Parents with children who will start school next year are asked by the Georgetown public school board to submit information for the registration immediately.

It is necessary to make early plans for classes, as in September two classes will meet in the old school and two in the new. For this reason, as well as the name and birth date of children entering kindergarten, parents are asked to submit their street name as well. Children who will be 5 before November 1st are eligible to attend school in September.

The requested information should be given to principal Harold Henry immediately.

LAWN BOWLERS OPENED SEASON HERE MONDAY

The local lawn bowlers opened the season with a bang on Monday night when a good number of the men and ladies joined in two fine games. After bowling lunch was served in the clubhouse. Several new members were out and the club will welcome any others who wish to join.

The greens and general set-up this year reflect great credit on the new officers, especially the grounds committee who have surely done a nice job. Nice cooperation was in evidence between the ladies and men's sections and arrangements are now being made for some tournaments in the very near future.

THOR HANSEN SPEAKS TO ART STUDENTS

More than two hundred of the senior art students heard a most interesting lecture on Friday afternoon in St. John's Hall by the Danish artist, Mr. Thor Hansen, art director for the Public Relations Department of the British American Oil Company. Mr. Hansen spoke of his early interest in art and the following up of this hobby until it became his life work. He stressed the use of Canadian design and explored imitative work. He impressed his audience with his original Canadian patterns and explained the theme of each, or the legend associated therewith. His interest in Canadian wildflowers, animals and trees was evident in his work. Mr. Hansen's effort to help his youthful listeners in art was received with appreciative enthusiasm.

In mentioning the drivers who took the boys to the soccer game in Toronto last Thursday evening, the names of Mr. Arthur Scott and Mr. Thompson were unintentionally omitted. Many thanks to those who made the pleasant evening possible for the boys who attended.

A softball game was held on Friday evening after four at Glen Williams, resulting 9-8 for Georgetown. On Monday at the close of the field day they met again in Georgetown for another fairly close game.

The religious instruction periods conducted each Friday morning by the local ministers ended for the term last week. The children have welcomed these weekly lessons and derived untold help and lasting benefits from them. Sincere thanks is extended to the clergy for their interest and effort towards the children.

Tie Port Credit Baseball Opener

Port Credit and Georgetown played to a tie here Monday to open the local baseball season. In a game last week in Port Credit the home team won 4-2 in a tight match.

Monday's game made up for the scheduled opening on Victoria Day which was rained out. In spite of short notice and lack of a sound truck, 400 fans were on hand including Mayor Armstrong and Reeve Marshall, and the president of the Halton League, Pete McMullen. The lucky draw took place at the end of the 5th, and prizes were won by Don Barrager, Carole Lane and Charlene Day.

Now for the game. Port Credit took the lead in the first innings and kept increasing it till at the end of the 6th the score read 6 to 2 in their favour. Then the local boys started to unlimber some of their heavy artillery and tied it up. One more innings was played but the score ended in a tie as neither team scored in the seventh. Mel Jordan pitched the whole game for Georgetown but Port Credit was forced to use 3 pitchers.

The local boys are slowly rounding into shape and with the wealth of material to pick from they should give a real account of themselves from here on. Cosches Footitt and Patterson have a real job on their hands to weed out just who they will be carrying throughout the season.

We have plenty of ball coming up here this week, Oakville being the visiting team tonight and Waterdown on Saturday afternoon. So join the crowd and see some real entertainment.

OFFICER TRANSFERRED

Provincial Constable Mac Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Wilson of town, has been transferred from Port Credit detachment to the Brampton office.
