Laurel Man Killed In Crossing Smash

Lewis Hannah, Laurel farmer was instantly killed Monday morning in a railway accident at Mount Pleasant.

Driving a light delivery truck, Mr. Hannah was on his way to Georgetown where he had a dental appointment with Dr. J. B. Milne. In the heavy fog, he failed to see a speeding train and crashed into one of the rear coaches. The locomotive engineer was unaware of the crash and the train did not stop.

Skid marks on the road indicated that the driver had seen the train, but too late. The truck was thrown back and into another truck on the highway behind. Several local people were at the scene at the time, including Jack Ridley, who was waiting on the Georgetown side of the highway for the train to pass. Herb Reid, Craig Hunt and Graham Earnell, all of whom were near the scene en route to Toronto. Traffic was held up for some time while the wreckage was being moved.

Police were on duty when the accident occurred. When the train was stopped, the driver of the truck was found dead.
