GLEN WILLIAMS

FLOODS START EARLY IN GLEN WILLIAMS

Spring flooding has begun early in the Glen this year. This morning residents of the flats along the 9th Line were unpleasantly surprised to find the river had overflowed its banks and was in their cellars. The river is frozen over and water which is trapped under the ice has no other way of escaping.

The public school concert on Friday had a large attendance despite inclement weather. Attractive concert programs were given to everyone as they entered. The program consisted of carols, plays and monologues, a drill and a folk dance. The senior choir, directed by principal Jack Cantelon with Marlon Hepburn at the piano concluded a well-rounded program with five carols, beautifully sung and greatly enjoyed.

The Christmas tea and mystery parcel sale in St. Alban's parish hall was well attended. A great response from donors of mystery parcels was appreciated by the Guild ladies who sponsored the affair. A few tables of euchre were played in the evening. While lunch was being served, the draw was made for a doll, dressed by Mrs. Jack Lucas and won by Mrs. Fred Tucker, and a Christmas cake was won by Mr. H. Cudde.

Mr. and Mrs. William Korzack and family visited on Sunday in Richmond Hill with Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrington.

Gwen Williams spent the weekend in Chatham with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Usher, Woodbridge, visited on Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Preston.

Brothers Attend Warden Goldwin Burt's Dinner

Retiring as warden of Wellington County, Goldwin Burt, reeve of Erin Township was honoured at the warden's dinner in Guelph last Thursday when he was presented with a wrist watch.

Among the 300 guests attending were his brothers, Laurence and Clifford Burt of Georgetown, Mrs. Clifford Burt, Mrs. D. J. Sinclair and Garnet and Jean Sinclair.

Reeve Philip Rowland, Maryboro, read an address expressing appreciation for the warden's efficient conducting of the year's business, and regretting his retirement from municipal life. The watch was presented by deputy-reeve Ernest Benham, Eramosa while deputy-reeve Rilett Cherrey of Peel Township presented a bouquet of red roses to Miss Leota Sovereign who accompanied her uncle to the dinner.

Mother Dies Suddenly In Hospital Sunday

Mother of Jim Coleman, proprietor of the Rose Bar Restaurant, Mrs. Charles Coleman of Willowdale died suddenly in Toronto General Hospital on Sunday. She was the former Elizabeth Ann Woolcott.

She is survived by her husband and four children, Jim, Georgetown, Mrs. Flo Bradley, Clarence and Charles. The funeral service was held this afternoon at the Bennett Funeral Home, Lansing, with interment in St. John's, Norway, Cemetery.

ALLIANCE STAFF ASSOCIATION PARTIES AT HILLTOP LODGE

Members of the Alliance Staff Association and their guests enjoyed a Christmas party a week ago Friday at Hilltop Lodge, Erin.

After a turkey dinner, gifts were exchanged and there was carol singing, cards and dancing.

Thomas Eason, president of the association, spoke briefly and welcomed the guests and Jack Crichton replied on behalf of the guests. Some forty people enjoyed the party.
