his presence. Also the story of Ruth and her mother-in-law. Leaders like these are national treasures and their influence is always for good.

Miss Rena Christian of Hamilton spent the holiday weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruddell, Gladys and Bobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilson visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCullough at Brookville on Sunday.
