RAIDERS TIE HOCKEY SERIES

BEAT ELMIRA MONDAY AFTER DEFEAT HERE.

Georgetown Raiders avenged an 8-4 defeat on local ice Saturday when they registered strongly against Elmira in the second game on Monday.

Never behind from the opening whistle, the final score was 6-2. The best 4-of-7 series for group championship continues in Elmira again Thursday with two games scheduled here on Saturday and Monday. After Monday's games the odds have shifted to Georgetown to take the remainder of the series from the highly-touted Elmira entry.

Scoring star of the night was Junior Beaumont who scored half the Georgetown goals. Ingils, Kenneth and Max Bradbury had the others. Much of the game's success is credited to defencemen Scotty Patterson, Gerry Ingils, Leigh Bradbury and Rene Martin, who gave wonderful support to the forward line.

Ken Nash suffered a nasty cut on the left eyelid which required two stitches. He gamely went into the third period, playing with one eye closed. Junior Beaumont had an ankle injury in the 2nd but was able to finish the game. With the possible exception of Nash the team will be at full strength tomorrow night and it is expected a large crowd of fans will follow the team to Elmira.

THE WEATHER

Mr. Editor:

We had considerably more sunshine in the last week of February than the previous weeks. The month of February was above normal too; the average maximum of 32 being 8 degrees above normal and the minimum of 15 was 4 degrees above. The total snowfall for the month was 16 inches, being only one inch above normal. March certainly entered like a lamb this year but keep the-you-know-what on a while yet.

Date	Max.	Min.	Snow
Feb. 25	32	13
Feb. 26	37	16	Flurries
Feb. 27	38	25
Feb. 28	35	13
Feb. 29	36	14

SUNDAY SERVICES AT ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH

Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson's address at the Sunday morning service at St. George's was based on Christ's temptation in the wilderness. He pointed out the different types of temptations and their significance for modern Christians.

Morning hymns included: "Come Let Us to the Lord Our God," "A Safe Stronghold Our God is Still," "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee" and "Shepherd Divine." The hymns "Thee we Adore, O Hidden Saviour" and "Lord Enthroned in Heavenly Splendour" were sung by the choir during the administration of communion. A. J. Eyr's setting for the office of communion was used. During the taking of the offering the choir sang "O King and Desire" by Sir John Stainer.

In the evening the Archdeacon compared the Upper Room with the church, pointing out the association of holiness which the church brings to mind.

The choir sang Theman's "O Glad some Light" as an anthem and hymns included "Take Up The Cross," "Stand Up for Jesus" and "Sweet the Moments Rich in Blessing."

LIONS SELL PEANUTS

Members of the Lions Club are already at work selling tinned peanuts, as part of the project, leading up to Peanut Day.

Harding Price New Fair Board President

Harding Price, several years a member of Equus Agricultural Society board of directors, and vice president for the past few years has been chosen president for 1952. He succeeds Nelson Robinson of Norval who has guided the destinies of Georgetown Fair for two years.

Mr. Harding received the appointment at a directors' meeting last week at the home of Vern Archer. Spencer Wilson is first vice president and Mr. Archer, second vice, while Garfield McGillivray continues as secretary and P. W. Cleave as treasurer. Mrs. J. L. Ellerby is president of the ladies division and Charlotte McCullough is superintendent of the hall.

Possibilities of a new building in the park, for which the fair board has been earmarking funds for a few years were discussed at the meeting.

Erected Paper Machines In India, Siam and Canada

INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN AS PAPER-ENGINEER

Internationally known in the paper business, and one who had specialized in putting paper mills on their feet when they were down and out, James McNicol died at his home in town on Saturday. He had celebrated his 90th birthday only a week ago.

Mr. McNicol was born at Inverurie, Scotland, and started working at the age of ten at the trade to which he devoted his life. He worked in various mills in Scotland and England, learning the business from the ground up. Three times he was engaged to go to India to set up paper mills and in 1907 he came to Canada to successfully put the Cornwall Paper Co. at Millie Roche on its feet. The next year he did a similar job for the Montrose Paper Co. at Thorold and in 1910 he came to Georgetown as superintendent of the old Wm. Barber paper mill, succeeding Mr. Hughes there. It was unique that these three mills all later were bought by Provincial Paper, Limited. The Georgetown mill was in business until it was closed down a few years ago.

During the first war, Mr. McNicol was appointed assistant paper controller for the government and made his headquarters in Ottawa, being succeeded here as superintendent by the late Edward McWhirter.

In 1923 came his greatest triumph. The Kaye & Jones Corporation, Wilmington, Delaware, was engaged by the King of Siam to furnish designs and specifications for a complete paper mill and machinery, with a stipulation that a capable engineering go to Siam, get the factory in operation and teach the staff of papermaking. The interesting aspect of the order was that model with a total length of 56 ft. Knowing Mr. McNicol's reputation but with no idea of where to locate him, the firm sent out circular letters to Canadian paper companies, and through his son, Gilbert, who was working in Niagara Falls, finally made contact with him. Forty-eight hours after he had been contacted, he was on his way to Siam, and in the following months the engineer sent samples of paper he had successfully made, these including tissue, newspaper, book, heavy cover, a 70 pound paper made of Lalang grass, and the most unique of all, a sample of 100 per cent banana fibre paper.

Another achievement of the veteran paper engineer was the setting up of an experimental plant at McGill University in association with the Pulp & Paper Association, where he acted as instructor for a number of years after the first war. Six years after his trip to Siam he was again commissioned by the Siam government to rebuild a second-hand machine here. He did this, and shipped it there, but this time did not make the trip himself.

A few years ago, Mr. and Mrs. McNicol returned to Georgetown to make their home with his son Gilbert and he had continued to reside here since her death last year. He leaves his son, Gilbert, and two daughters, Mrs. Annie Thom, Narwich, England, and Mrs. Daisy Bird of Inverurie, Scotland. A son, James, was killed in the first war. There are two grandchildren.

Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson conducted the funeral service on Monday at the McClure Funeral Home and interment was in Hillcrest Cemetery, Norval. Pallbearers were Hugh Dickie, James Dobbie, Ray Thompson, Orby Harrington, George O. ...

Cracks Two Ribs In Motor Smash

Injured in a motor accident early this morning on the highway ten miles from Kincardine, Eric Tomlinson suffered two broken ribs and a cut forehead.

Mr. Tomlinson was returning from driving a group of juvenile players to the game in Kincardine. In a blinding snowstorm he hit a car which had been parked on the highway with lights out. Five other passengers were uninjured, Herb Arnold and four players, Dale Sedore, Bud Haines, George Grady and Bob Anderson, from Acton.

The injured man was taken to a neighbouring farmhouse where he was unconscious for a time, but was later able to return home in Alf Sykes' car. After returning home he was taken to Brompton Hospital where it was found that his injuries were not as serious as at first supposed, and he was able to come home this morning after treatment there. The car was badly damaged in the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Reeve Both Lose Brothers

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeve were doubly bereft in the past few weeks when each lost a brother by death in England.

Mr. Reeve has been separated from his family since 1911 when he came to Canada. His brother, Harry Reeve, who died in London, England, leaves a wife and two children, as well as three other brothers and two sisters in England.

On January 26th, Robert Dix, brother of Mrs. Reeve died at the age of 71 at Norwich Blind Institute. Though afflicted with blindness since he was 12, Mr. Dix made a successful career for over half a century as a travelling grocer, and was given the affectionate nickname of "Blind Bob." Born in Norfolk, he received his vocational training at Norwich Blind Institute and after retiring in 1946, he returned to the Institute to work in the mat department. Mrs. Reeve last saw her brother in 1939 when she made a trip to England.

ATTENDING ONTARIO HORTICULTURE ANNUAL

There will be talks, both illustrated and otherwise, on Iris, delphinium, chrysanthemums, lilies, gladiolus and dahlias.

The welcome to the convention will be given by His Worship Mayor Allan Lampert, greetings by Ontario's Minister of Agriculture, Col. the Hon. Thomas L. Kennedy, and Ontario premier, Hon. Leslie Frost will introduce the guest speakers.

BAKING CAKE PROVIDES FUN AT S.S. DINNER

Over ten gallons of chocolate milk, dozens of plates of sandwiches, numerous cakes, (made with boys in mind), generous servings of Jello, several boxes of Dixie cups of ice cream, favours filled with candy disappeared in a very businesslike fashion when almost 250 members of St. John's Sunday School attended the annual dinner provided by the ladies of the W.A. on Friday.

Following the dinner an hour of entertainment was provided. The "Rhythmettes" who are rapidly gaining well deserved popularity in town were featured on the program. Miss Sally Baker gave two humorous recitations, much to the delight of the entire audience. Rev. John M. Smith led in a camp-style songsong. Mr. Graham Farnell's class gave a novel demonstration of how to bake a cake. Under the careful direction of Chef Farnell the boys combined all the ingredients required for this special variety of cake including half a bottle of flavouring, enough salt for a boy scout corn roast, two eggs in the shell and so on until the cake mixture was placed in the tin complete with being ready to be baked. With great ceremony the cake was placed in a specially constructed stove. With all power turned on the cake was considered baked in a few minutes and when the boys opened the oven door there was the cake, done to perfection, complete with a candle burning in its centre. The boys immediately proceeded to cut the cake in honour of Calvin King's birthday. It was all quite a mystery until the boys reopened the oven door to expose "Butch" Hyde, in the stove. Butch had simply removed the unbaked cake and in its place, had placed the previously prepared cake.

The balance of the program consisted of two films which were a cartoon "Ten Little Farmers" and a film on the "Royal Tour of Africa." At the close of the program the general feeling of all was expressed when one of the younger boys was overheard saying "Boy! That was neat!"

Scorers for the locals were Blake Ingles, (2); Fed Dickenson (2); Bud Valey (2); D. Sedore and G. Webster.

The Blenheim marmalade were Ron Pearson (3); Dicke Bedand (1) and McGregor (1).

This eliminated Blenheim from the series, and left Georgetown and Kincardine battling it out for the semi-finals. The first game was last night with a return match on Friday at the arena.

Special Services For Baptists This Week

A week of special services of Christian Witness sponsored by the Baptist Brotherhood of Toronto began on Sunday at Georgetown Baptist Church. Guest speaker for the day was C. P. Wayman.

At the morning worship he brought a great challenge to the congregation when he spoke on "The Three Cheers of Jesus" — Forgiveness, Companionship and Victory. Mr. D. Duncan, the guest soloist sang "I Walk With Thee" and "O What a Day."

A song service led by Mr. Duncan opened the evening service which was conducted by George Harrop. Mr. F. McNabb led the congregation to the Throne of Grace in prayer. Again Mr. Wayman attracted the congregation with his sermon "Just People." Special music was again provided by Mr. Duncan. The benediction was pronounced by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Barker.

High School Teacher Is St. John's Speaker

Lorne Shewfelt, M.A., science teacher in a Toronto High School, was the guest speaker at St. John's United Church on Sunday morning. Basing his remarks on a portion of the 14th chapter of Romans he spoke on the theme "Love, the Christian's Motivating Power." This love, he said, should so possess us that our lives will be a help rather than a hindrance to our fellowmen. As a representative of the Ontario Temperance Federation, Mr. Shewfelt applied his message to personal habits including the use of alcoholic beverages.

The choir, under the direction of Norman Laird sang the anthem "God is a Spirit" and Mrs. G. Kidney sang the solo "I Met Him Today."

The evening service was conducted by the minister and the movie "That Boy Joe" was shown. It illustrated the manner in which children in apparently good homes can soon err because of parental guidance in moral matters. Ruth Evans and Mrs. E. G. Bishop accompanied by Joan Bishop sang the duet "Have You Been in the Garden?" Following the evening worship a sound film depicting the royal tour to South Africa was shown.

It was announced that the St. John's Men's Club would hold their regular monthly meeting on Monday.

On Tuesday, March 11th in the public library auditorium, a Chamber of Commerce will be organized in Georgetown.

Several preliminary meetings have been held by an interested group of citizens. The Chamber was first proposed by the executive of the Retail Merchants' Association. It will be a separate body, composed of any citizens interested in the welfare of the community and will have much wider scope than a merchant's organization, taking in such groups as industrialists, farmers and garagemen.

Present at Tuesday's meeting will be the president and secretary of the Brompton organization, a successful group with a membership of 700, as well as a representative of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Election of officers will be held and membership plans discussed.

The Chamber will have such interests as the promotion of a community recreation centre, the development of new industry and the general promotion of the town's welfare. Brompton and Oakville have been particularly successful in their activities and those interested in forming the Chamber are convinced that the same success can be met with here.

American Educationalist Native of Scotch Block

A native of the Scotch Block who had had a distinguished educational career in the United States, Dr. George Black died at Palo Alto, California, last week. He was a brother of Mrs. George Henderson and brother-in-law of Mrs. Hugh Black of Georgetown.

Dr. Black, a son of the late George W. Black and Janet Moore, attended Waterloo School and Georgetown High School, and graduated from Toronto University in 1898. He became principal of the State Normal School in Washington and received his Ph.D. degree from Columbia University. For several years he was principal of that State Normal School at Newark, N.J. Three or four years ago he retired and had made his home since then in Palo Alto.

Twice married, Dr. Black is survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Bonny, Los Angeles, Mrs. Elizabeth Wineman, San Francisco and Mrs. Janet Gault, Spokane, Washington, and five grandchildren. Mrs. Henderson is the last surviving member of this pioneer Scotch Block family.

120 Club Beat Kincardine by Narrow Margin

In what proved to be the closest game of their march to the juvenile championship, the local 120 Club managed to edge Kincardine by the score of 11-9 last night.

The Kincardine boys have a fast, smooth playing team and gave the Georgetown lads a real tussle. The 1st period was a fast one, with Bud Valey, assist by Webster, opening the scoring at 7:15. This was followed by a goal by Jarvie. Kincardine came back to score at 9:05, followed by Ingils at 12:00. The Kincardine lads then put on a real drive, netting three goals in the last two minutes of the period. Maltby stopped some 14 shots, while Ron Emmerton, Kincardine net minder, stopped 10.

The second period saw Georgetown putting on the pressure, with Ingils scoring four goals, Kincardine netting two.

In the third frame our erstwhile injury came back, Butch Schenk, to score two goals; Jarvie and Ingils each netted one, while Kincardine scored three. This period saw some real action and fine goal tending. During the game Georgetown managed to pick up six penalties; Ingils and Sedore each getting one in the first, Sedore one in the 2nd and Barber two in the final frame. As the score indicates, the Kincardine lads are a hot team, and our boys will really have to sleep to retain that slim two-goal lead here on Friday night.

COUNCIL NEWS

Sorry, no room in this week's paper for Monday's council news.
