FULL HOUSE GREET'S TWO CHURCH PLAYS

Two entertaining plays staged by the Daughters of St. George's were enjoyed by a capacity audience in St. George's Church basement on Friday.

"Mrs. Oakley's Telephone" had in the cast, Mrs. Sam Penrice in the title role, Mrs. Ted Stigger as Constance, Mrs. Thomas Eason as Emma, the German maid and Mrs. Leonard Lambert as Mary the cook.

An old fashioned melodrama "Curse You, Jack Dalton" featured Mrs. Fred Armstrong as Bertha, the heroine, Mrs. Ernest Ball as the hero and Mrs. Thomas Parry as Harcourt, the villain. Also in the cast were Mrs. Ernie Rawson, Mrs. Dalton; Mrs. Frank Benner, Anna the Advertiser; Mrs. Fred Helson, Richard Blair; Mrs. Fred Johnson, Eloise Dalton.

Mrs. Lambert directed the plays and Mrs. Rawson was stage manager. Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson was master of ceremonies, and vocal solos were contributed by Thomas Warnis with Mrs. W. F. Bradley playing the piano. A gift was presented to Mrs. Lambert and flowers to Mrs. Rawson for their work by Mrs. Thomas Eason. Tea and cookies were served to those attending after the performance.

MEN IN UNIFORM

A resident of Georgetown since October, 1950, James Goodwin has joined the navy. He is training at the naval base of HMCS Cornwallis in Nova Scotia. Mr. Goodwin worked at the Rose Bar Restaurant when he first came to town, and later was employed at Georgetown Clay Products.

SILVER'S

St. John's Anniversary Collection Totals $3700

No small achievement for a small town church is the financing of St. John's United Church.

A month ago, to meet a current deficit of $3200, church leaders devised a campaign in which twenty teams of two men each undertook to visit every church member to explain the need for clearing off the debt. A slogan "$3200 for anniversary Sunday" was adopted.

When receipts were tallied on Sunday, not only was this deficit met but there was a substantial balance as well. Over $3700, most of it in cash, had been collected.

Four years ago, the work of modernizing the church was begun and the memorial hall was built. To date, two-thirds of the heavy expenditure has been paid off and the church members are looking forward with optimism to future years when the remaining expenses will be met and the church will be free of mortgage.

Harrison Now Teacher With Lela Hoover Ward

Kenneth R. Harrison, ARCT, RMT who is organist and choir leader for St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Guelph, has added to his teaching duties. He is now assisting Lela Hoover Ward, well-known Guelph pianist, in teaching some of her students. These added to his piano and vocal pupils in Georgetown and district make a total of 65 pupils for this busy young musician.

Mrs. Ward has written several books for beginners, the best known of which are "Jiffy F" and "Sugar and Spice". Mr. Harrison is also accompanist for the Ionic Male Choir, Brampton.

On Friday in Georgetown Baptist Church, Mr. Harrison is presenting some of his pupils in a piano and vocal recital. Those taking part are all entering the Guelph Kiwanis music festival which takes place later this month.

ASHGROVE

Two Guest Preachers At Ashgrove Anniversary

Despite the cold wintry weather splendid anniversary services were held on Sunday. In the morning Rev. Erla Curry of Acton delivered a very stirring address on "Drifting" challenging the youth of the church to have an anchor to hold them to God. In the evening Rev. J. B. Moore of Waterdown spoke on "Others", not always just consider ourselves. Special music by the choir added to the day's enjoyment.

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent on Thursday, November 1st at the home of Mrs. Robert Cunningham when the Women's Association met. The president, Mrs. Thomas Brownridge opened with a hymn and a prayer. Several items of business were discussed, then Mrs. Frank Wilson played for a song-song of old favourites reading by Mrs. John Bellbody, two contests conducted by Mrs. John McNabb after which Mrs. Arthur Ruddell spoke very highly of Mrs. Walter Brownridge, who has moved to Georgetown and has been such a faithful worker in the W.A. Mrs. R. Cunningham presented her with a cup and saucer, tea plate and bread and butter plate in the petit-point pattern. Mrs. Brownridge thanked the ladies and lunch closed the afternoon.

Florida Honeymoon For Newlyweds

On October 20th, Ethel Gertrude Hutchinson, daughter of Mrs. Hutchinson and the late William Hutchinson, Cheltenham and John Laughlin McClure, son of Mrs. McClure and the late William McClure, Georgetown, were married in Home United Church. Rev. Alex Cowan of Naval attended. Tall standards of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums formed the background for the ceremony.

Given a marriage by her elder brother, William J. Hutchinson, the bride wore a gown of imported brocade in a shabby lace effect. Fashioned in head-down design, a sheer veil in a close fitting rather accentuated the mid waistline and voluminous skirt draped gracefully into a cathedral train. A white cap of ivory satin held her finger tip veil of tulle illusion and she carried a bridal bouquet of pink rosebuds.

The bride's sister, Betty Hutchinson was maid of honour and the groom's sister, Mary and Islay McClure were bridesmaids. The three attendants were gowned alike in tulle bouquets, fashioned with short bolero jackets, shirred bodices, empire waists and full gathered skirts. They wore matching pleated headresses and carried shower bouquets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. The flower girl, Carolyn Perry of Toronto, was gowned in emerald green net over tulle and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Mr. Eccles McClure was his brother's groomsman and Claire Hutchinson, brother of the bride and James Eccles, cousin of the groom were ushers. The bride's sister, Anna May Hutchinson played the organ and Mrs. Clark Lyons, cousin of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

Receiving at Hilltop Lodge, the bride's mother chose a gown of dove grey with lace inserts and grey accents.

The engine plant at Windsor will not entail major construction and the greater part of the contemplated expenditure will be for new equipment and for hundreds of new machines of the latest type. Much of the machinery is already on order, but delivery will take many months.

cessories with a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother in wine velvet and white carnation corsage. During the reception Mrs. Lyons and the Misses Perry of Toronto sang.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to Florida, the bride travelled in a tailored rust suit with matching topcoat and navy accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. They will live on King Street, Georgetown.

Norval Minister Speaks At St. George's 99th Anniversary Services

Preaching at the 99th anniversary services in St. George's Church on Sunday morning Rev. J. E. Maxwell of Norval compared present-day attitudes with the outlook of the early members of the church.

A century ago he said, people looked forward confidently to the future and the good things in store for them. There was a spirit of optimism. Today we are pessimistic. Two world wars in half a century and the threat of a third one have made people pessimistic. Living for the present has replaced planning for the future.

Love, which implies an understanding and sympathy with our fellowmen is needed in the world today, said Mr. Maxwell. Pride of workmanship must also be the goal, rather than thinking completely of the job in terms of money.

Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson preached at the service in St. Paul's Church, Norval in the morning.

Largest Canadian Factory New Oakville Ford Plant

Will Move Assembly Plant From Windsor to Oakville

An automobile assembly plant with more floor space under a single roof than any industrial building in Canada will be erected by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited at Oakville.

The company will convert its existing assembly building (Plant 4) at Windsor into one of the largest and best equipped engine plants in the automotive industry, and will spend several million dollars to expand its machine shop and foundry facilities at Windsor. Ultimately, all passenger cars and trucks produced by the company will be assembled at Oakville.

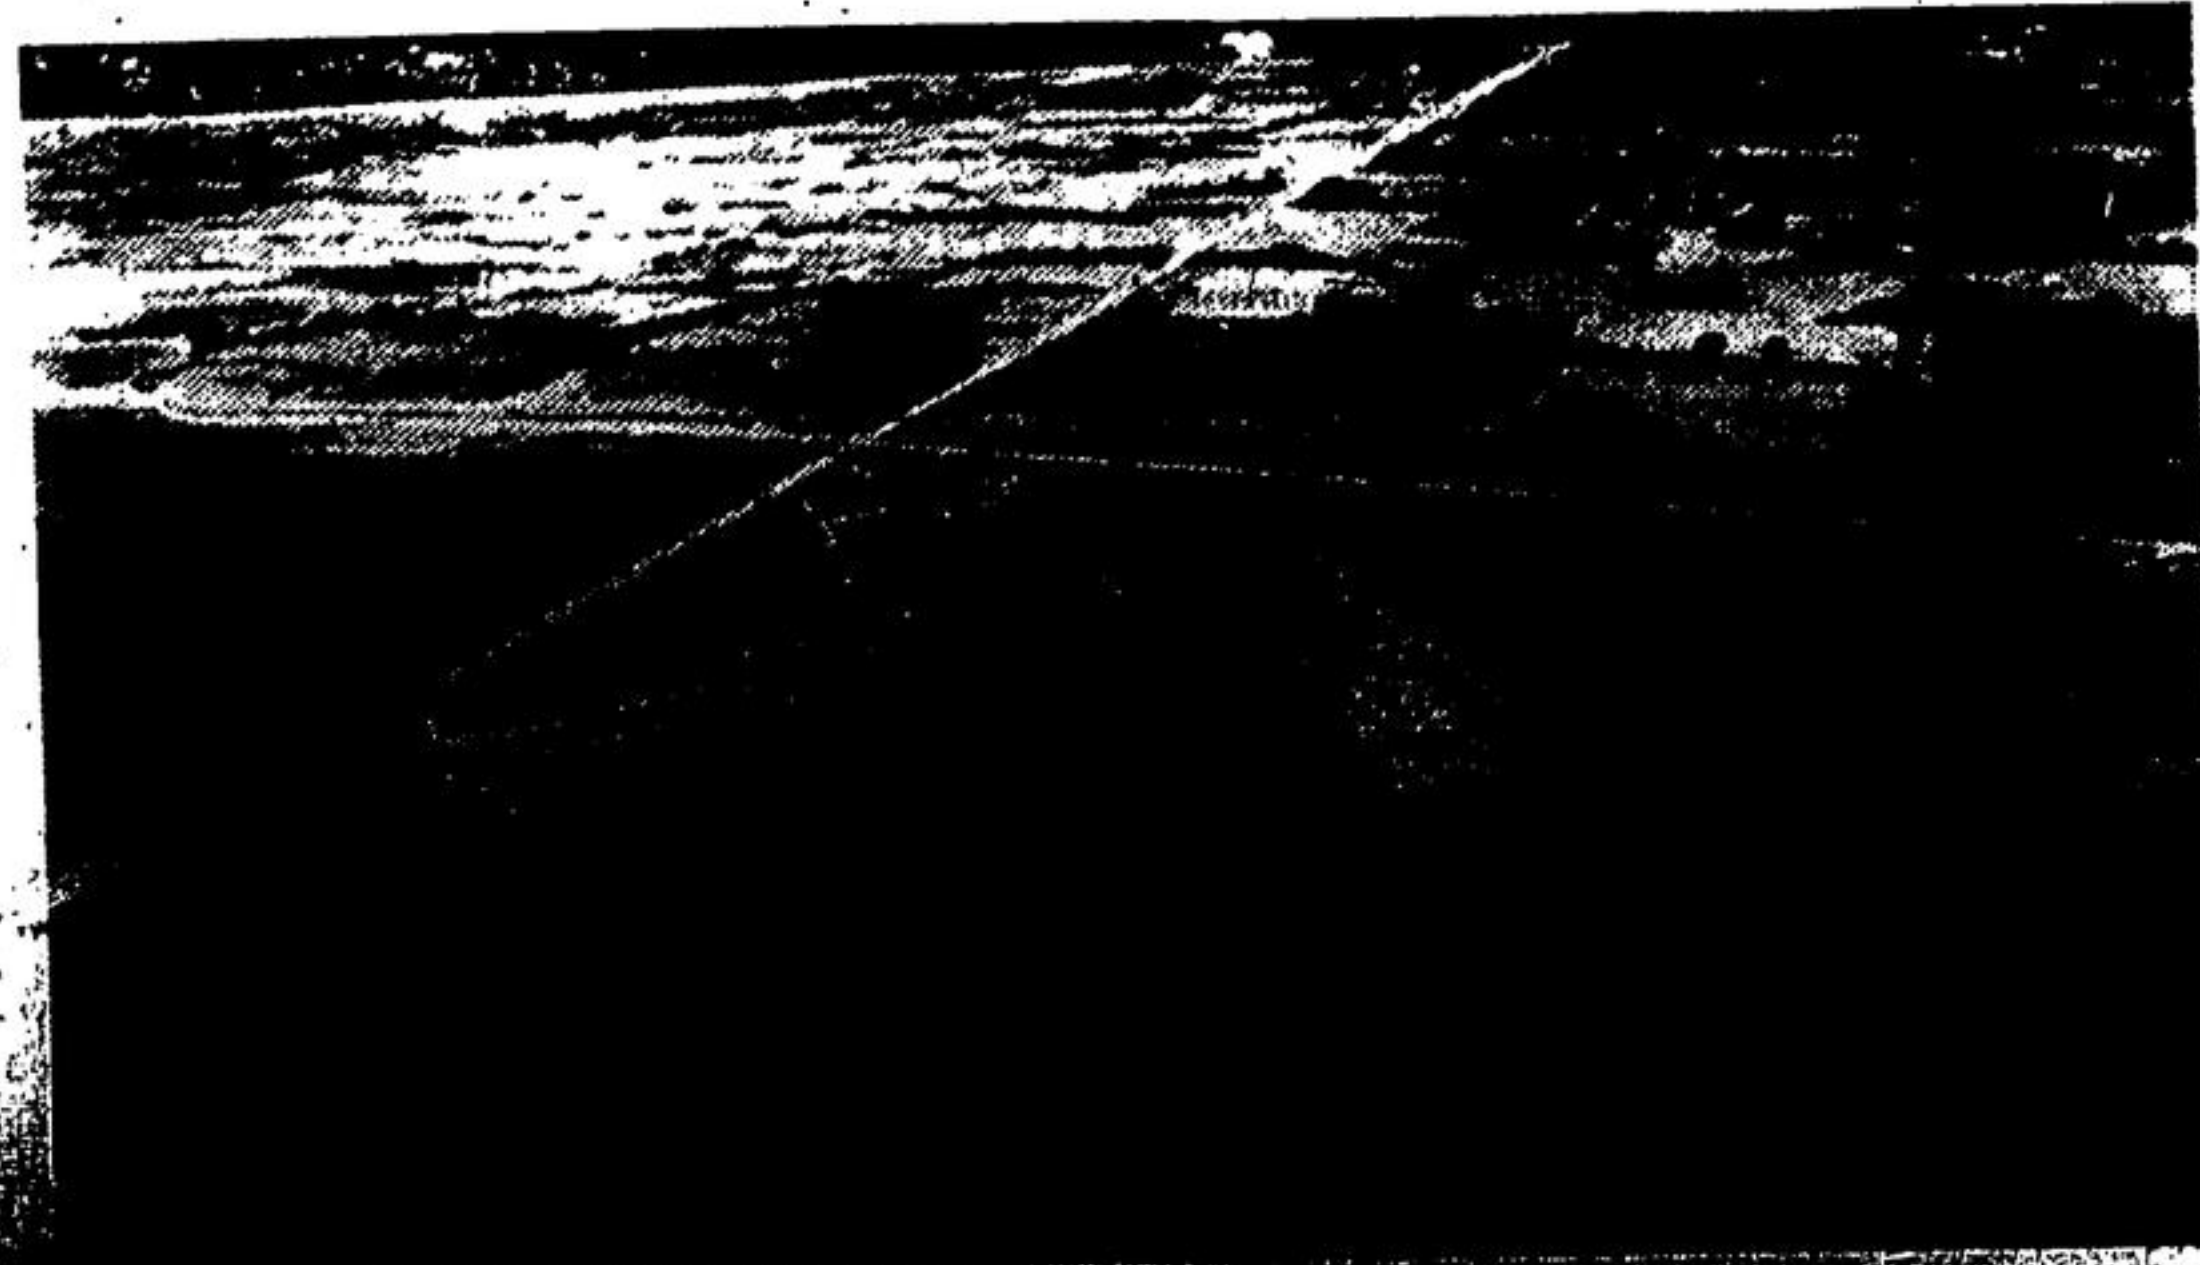

Rhys M. Sale, Ford of Canada president, said the assembly and engine plants are key projects in a huge, long-term program of expansion. The total expenditure, spread over several years, will run to many millions of dollars and will be divided about equally between Oakville and Windsor.

Bulldozers already are at work clearing the site for the Oakville plant, but actual construction will not start until early next year.

The plant will be of the very latest industrial design, one storey in height, and of masonry construction. The floor area under a single roof will be 1,400,000 square feet, or 32½ acres. Several auxiliary buildings will adjoin the main plant.

Set well back from the road on neatly landscaped grounds, the plant will face the Queen Elizabeth Way. With its service area, it will take up about half of the 420 acres of farmland acquired by the company last June, lying between the 8th and 9th lines of Trafalgar Township
