It would be too bad to disappoint them. So it is that we see many people entering the local Post Office with very well done-up bundles of food And these bundles do have their little complications too One lady of our acquaintance was seen going up the PO ste, s bearing such a food parcel for mailing, and was also seen coming out with the same parcel but a look of chagrin on her face ... The reason? The parcel of food had proved to be a few ounces over the regulation weight attributable only to the extra heavy wrappings. Now it must be all undone, the offending number of ounces removed, and all done up again. Woe was she! . . . . . . And speaking of the economy which had to be practiced even more rigidly in wartime, in the matter of food, goods and services, Rev. Alfred Barker of the Baptist Church has a little anecdote which he tells of the time when he was serving in the Army in England. While on leave in London one afternoon, he attended a session of the House of Commons in order to watch and hear the procedure. While there, he was amused to behold the Hon. Anthony Eden (known as one of England's bestdressed men) and another M.P., relaxing with their feet up on a small table between them. Both the Honourable gentlemen obviously had holes in the soles of their shoes, visible even at that distance . . .

COULDN'T HELP but notice, - and wheeling a carriage makes it even more noticeable - how dangerous it is for pedestrians to walk along John St., especially the crowds of school children who swarm all over the sidewalk and road. Don't know what the remedy is, we're sure, but certainly pedestrians as well as drivers should be very careful indeed. There will be quite a change on the curve of John Street just where the road curves to go up to the culvert, when Mr. Al Norton has his recently purchased property completely filled in. It is surprising how quickly the fill builds up . . .

IT'S INTERESTING to note that Mr. Donald Lindsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Lindsay will be the "fourth generation" of the Lindsay family to farm their home on R. R. 1, town. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lindsay are living in the home of Mr and Mrs. K. C. Lindsay have retired from the farm. They are at present living in a house in Glen Williams, which was formerly occupied by Flt. Lt. and Mrs. S. D. Gillis. The Lindsay farm, one of the oldest in Esquesing, has been in the Lindsay name well over eighty-five years ...

COMING within town limits again — the brick house on Emery Street opposite Mr. and Mrs: A. H. Feller's, has been bought by Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffrey from Henry Ostrow. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey and '11 year-old son Barry lived in Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Hunter's apartment on Queen St. for the season when Mr. and Mrs.

help, because just as their car was rounding the curve -- luckily quite slowly . . one of their wheels rolled off, and there they were, stranded. We shiver to think what might have happened had that wheel come off on the Silvercreek hill. The drivers of the cars were entertainers.

perhaps some of you have heard of them comedians Barry Authors and Howard Swinton, and negro singer Albert Mardon They were fortunate too in finding accommodation for the night in town, while their car was repaired, for at that mour it is not any easy thing to and in Georgetown .

Fo P. BENNER, manager

The Pileated Woodpecker is a startling bird. So spectacular is his appearance that he has long been a target for guns in the hands of thoughtless people. As a result he is becoming rare in many sections of Canada.

He should be protected. Besides being highly decorative and the largest Canadian woodpecker, the Pileated is extremely valuable. He destroys millions of wood insects and provides nesting sites for tree-dwelling ducks.
