NIGHT SCHOOL PLANS PROGRESS

What looked like an almost impossible task is being whipped into shape by the Planning Committee of the Milton Night School. We understand from A. T. Woodley, chairman of the Committee, that while it is impossible to accept all of the applicants, it would seem that at least 420 will be accommodated. This necessitates a staff of 25 each night, which is no small task to line up in itself. The Committee has already arranged for accommodation at the Milton, High School, Public School, Town Hall the United and Presbyterian Sunday School Rooms, the Farmers' Building and at least one other hall is likely to become available. In short, the Milton Night School has just about taken over all the available hall space in the town. The Committee anticipates that everything will be in readiness when Tuesday, November 27 rolls around.

New Books At the Library

"THE LURE OF MONTREAL"
by W. P. Perdval
Tells the fascinating story of the city named after its attractive mountain, the enthusiasm with which it was founded and its further development. A story of its three hundred years of civilization. Ancient and modern are frequently found by side in Montreal, also the mingling of French and English gives the city much of its character. This book is delightfully illustrated and easily read.

THE PICTURE GALLERY
of Canadian History
by C. W. Jeffreys
Volume 1 and 2
Vol. 1 from Discovery to 1763
Vol. 2 from 1763 to 1830
These are popular books for those who like to see their history in authentic pictures. The illustrations are by the well known artist C. W. Jeffreys, assisted by T. W. McLean. They are the first of a series designed to illustrate the history of Canada from the time of its discovery to the end of the 19th century and as picture books alone, they are fascinating apart from their historical significance.

Halton Juniors Third In Royal Judging

The inter-county livestock judging competition at the 1951 Royal brought together teams of three young men from each of thirty counties in Ontario. In order to be eligible the team members must be under 26 years of age and must never have competed in a previous inter-county contest at the Royal. The ninety young men went thru a "grueling" test which necessitated all 90 placing and giving oral reasons on ten classes of livestock, namely: Shorthorns, Herefords, Jerseys, Holsteins, Percherons, Clydesdales, Yorkshire gilts, Hog carcasses, Market lambs, and Suffolk sheep. Halton was represented in the contest by perhaps the youngest team to represent the county since the inauguration of the inter-county contest in 1922. The team members were John C. Willmott, Milton, John A. Currie, Georgetown and Mac Sprowl of Acton. And what a job they did! Undaunted by being in competition with young men older in years and experience, they held their ground and when the awards were read out at the evening banquet, to their amazement and delight (and possibly their coach's too) they found they were in third place. That they had each pulled their weight is borne out by their respective scores, namely: 849, 846 and 845. The Jeffrey Bull Memorial Trophy, which goes to the winning team, was won by Peel County... their team being composed of Hilliard and Bertram Stewart, of Bolton, and Ralph Dunton, of Brampton. In second place was Durham; 3rd Halton and 4th Wentworth. 5th York, 6th Bruce, 7th Waterloo, 8th Brant, 9th Perth, and 10th Victoria and Grey. In the four inter-county contests in which Halton teams have competed since the re-opening of the Royal in 1947, Halton teams have won two 3rds and one 2nd; a real achievement and one of which Halton Juniors may well be proud.

Brain Holstein Contends For All-Canadian Honours
While we personally missed the Dairy Cattle show at the 1951 Royal, we learned on Thursday evening last when we were scribbling out this column, that Halton was represented in the Holstein Show by A. M. Brain & Sons, A. G. Hunter, Blanshard Bros., and Thomas McGee. A. M. Brain's senior yearling bull which won the second in his class at the CNE, and reserve junior championship for males at the same show, also the junior champion award at the Milton Show was back again with son William on the lead strap. And what a class it was—the CNE winner from Romandale Farms was in eighth place, but the Brain bull was still in second place and consequently is a strong contender for the All-Canadian honours. According to our information A. G. Hunter won third on his good cow in a strong class; and also won a fifth and sixth in other classes. Unfortunately we have not been able to get any details on the McGee and Blanshard entries.

PEGGY'S COVE
by T. F. B. Livesay
A slim volume, but beautiful in picture and text. This is about one of the most painted and frequently visited spots in Canada and will be a pleasure to all who have been so fortunate and a lure of anticipation to those who hope to visit Peggy's Cove.

"THE VILLAGE OF SOULS"
by Philip Child
drawings by Roloff Beny
This is Philip Child's first novel and in some respects his greatest. A beautifully told tale of adventure, courage and hardship in 17th century French Canada.

"THE ALABASTER HAND"
by A. N. L. Munby
For a complete change and those who can take it "The Ghost Story" written between 1943 and 1945 in a prison camp just outside the ancient walled town of Enkstatt in Upper Franconia, without honor piled upon horror, but in a pleasantly urban style. Well worth having a peek into.

"THE DAY OF WRATH"
by Philip Child
The story of this magnificent novel centres in the city of Tübingen, Germany, but it might be any city. It is the story of a great love in a world that wanted only to hate, the story of what happens to simple people trapped and enslaved by their masters.

"MR. AMES AGAINST TIME"
by Philip Child
"All-Canada Fiction Award" which alone should make this book well worth one's reading time. Also the story has a dramatic plot with plenty of action. Against desperate odds the hero wins a wonderful theme at any time.

"TWO GENERATIONS"
by F. P. Grove
This book is privately printed and a limited number of copies available — so it is something very choice to have in our library. Read it and see for yourself why "Two Generations" is a great book.

"A HISTORY OF NOVA SCOTIA"
by G. G. Campbell
This book is the story of the discovery, exploration and settlement, by peoples from Europe of what is now known as the Maritimes. It is in 3 parts, illustrated and well documented. There is also the Bibliography. It should be of interest to the student as well as one who just likes history.

"THE PASSIONATE PILGRIM"
by W. R. Bird
This is a story of Nova Scotia frontier life — brave deeds and wicked intrigue, full of action and suspense. The writer has become one of the most important writers of fiction in Canada and will be read with enthusiasm by all who enjoy a good story.

"BOSS OF THE RIVER"
by Felix-Antoine Savard
translated by Alan Sullivan
The story of a resolute old rebel obsessed by the contrast between the vagarious adventurous lives of his ancestors, and the local existence, as he sees it today, of the French Canadian peasant. The tale by a priest of the Parish of Sainte Agnes, in the county of Charlevoix, P.Q., has been crowned and given a prize by the French Academy and also the Quebec Provincial Literary Award, so it is well worth reading.

"TO EFFECT AN ARREST"
Adventures of the R.C.M.P.
by Harwood Steele
Here is a book of short stories, exciting and thrilling to the fire-side Reader but all in the day's work to the "mountie." Very well written.
