A Toronto insurance man turned farmer, L. W. Butt had his Huttonville farm featured in the Lucky Farmer Photo Quiz in the Herald as No. 12.

Mr Butt bought the farm from the Noah Ostrander estate five years ago, moving there from Highland Creek. He grows fifteen acres of gladioli and does an export business to the United States, England and Scotland. Daughter Marilyn, 16, is a Brampton high school student, son Richard, 8, attends Huttonville public school.

Mr Butt also possesses a herd of registered Jersey cattle. Farm employees include Cecil Smith, carpenter, Henry Taylor, herdman, Glen Pollard and Mac O'Brien. All live on the farm, including Mr Taylor's wife and two children, and Mr Pollard's wife, separate living quarters being available for the employees.

STAY-AT-HOME CAMPERS HEAR OF INDIAN LIFE, CUSTOMS

The 1952 Stay-At-Home Camp, sponsored by the Lions Club and the Georgetown Ministerial Association, has a total registration of 385. This number represents the total enrolment at the regular camp and the registration at the one afternoon kindergarten program. The division in groups is as follows: 6 - 9 girls 66, 6 - 9 boys 48, 9 - 12 girls 45, 9 - 12 boys 58, 12 and over girls and boys 61, kindergarten 77.

The first week of the camp showed fine participation and good conduct on the part of the campers, and fine leadership on the part of the instructors. The morning classes have held the interest of the campers and the craft groups are making good progress. The afternoon sessions of the past week were of particular interest. In addition to movies there were the trips to Stanley Park, Erlh on Wednesday and Thursday. On Wednesday the two junior groups enjoyed the trip while on Thursday the intermediate and senior groups were the lucky ones. As an added attraction to the swimming, races were held on both days. The prizes were many and really worthwhile. About fifty fine prizes were given out each day as a result of the generosity of the merchants of Norval and Georgetown who contributed articles and cash for this purpose.

On Thursday afternoon each group went on a hike under the supervision of the instructors. The afternoon closed with a wiener roast.

The Kindergarten program on Wednesday was under the leadership of Miss Jean Ruddell and was held in St. John's Memorial Hall. Seventy-seven children registered for the hour of fun and frolic.

On Monday of the second week the camp had visitors from the Six Nations Indian Reservation as their special guests. These were the Misses Jamieson and Mrs. Porter. Miss Julia Jamieson spoke to the camp on Indian life and customs. She wore the Indian costume and displayed articles made by the Indians. These included a snapping-turtle rattle, baskets, hats, bead-work, corn-husk dolls, war-club and other articles which were in miniature, such as lacrosse stick, corn pounder and baby cradle. The ladies spoke and sang in the Indian tongue.

On Tuesday afternoon the program was in the form of a Campers' Concert and included movies, quiz program, skits, readings and musical numbers by the campers.

An added attraction to this year's camp has been the use of the Y.M.C.A. pool at Norval Camp by the Intermediate and Senior groups.

The films shown at the Driving School for the seniors have proven very interesting and reveal the many hazards of heedless driving. These are actually a series of 13 films on various driving subjects and problems prepared by the Los Angeles Police Force under the title Sgt Bruce Reports. This week additional pictures entitled "Last Date", "It's the Brain that Counts" are to be shown.

The 1952 Stay-At-Home Camp will conclude on Friday evening in St. John's Memorial Hall when all campers will assemble to see the final movie "I am With You," and to receive their certificates which are to be awarded on the basis of attendance, conduct, general participation and achievement. A Gold Seal Certificate will be presented to campers having from 90 - 100%; a Red Seal Certificate 80 - 89%; and a Blue Seal Certificate 70 - 79%. Special prizes are to be awarded to the camper from each group selected by campers and instructors as the best camper of their class. Parents and friends are invited to attend this closing program which will start at 7 p.m.

Action Drops Lacrosse Game to Burlington

Action-B-Hives, who have been having things pretty much their own way in the district lacrosse league, dropping a game to Burlington last Thursday 9 - 3.
