

Chatting . . .

With
M.H.B.

WE WERE JUST rolling the paper into our typewriter and before settling down for our little weekly chat with you took a look out the kitchen window. Letting our gaze linger for a moment on the greyness of the rapidly melting snow, we were aware of a sudden movement as a little black and tan striped cat made a leap from neighbor Ed Hall's porch swing. It was their pet "Twinky", and you'd never guess from his looks and actions that he has already used up one of his "nine lives", and recovered from a broken hind leg to boot.

We're not too fond of cats, as a general rule, but Twinky is an exceptionally nice one, and we felt almost as badly as Mr. and Mrs. Hall and their children Michael and Mary, when one night last August he didn't come home. Several days went by, and hopes that Twinky would turn up again diminished rapidly — especially as there was a particularly bad spell of heavy thunderstorms.

THEN CAME Wednesday morning, and Mrs. Hall decided to put an ad in the Herald, on the off-chance that someone might know of his whereabouts. And when she called, ye editor mentioned that Mr. Stan Allen had an ad in that week for a "found" cat, and altho it didn't match Twinky's description, exactly, it would be worth enquiring about . . .

So, the Hall's did contact Mr. Allen, and learned that they had found a very wet and bedraggled cat near their home on the Paper Mill Road, suffering from a broken back leg, and they feared perhaps a broken back as well. Befriending the poor animal, the Allens took him to the vet, Dr. Charles Sayers, to be treated for his injuries, and that was where Mr. and Mrs. Hall could see the cat. Needless to say they lost little time in going to Dr. Sayers — found the injured cat was their pet — brought him home — and after several weeks of being allowed down considerably by a leg in splints, Twinky has, to all appearances, lived happily (and near to home) ever after.

QUITE A DIFFERENT kind of Christmas holiday was enjoyed by Miss Mamie Campbell this year, when she took advantage of the school holidays to take a trip out to Tucson, Arizona, where she visited with her brother and niece, Mr. John H. Campbell, and Margaret. It was Miss Campbell's first visit with her brother since he moved to Arizona last summer. Miss Campbell teaches school in Toronto. And their friends in town will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson Douglas are at present vacationing in Nassau, the Bahamas. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, now of Toronto, are former residents of Georgetown.

STILL THE MOVING goes on, each week we think we have exhausted the news for you along that line. Not that we pride ourselves on chronicling all the different changes in residence around town. But we do tell you about the ones we hear about, and if you enjoy hearing about them and keeping up to date on where people are living in town, do let us know when you know of any news in this line, and we'll pass it along to our readers.

Just recently, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hoare and baby daughter have moved into the house on Normandy Boulevard vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Bud James. They have been living with Mrs. Hoare's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Marchington, on their farm just beyond Glen Williams. And Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schultz, Gloria and Joan left on Saturday for Austin, Texas, where they will make their home. The Schultz family are moving to the southern states because the climate there will be beneficial to Mrs. Schultz' health.

ENJOYED HEARING Winston Churchill speak on the radio, Monday night, didn't you? He is a wonderful orator. We imagine that Mrs. William Miller, Factory Street, was listening very avidly, too, for Mrs. Miller had a much more particular interest in Britain's Prime Minister than have the majority of his admirers here in Canada. And that interest stems from the fact that she and Mr. Churchill were decorated at the same investiture by King Edward VII after the South African War.

When the hospital was disbanded — about the time of Lord Roberts' return to England — Mrs. Miller, then Nursing Sister Annie Fisher, was sent to Dublin to serve in a military hospital. Much to her surprise, she was instructed to report to London to be decorated at an investiture at Marlborough House.

WINSTON CHURCHILL was also decorated at this investiture. Mrs. Miller has always regretted she had no opportunity to speak to him. But she has followed his rise to leadership with keen vigilance, which was shared by her husband, William Miller. She and her husband came to Canada after he had served as an artilleryman in the first World War. Mrs. Miller has been a widow two years and is recovering from a serious illness. But she is still naturally very interested in Winston Churchill's career, and has followed closely the details of his visit to the United States and Canada, both in the papers and on the radio.

LEGION NEWS

THIS WEEK we'll try and give you a few brief notes, but they will be brief, as there is not a great deal stirring around the Branch.

LAST BIG EVENT, of course, was the New Year's Eve party, and that seemed to be a pretty fair success. At least most of the ones we have talked to, felt that everything was O.K. Oh yes, there was a little shortage of food, but that was merely the result of a much larger crowd than anticipated.

THE BRANCH received a very nice letter from the parents of the 11-year-old Orangeville girl, Betty Jane Barbour, who won the $75 1st prize in the Christmas draw. Betty Jane, we might add, is a cripple from that awful disease, infantile paralysis. So to her, it was really a thrill coming as it did just before Christmas. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barbour, in their letter, say she is improving, though, and they hope soon she will be almost normal. Looks from this end as if the money couldn't have found a better home.

HILL JONEY has just finished his yearly bout with the auditors, Lever and Hoskin, the firm of chartered accountants that take care of the Branch audit. . . . and again, tithy complimented Bill on his handling of the books. . . . The financial report has been made out, and we expect to have a copy of it for the annual meeting on Thursday night, January 24th. And while we're on the subject, the annual election of officers will be held on Sunday, January 27th, at 2.15. The reason for the Sunday meeting, is of course, the fact that so many of our members work shift work and Sunday is the only day the Branch can count on a really representative turnout. So, Comrades, these are two very important meetings, so try and attend both of them. After all, we're all partners in the Branch, whether we hold office or not, and you all should be certainly interested in the financial end of the organization, as well as who are its officers. There again, you have the opportunity of electing your executive and other officers once a year, so make the best of it. If you think that your services would contribute to the good of the organization, we feel that it's your duty to run for office. It is the writer's firm belief, that EVERY office should be contested EVERY year. It is only in that manner that those fortunate enough to be elected are kept on their toes, as well as making them feel they have been elected by the majority because they were best fitted, instead of, as is often the case in an organization, as the result of a

This is an important meeting, as all the sports officers throughout the zone have been invited to discuss possibilities of arranging zone play-offs in various sports, so that better representation from this zone can be given in provincial command play-offs than at present. We hope both Scotty and Eric will be able to be present.
