TELLS LADIES OF AMERICAN TRIP

Mrs. Vern Pickett was hostess for the August W.I. meeting on the 21st with 21 ladies and 8 girls present.

The president, Mrs. Leslie Giffen, opened with the ode and all repeated the creed. Roll call was answered by a "little courtesy of everyday life". Letters and cards of thanks sent to sick ones were read. It was voted to donate $10.00 to Georgetown Fair Board. This being the girls meeting Barbara Cunningham took charge. Mary Ismond gave a splendid motto on "Courtesy costs nothing but pays big dividends." A piano solo by Ruth Wilson of Norval was followed by Ruth Barnes who gave an interesting account of the bus trip she had enjoyed along with other Junior Farmers last summer down through the states. She described going through the different places such as Ann Arbor, Michigan, Ypsilanti, Kentucky Derby, Calumet Farms for horses, Lexington, Kentucky, Walnut Horse Farms, bridge across the Ohio river at Maisville, Kentucky. Also they visited the famous Malabar Farms of Louis Bromfield, then home by Cleveland, Ohio, Erie, Pa., Niagara and St. Catharines. She also passed around pictures of the places of interest which made it more real to her listeners. A flower contest and lunch by the girls closed a splendid afternoon.

Church Hall Rented For Extra Classroom

Georgetown Public School, already crowded to capacity, will expand into St. John's Church auditorium, when school opens next week.

With the creation of another class this year, the schoolboard was faced with a decision of staggering classes or of securing a room to be used until the new public school is built. A plan of staggering classes, with some children attending school from 8 to 12.30 and others from 1 to 5.30 was not feasible, in the board's opinion, because it would create hardship on students and parents.

Investigation of all possible extra classroom space finally narrowed down to the church hall and at last Wednesday's board meeting it was rented. The fee for rental will be $200 a month for the ten months it is needed, and the church will supply heat, light and caretaking services.

There will be three kindergarten classes this year, and all will be housed in the church hall. The present kindergarten room at the school will be temporarily converted into Grade 1.

Two new teachers join the school staff this year. Mr. V. A. Stein, assistant principal, will probably teach Grade 5. Mrs. Harold Henry will teach half days as assistant kindergarten teacher.

RADIO SHOW PRESENT PICTURE TO MAYOR

Many local listeners heard the radio program "Georgetown on the Air," a fifteen minute show broadcast over station CFRB at 6.15 on Monday. It was one of a series prepared by Cities Service Oil Company featuring Ontario towns.

Between numbers by the Goldman Band, a brief sketch of the town was given, telling of its founding in 1884 and a steady growth to the present population of 3500. Mention was made of industries, clubs, the arena, sewerage system, Pipe Band and Lorne Scots Band.

A sketch of Mayor Harold Cleave's political history was concluded with an announcement that a charcoal portrait by Egbert C. Reed, Norval artist, would be presented to Mr. Cleave as a memento of the broadcast.
