KING'S MEMORY HONOURED AT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Georgetown Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. R. T. Paul, Mill Street, on Wednesday evening, February 6th.

The president, Mrs. Seward Wilson, was in the chair and the meeting opened with the hymn "O Valiant Hearts" followed by a prayer for the Royal Family and our new Queen. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison after which Mrs. W. V. Graft read the following poem, which had been written after the death of King George VI, and seemed equally applicable to our late sovereign, King George VI.

Say no more "The King is dead,"
Death is no more for such as he,
With his latest breath on earth,
Came there not the heavenly birth
Into immortality?
He whose lamp was God's Own
Word.

Knew the way and loved the truth,
Resting from his toil and strife,
He has entered into Life,
He has found unfading youth.
Ever will his memory live,
Ever his fair fame increase
By the things he loved and sought
Honor, faith, untarnished thought,
Gentle kindness and peace.

Gently is his name revered
To the wide world's utmost end.
Little children love him well,
Singing words his praises tell,
Millions think of him as "friend."
These to envying years will tell
How it thrilled their hearts to hear
Borne across the seven seas
By the couriers of the breeze —
His "God Bless You" ringing clear.
Say no more "The King is dead!"
Death is not for such as he,
Lost the burden of the cloud,
Now he lives and walks with God.
He is more alive than we.

This was followed by the singing of the national anthem "God Save Our Gracious Queen, and doubtless to say many a tear trickled down the cheeks of his and her loyal subjects.

Letters of appreciation were read from those receiving cards and gifts on account of illness and sorrow.

A social period followed and a delicious lunch Mrs. Harold Cleave moved a vote of thanks to the hostess, Mrs. Paul and all those who added to the enjoyment of the evening.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NEWS

LOT OF HOCKEY FOR SCHOOLBOYS

Hockey is playing an important part in the boys' activities these winter days. Several teams have been organized by Mr. V. A. Stein and games are scheduled for Tuesday afternoons from 4 to 5 p.m. Free skating is permitted on Mondays and Fridays. A game of hockey last week between Grades 8 and 9 resulted in a 5-5 tie. On Tuesday afternoon teams from the Grades 5-6 and 7-8 groups played.

In the Grade 5-6 group John Hulme's team tied with Grant Emmerson's 3-3. Wayne Price's "Buffalo Bisons" defeated Calvin King's "Hershey Bears" 3-2 in the Grade 7-8 group game.

Films shown last week to senior grades included "Medieval England" and "Home Nursing." The junior grades saw "How Animals Are Protected for Winter."

January attendance records show that best attendance was in Miss Lindsay's classroom with 96.03 per cent and Mrs. Evans' class in second place with 94.82 per cent.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. J. Dwyer has returned from Guelph General Hospital and is convalescing favorably at her home here.

Mrs. Evans was absent for a few days last week with an attack of influenza. Miss May Logan and Miss R. Stull have been supplying in Grade 7 during her absence.

FARM FORUMS

Variety of Ideas Given On Farm Price Structure

"Who Sets Farm Prices?" proved an interesting topic for county farm forums when they met to discuss last Monday's broadcast.

Five forums said it was possible for farmers to control prices to a certain extent if the market is not flooded with any certain product, by means of a good marketing scheme and controlled production. As examples they pointed out the beekeepers, the western wheat pool and the milk control board. One group said advertising and central selling agencies could help to control prices.

Six forums were of an opposite viewpoint, and gave a number of reasons why prices cannot be controlled by farmers. Export markets which change with world conditions, unpredictability of weather conditions and substitutes coming on the market were some factors mentioned. Because most farm produce is perishable, it has to be marketed in a certain period and farmers are often forced to take the prices that are offered.

Six groups believe the government should be responsible for marketing surplus farm produce by buying surpluses and selling them to countries in need at a price they can pay. It was suggested that it can be placed on importing food from other countries, as this helps to create surpluses at home. Four forums think surpluses should be marketed through farmers' own groups, and two more suggested handling surpluses through marketing boards.

The majority of farmers feel they prefer farming when prices are stabilized. One group said "no" as controlled prices are seldom favourable to the producer, and they prefer to gamble on the ups and downs.

Elmer's Back Again!

Howdy Folks. Trust you have been having a good time this long and hard winter. Me? Well I have been enjoying the sunny breezes and scenery of Florida. Yep, they have beautiful sights down there. Nice trees, nice water, nice beaches, oh, everything is very nice.

Those of you who take your hockey seriously will remember my feeble efforts a few years back as a Selector of the Three Stars. Well those efforts must have been appreciated by some one for I got a hurry up call to come back to Georgetown and see if I couldn't help the hockey team. Imagine that!

Heard our boys lost their winning habits about Milton playoff time last year and haven't been too consistent since. So on Saturday night I took myself down to the big game between Walkerton and Georgetown Hudders. All I saw different around the arena was a little fresh paint. Spence McKinnon was taking the money as usual and Jack Gibbons was counting the receipts. Considering the stormy weather I felt the crowd was very good.

Now for the hockey. Of course you must understand this is only one man's opinion. Taking man for man we thought Georgetown should have beaten Walkerton by five goals. Instead it ended in a 6-6 tie. That is knowing what some of the Georgetown boys can do when they want to play hockey, not shunney.

The Walkerton boys are a well coached team and considering their lack of natural ability put up a very pleasing game. Most of the Georgetown boys played hockey like the Tomerille Hot Shots play basketball.

Freddy Lawrence, the goal must have had a dull pair of skates if he was floundered around at times. He can do much better than the performance that he gave on Saturday night. The defence was weak and very much by the absence of Kenny Nash. He doesn't look in as proper place playing left wing now, to see old Duke Lindsay of Acton, back on skates. Thought he was through ten years ago.

Up front I liked the efforts of Maxie Bradbury and Harvey Charpentier best. The rest of the forwards tried hard but their passes were not passed up all the time. So the three stars for the night are Maxie, Charpentier and Bradbury. Sid Smith, Easterton.

But there might be a future in the game if they use some of the natural ability and practice their passing and shooting.

Yours, Elmer E. Fisher

LEGION NEWS

THIS COLUMN regrets to read the news of the passing of our beloved monarch, King George VI. In view of his death, all Legion social activities have ceased until after the funeral.

REGARDING the form of a memorial service to be held, a committee of representatives of town council, Ministerial association, Legion and Lorne Scots Regiment met a week ago Tuesday night to discuss the service. It was decided that the service would be a community one, and the Legion representatives were asked if the Branch would be willing to act as ushers on that day. The Legion representatives agreed that the Branch would do this. It seems especially fitting that this should be done, as his late majesty was Grand Patron of the Canadian Legion as well as being head of the parent organization, the B.E.S.L.

To take this part in the service, members wishing to attend (and we hope every member will) will be requested to meet at the Legion Hall a bit in early in order to allow the ushers to be there in good time to meet the crowd. Further details, time, etc. will appear in an advertisement in this issue.
