STOOD STILL

Last Thursday the Scouts played baseball as the hall was in use.

The Little Beavers had a full session of games and were sharpened up on telling time.

The Eagle Pack studied the compass this week under the leadership of Fred Masterman and Bill Hardman.

Leaping Wolves are progressing steadily under the leadership of Don Hutchinson and Jim Buck.

On April 24th the Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs variety concert went off with a "bang."

After M.C. Mrs. Joe Emerson had quieted all the Scouts and Cubs there was the "Wolf Cubs" Campfire" consisting of group singing, skits, and a duet of "Bless This House" sung by Doug Wrigglesworth and Tommy Forgrave. Marlene Rau performed her acrobatics for the enjoyment of all. The Rhythmettes, Pat Willson, Sue Crabtree, Bev Hyde, Jackie Graham sang "In the Cool Cool Cool of the Evening" and "On Top of Old Smoky." The "Hillside Auxiliary Meeting" stirred up some commotion with their hats and remarks.

Scout skills started off the second half of the evening. Mrs. D. Kidd, Mrs. Bob Hardman, and Mrs. Sedon were coaxed by the M.C. on stage to sing a song. Tumbling and judo by the Scouts gave the audience a thrill. The Burns brothers Jim and Clare demonstrated some fine tumbling and acrobatics. The group committee went on stage and delivered some very informal speeches. Shirley Forbes and Tom Warner sang solos, and encore after abundant applause from the audience.
