Was Oldest Minister In the Baptist Church

Member of a family long prominent in Georgetown, Rev. Dr. Philo Kilborn Dayfoot died in Toronto on October 31st. He would have celebrated his 94th birthday on December 9th.

Dr. Dayfoot was born in Hamilton in 1857, son of John B. Dayfoot and Rosetta Kilborn and moved with his family to Georgetown in 1862. The Dayfoot family operated the Dayfoot Shoe Company here until its sale a few years ago. The factory later was closed down and the old shoe building is now used by Kippen-Ker, Ltd. for manufacture of fibreglas boats.

He obtained his early education in the local schools, entered Woodstock College in 1872 and after graduation in 1877 he attended Toronto University. Graduating from there in 1881 he was ordained a Baptist minister at Port Colborne the next year. He later received Master of Arts degrees from Toronto and McMaster University conferred on him a Doctor of Divinity degree in 1923.

Dr. Dayfoot had pastored at Port Colborne, Strathroy, Port Hope, Orillia and Simcoe. From 1912 to 1920 he was field secretary to the Baptist Board of Religious Education, then returned to Port Colborne where he was again pastor, this time for 22 years, retiring from the active ministry in 1942.

He was the oldest ordained minister in the Baptist Church in Canada. For forty years prior to his retirement, in addition to his other duties, he edited the Sunday School pages of The Canadian Baptist and wrote extensively for other religious periodicals here and in the U.S.

Dr. Dayfoot, predeceased by his wife Anna Margaret Harris, leaves one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Hambley, Toronto, and two brothers, Charles B. Dayfoot, Oak Bay, B.C. and Harry C. Dayfoot, Georgetown.

The funeral service in Toronto was conducted by Dr. W. Hodgson, who had preached at the celebration of his sixty years in the ministry, and by Dr. George Webb, who is now the oldest ordained minister in Canada. Dr. Hodgson used the same text he had preached from nine years ago, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Pallbearers were deacons from his church in Port Colborne.

SCHOOL NURSE SPEAKS TO INSTITUTE GROUP

The November meeting of Silver-Wood W.I. was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Appleyard, seventh line. Miss J. Hickling, the school nurse, was guest speaker. She brought the encouraging news that Ontario and Saskatchewan record the lowest death rate due to tuberculosis in the Dominion. She informed the group how the expenses of the Halton Health Unit are met. She urged rural schools to adopt the use of screens during the seasons when flies are prevalent. During the afternoon current events were read by Mrs. Gilbert Sinclair, and a motto, "Cheerfulness is a recipe for a happy life" was read by Mrs. R. Corbett. Ten dollars was voted towards the Greek Relief Fund. The seventeen members and two visitors present responded to the roll call by mentioning a supper dish one could leave ready. Members were reminded of the district short course, "They Call it Human Nature" to be given in the Limehouse Memorial Hall on November 19th. A short course of two half-days will be held one week later at the home of Mrs. G. Henderson Sr. when members will discuss "Something to Wear" which deals with suitable accessories for various occasions. The fall fair report showed a pleasing balance netted for the institute. The December meeting will take the form of a Christmas party on December 12. A committee was named to plan it. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Georgetown Raiders play their first league game in Waterloo tomorrow night.

The long-awaited five-team Intermediate B league was organized this week. Georgetown is in much different company than in past years and there will be some long road trips, particularly one to Walkerton.

Five teams have entered the group — Georgetown, Bridgeport, Elmira, Hespler and Walkerton. All towns have artificial ice, Bridgeport playing their games in Waterloo.

First home game for Georgetown will find Elmira the opposition on Friday, the 23rd.

The Raiders had a couple of pre-season warm-ups last week. The team appeared for the first time at Milton Friday in what has been referred to as a "ten-stitch" game. The reason—five stitches under the eye for Rene Martin and five in the head for Jack Kemshead. Raiders lost 6-4. They were without the services of Scotty Patterson, Harvey Chappel and Del Beaumont. Nick Ferri was playing. His status this year still seems indefinite, and reports are that he is still flirting with Brampton Intermediates.

Chappel, recuperating from an appendicitis operation will be out of action until after Christmas. Delly, who had a painful injury at work and lost the tip of a finger, will also be sidelined for some time and he has taken over coaching duties for the time being.

Last night, Milton and Georgetown played here to a 5-all tie.

The six team industrial league went into action Monday. There will be a triple header each Monday night. These boys take their hockey seriously and you get your thirty-five cents worth. Ken Nash and Pete Ward refereed on Monday. Smith and Stone, last year's cup team had their own way with a new entry, Burns Transport, winning 6-2. Alliance beat Acton Tanners 3-2. Norval won 7-4 from Businessmen.

oooOooo

Alfie Sykes loosed his ire on some of the kids who slept in on Saturday and showed up for their games half an hour late. In Alfie's book, 7:30 means 7:30, and if a player doesn't get there in time he doesn't get on the ice. Don't blame him either, for when a man gives a lot of time and hauls himself out of bed early to promote kid hockey the least he can expect is for the players themselves to cooperate.

In the PeeWee league Saturday Oilers blanked Reds 2-0. Hornets and Bears played to a scoreless tie. Hamilton trounced Kitchener 8-3 in the Midget League, while Owen Sound beat Brantford 7-4.

You can follow all the doings at the arena this season by reading the schedule which will appear each week. Make a point of looking at it, then there's no excuse for missing something you want to attend.
