Perc Saxe Returns to Live in Georgetown

A former Georgetown resident, Perc Saxe has returned to live in town.

He will be associated with his father, Morris Saxe, in operating the Georgetown Creamery and Georgetown Meat Market. Mr. Saxe has been coming out from Toronto to work in the business week-ends for several months, but will now be on the job full time.

Since leaving town he has been operating a picture framing factory in Toronto. He served during the war with the air force. He will be living on the 8th line, just below town, in a house which he had purchased from D. G. H. Wright, Toronto mining man who has used it as a summer residence. Mr. and Mrs. Saxe's two sons, Stewart and Robert will be attending Georgetown Public School.
