Legion Promotes Hockey Among Georgetown Kids

Plans are advancing rapidly for hockey for the young people of the town and district.

As has already been announced, the Legion is taking up the work of the former recreation commission in sponsoring hockey for boys of hockey age up to 18.

All Sykes, who is taking charge for the legion, has interviewed the arena board and they are cooperating by giving free ice time Saturday mornings, and will make every effort to provide some evening time as well. The Legion has allocated the money they believe necessary to foot the bill for the hockey programme.

Registration is being carried on in town and district, the Legion having decided to make the league open to children attending schools in Glen Williams, Norval, Stewarttown, and Limehouse as well as town. Ormie Carter is taking care of the Norval registration and Harvey Garvin, Glen Williams.

Thanks to the interest of the Legion Branch, there will be no let-down in the programme which has been carried on so successfully for a number of years under GRC.
