SILVER TRAY, POCKET WATCHES FOUR JOIN QUARTER CENTURY CLUB

Tells Farmers Club Peel County History

Clarence V. Charters, Brampton, spoke of the early history of Peel County at a meeting of Terra Cotta Farmers Club which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McKane.

Mr. Charters, who was introduced by Mrs. Peter Dick, is a promoter of the Peel Historical Society. He told of the incorporation of Brampton in 1851 and the formation of Peel County in 1887, named after John or Robert Peel. The county now has a population of 55,000. Mr. Charters brought with him two curios which have been donated for a museum by Scott Galbraith. They are a compass and sword used by Louis Riel during the rebellion.

Congratulations were expressed at the meeting to Betty Jean Anderson who wrote a prizewinning essay on "The Oldest House in my School Section." She was a guest at a meeting of Brampton Rotary Club on Monday when she received her prize. Betty Jean's essay told the history of the George H. Leslie house.

Mrs. Lloyd Crichton presided at the ladies meeting, when a committee composed of Mrs. F. L. Thompson, Mrs. Clarence Lyons and Mrs. Fred Lyons were put in charge of the annual banquet. Mrs. Crichton offering her home for this. Eleanor Macdonald gave a humorous reading and Mrs. George Frazer read the report of the nominating committee. Officers for the coming year are Mrs. Lloyd Crichton, president; Mrs. F. L. Thompson, vice president; Mrs. Wilfrid Leslie, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Wilbert Cleave, assistant secretary; Dorothy Thompson, pianist; Mrs. Campbell Sinclair, assistant pianist.

Lloyd Crichton presided at the joint meeting where Dorothy Thompson played for a sing-song and Donald Garbutt entertained with instrumentals on the guitar and mouth organ.

It was decided to hold summer meetings next year. A social hour followed Mr. Charters' talk. F. L. Thompson expressing thanks to him and to the others who had taken part in the program.

Members of Provincial Paper's Quarter Century Club had their annual turkey dinner in the Legion Hall on Thursday.

The club, founded four years ago, has a present membership of 48 and most of the members were present to enjoy the evening. A highlight was the welcoming of four new members, Miss Janet McDougall, Richard Grace, Andrew Dewhurst and Orval Rayner.

Walter Barber, once superintendent at the local mill and now secretary-treasurer of the company, presented pocket watches to the men and a silver tray to Miss McDougall, and spoke his regret that this would be his last opportunity to officiate at such presentations, as he would be retiring next year.

Arthur Herbert, club president, was chairman and after dinner he called for one minute's silence for two members who had died during the year. Nancy Teeter and John W. Armstrong, who had died only the day before. Among those who spoke briefly were past president Hugh Dickie, Fred McCartney and Miss Ann Hickey who read messages from other clubs as well as notes of regret from Mr. Ambridge and Mr. Jewett, company officials who could not attend the dinner.

Leonard Marchmont was elected president for the coming year, John D. Kelly vice president, Ann Hickey secretary-treasurer, and Harry Hale an executive member. The new president suggested a summer picnic for the club at which members would entertain their wives.

During dinner the Rhythm Rubes played and later in the evening impromptu entertainment was supplied by Harry Hale and Andrew Dewhurst, who sang comic songs, Mrs. Jessie Leavitt accompanying at the piano. Mrs. Arthur Herbert, who sang "My Ain Home" and a barber-shop quartette.

Members of the club who attended were Misses Jessie Leavitt, Ann Hickey, Lena McNally, and Jennie McDougall, Clayton Allen, George Blick, Albert Carter, Martin Cummins, Hugh Dickie, Jack Fry, Wilfred Gill, Harry Hale, Arthur Herbert, James Hill, Alex Kean, John D. Kelly, Donald Latimer, Leonard Marchmont, Fred McCartney, William Merritt, Walter Peck, William C. Reynolds, George Smith, Bert Weston, Richard Grace, Andrew Dewhurst, Orval Rayner, Robert Buchanan, Wellington Greensward, Isaac Hornby, George Louth, Walter Louth, Fred McNally, Henry Preston, Chester Scott and Thomas Treanor. St. John's Remembers Seventeen War Dead

St. John's Junior Choir provided the music for the morning worship at St. John's on Sunday. Under the direction of Norman Laird they sang "Flocks in Green Pastures", "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Saviour Holy". Fernie Caird of Toronto sang the Remembrance Day solo composed by N. Laird "Let Them Come In". Rev. John M. Smith gave a brief Remembrance Day meditation making special reference to the seventeen young men of St. John's who paid the supreme sacrifice in the struggle for freedom.

Brenda Shea, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tizzard received infant baptism during the morning worship.

The evening service of worship was based on the theme "The Price of Privilege" which was a continuation of the study in the book of the prophet Amos. Mrs. C. Buck accompanied the congregational singing at the piano.

The flowers on the communion table consisted of a bouquet of seventeen red roses by Mr. and Mrs. A. MacLaren placed in remembrance of the seventeen men who paid the supreme sacrifice.

It was announced that the Woman's Association would hold their annual bazaar in St. John's Memorial Hall on Saturday.

The nursery for babies and children up to five years has been operating for the past few weeks during morning worship and has proved very satisfactory. It will be continued through the winter months.

Stewarttown SNOW STORM MAKES SCHOOL HOLIDAY

The children had an unexpected holiday Wednesday morning, owing to the snow storm.

Junior W.A. meeting was held at the superintendents home. Mary Lawson chose the hymn "Away In A Manger" to open the meeting and led in the worship service. The sick members were remembered in the prayers. Also the Monday Pledge. The medical work among the children in the Diocese of Hanan, China, Betty Humphreys led last weeks minutes. Scrap books were made in the busy period.

There was a good attendance last night when Mrs. W. Huffman was the hostess at the meeting of St. John's Guild. The next meeting is November 20th will be at Mrs. C. Smith's home.

Church service was held Sunday afternoon and will be the same time next Sunday.

THINK for YOURSELF

Do you think Mr. Frost and his Conservative government should be returned on their record?

Do you think Mr. Thomson and the Liberals can possibly win enough seats to form the government when they held only 13 seats out of a total of 90 in the last legislature?

The C.C.F., the official opposition since 1943 has developed experienced men and has an honest and capable leader in Mr. Jolliffe. They are in a strong position in Ontario and can form the next government. You owe it to yourself to use your vote effectively by voting C.C.F.
