Academic and Cadet Awards Presented at Commencement

Three playlets and selections by the girls' choir were included in the entertainment at the annual high school commencement on Wednesday in St. John's church hall.

Dr. J. B. Milne was chairman for the evening and he was assisted by other board members, Walter Blehn, Arthur Beaumont, and George C. Brown in presenting diplomas and prizes to a number of students and graduates.

Cash prizes from the board for 1951 scholarships went to William MacCormack, now a student at Queen's University, Grade 13, Irene Nelle, Grade 12, Mary Beckett, Grade 11, Eileen Oates, Grade 10, Don Souther and Dorothy Williams, Grade 9, and Shirley Burt, of the Royal Bank Staff, Special Commercial.

A number of academic proficiency prizes were presented by the donors: Jean Mackenzie for the IOOE to Barbara Cromar for Grade 13, Miss Cromar, a normal school student was unable to be present and her mother received the prize for her, W. F. Bradley to June Thompson, Grade 12, Arthur Beaumont to Anne Chalke, Grade 11, Walter Blehn for the Georgetown Herald to Pat Vance, Grade 10, Kenneth Schenk and Mary MacDonald won the Women's Institute prizes for Grade 9.

An IOOE bursary for outstanding achievement was presented by the regent, Jean Mackenzie, to Eileen Oates.

Receiving honour matriculation diplomas were Barbara Cromar, William MacCormack, Frances Pries and Carl Schenk. Academic graduation diplomas were given to Julia DeVries, Irene Nelle, Eileen Prust, and Keith Scott. Keith, who has recently enlisted in the RCAF was not able to attend.

Commercial graduation diplomas were given to Eileen Allen, David Bowman, Marilyn Cunningham and Marlon Hunter.

A number received intermediate certificates, these including: Martin Armstrong, Ola Berg, Marlene Bludd, Margaret Cain, Anne Chalke, Allen Darby, Betty Lou Davis, William Doherty, Joan Fiddler, Shirley Forbes, Blake Inglis, Ernest Kornetz, Sylvia Lambert, Nancy Larsen, Ruth McBride, Ross McGill, Eileen Oates, Ronald Ritchie, Richard Slenko, Muriel Spence, Lois Thompson, Pat Vance, Gail Wheeler, William Whitney and Neretta Zillo.

With Mrs. James F. Evans playing piano accompaniment and Marlon Hepburn, the school music teacher directing, the girls' choir sang three selections — Shepherd's Dance, Night and Day and Children's Prayer. The choir was gowned in their scarlet and blue choir robes. Shirley Forbes, with Miss Hepburn at the piano, sang "Bless This House."

Alan Prouse, cadet instructor at the school, presented badges to those who had qualified in their marksmanship tests. Gerald Scott was the champion, shot for the year and with Bill Whitney and Bob Froetsone received the Expert Badge (10 over 95) The Marksmanship Badge (10 over 90) was presented also to Paul Barber and Bill Hardman.

Winners of the First Class Badge (5 over 75) included four girls, Eileen Prust, Shirley Forbes, June Thompson and Neretta Zillo, as well as Robert Allen, Donald Cleave, Allen Darby, Bill Handox, Bill Hardman, Sandy Mackenzie, Ross McGilvray, Terry Norton, Donald Schenk, Doug Tucker, Duncan Gibson and Bruce Norton.

Two modern folk dances, the Charleston and Ballin' the Jack were danced by Pat Carney and Eileen Kerr. Pat's sequin evening area of a quarter century ago brought back memories to many in the audience who would remember the "Roaring Twenties."

The playlets were uniformly excellent and reflected credit on the directors and cast. Miss Rose Piercy directed Grade 11 girls in a farce "The Pie and the Tart" in which Pat Willson, Betty Greig, Su Crabtree and Jacqueline Graham played the leading roles.

"Deuces Wild" a tennis satire was all in rhyme and very clever. Dale Tost and Gerald Scott were the tennis players, Ken Richardson the umpire, Nancy White, line-woman, and Bob Allen played Alan, the flying ace who finally won the heart of Julia (Leona Conn). Spectators included Gretchen Bradley, Gordon Greig, Kay Cascadden, Beverly Hyde, Pat Carney, Bill Gibbs, Louise Tucker and Bill Hancock. News-papers reporters were Paul Prust, Ron Breen, Glenn Doherty and Audrey Bishop. J. L. Lambert directed the players who were all from Grade 10.

Mr. Lambert also directed the third play "Sunday Costs Five Peas" for which the Mexican stage set was designed by art pupils of Miss Dorothy Stone. Don Anderson, Betty Ann Kerr, Sylvia Lambert, Anne Chalke and Neretta Zillo were the players. Some unrehearsed excitement caused a few gray hairs for stage manager Bill Hardman when the leading man rapped briskly on his fiancée's door and the set collapsed, but matters were soon righted when the curtain was hurriedly pulled.

Tells Baptist Ladies Of Missions in India

At the semi-annual thankoffering meeting of the Baptist Women's mission circle, Miss Susie Hinman of Cobourg was guest speaker.

Miss Hinman, who was introduced by Mrs. Arthur Reeve, retired last year from missionary work after serving for forty years among the Telugus in India. She based her talk on idols and idol worship. This form of religion is still prevalent in India, she said, and millions have not yet heard the gospel message. She had brought a number of idols for display.

The visitor repeated a message from the Canadian Baptist Mission convention held in India last year, where delegates represented 152 churches with a membership of 37,000.

"When you meet our Canadian friends, please convey to them our affectionate greetings and tell them that they have not laboured in vain, but that they have, in the providence of God, planted a vineyard amongst us which shall never die. Tell them also that the new convention, a child of their missionary effort, is growing steadily, both in the grace of God and in its evangelistic responsibilities."

Mrs. Walter Peck, the president, was in the chair and welcomed visitors from Hillsburgh and Acton mission circles, also a number from St. John's WMS in town. The Men's Quartette, members of which are Watson Winfield, Douglas Peck, Douglas Cole and Leslie Ellis, sang "There is a Place of Quiet Rest." A Ladies' Trio, composed of Mrs. James Blair, Mrs. Walter Townsend and Jean Harley sang "My Jesus, I Love Thee."

Officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. Walter Peck, president; Mrs. R. Corbett, vice president; Mrs. W. F. Smith, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Douglas Peck, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Reeve, secretary.

KEEN INTEREST IN FARM POND SCHEME

Twenty-eight have applied for the subsidy on farm ponds provided jointly by the Halton County Council and the Ontario Department of Agriculture. While $2,000 is available for this project sponsored by the Halton Conservation Committee, nevertheless, if each of those approved receives the maximum grant of $100, there is only sufficient money to subsidize 20 ponds. Applications as received in the form of a "Request for a Farm Pond Survey" are being sent Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over Him.

For in that He died, He died unto 'sin once, but in that He liveth, He liveth unto God.

Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

forward to the Department of Agricultural Engineering at the Ontario Agricultural College. There is the possibility that some of the sites may not be suitable and also that some of the projects will cost less than $200. In the latter case, in as much as the grant is to cover 50 per cent of the cost, the maximum grant of $100 will not be paid, which would permit more than twenty Halton farmers receiving financial assistance under the policy. In the meantime if there are others who are interested, we would suggest that they make their application in person to the Agricultural Office in Milton.
