ELMER'S THREE STARS

Elmira Champs, Raiders Chumps; But Different Monday... Elmer

After that correspondence in last week's Herald from Jack Gunning it looks like Elmer has to defend his honor or lay away his pen as a sport's writer.

For Mr. Gunning's information this Johnny Come Lately, as he calls Elmer, has been a resident of Georgetown for more years than Mr. Gunning is old. We would class Mr. Gunning as a new resident of our fair town.

To answer his other question... "By what authority we criticize the hockey players or the Arena Board we can assure him this is done with only one purpose in mind and that is to improve the team and the comfort of the patrons at the arena. We further assure him that if the Raiders and the Arena management pay heed to our suggestions they will please a lot more customers and at the same time be getting a large attendance.

Also from reading sports pages in other papers it seems to be the custom to make criticism of any team or conditions that the sports writers feel need adjusting. Even the Toronto Maple Leafs, Joe Primeau, or Conn Smythe are not immune from this. And we don't think the Georgetown setup should or does expect any different treatment than teams in other categories.

Mr. Gunning says he would like to meet Elmer. He is not the only one with this wish. From what we hear from the headlines it would mean his column in the Herald would be cut short if his identity were known. For poor Elmer no doubt would be sojourning in the nearest hospital and be missing the playdowns as the Raiders went on their merry way to the championship.

Finally, Mr. Gunning, we don't want your job as secretary. We have held that job too often in the distant past when you were still wearing three-cornered pants. So keep up the good work Mr. Gunning, experience is a great teacher.

New For Hockey

The Group playdown between Elmira and Georgetown got underway at the Georgetown Arena on Saturday, March 1st. This is a four out of seven series. The Saturday night game brought out the largest attendance of the year with an extra big crowd coming in to support the Elmira team. And they had something to cheer for.

Now for a little description of Saturday's game. Georgetown started off like the Raiders of old. At the end of 25 minutes the score read Georgetown 3, Elmira 1. After that any resemblance the Georgetown boys had to the real Raiders was purely coincidental. The Elmira team scored for the balance of the game 7 more goals while all Georgetown could add was 1 more goal making the final score read Elmira 8, Georgetown 4.

Must have been the largest crowd of the season that caused the Raiders to get stage fright or something. For the last 35 minutes of the game they gave an exhibition of How Not to Play Winging Hockey.

The forwards failed miserably in covering their checks and forgot to play positional hockey. And the defencemen decided they wanted to play forward for the rest of the night.

This system of play made the Elmira team look like world champions and the Georgetown boys like chumps. The Elmira supporters have a nice team but they are not that good. So come on Raiders — take off those blankets and play the game you are capable of and you can take these Elmira Dutchmen.

Three stars?? Sorry there wasn't any as far as Georgetown went. They would all go to Elmira if they were passed out.

—Your Uncle Elmer
P.S. Reports of Monday's game prove we have a team. Keep it up, Raiders.

"the trip down was fun too."

"I came down by bus again this year and had a lovely trip—a couple of stop-overs on the way to see the sights and do some shopping. The highway scenery was grand and we passed through a lot of interesting towns and cities. I'm going home by bus too."
