Toronto Models, IODE Members Show Silver's Fall Fashions

Ladies of the community, and a few men too, filled St. John's Memorial Hall afternoon and evening on Thursday when Silver's presented their first Fall Fashion Review under the auspices of Countess of Strathmore, IODE.

The review was produced by fashion consultant Joy Davies, radio and TV star, who also was commentator for the production, and featured ladies and children's fashions from the store stock. Three Toronto professional models, blonde Beverly Ham, brunettes Mary Como and Betty Needen, the latter winner of the Grandmere sweater contest and a Liberty cover girl, assisted local ladies who modelled the new fall fashions.

Among the local models were Mrs. Florence Curtis, Mrs. Fred Chapman, Mrs. Richard Crich-ton, Mrs. Frank Jenner, Mrs. H. H. Jones, Gretchen Bradley, Claudia Milne, Mrs. Robert Hoare, Marna Mackenzie, Paulene Watson, and Ellen Biehn and Michael Hall, the latter two showing fashions for the kindergarten set.

The fashion accent this year is on colour and material, rather than any radical changes in styling. It is fashionable for ladies to dress all in one colour, with one bright touch of vivid hue to highlight the ensemble. Poodle cloth, a woolen material, is being featured and the boxy "Chesterfield look" will be popular. Miss Davies advised ladies to experiment with bright colours. A brilliant scarlet raincoat, evening dresses of bright blues and reds were among the colours shown.

Included in the show were fur coats, cloth and fur trimmed fall and winter coats, sports wear, afternoon dresses and ballerina and full length evening wear. Noticeable were umbrellas carried with many of the outfits, used for dress as well as practicality. Miss Davies also advised ladies that it is smart to carry fans with formal evening gowns.

Jewellery accessories by Coré were supplied by Barber's Gift Shop, and Dubarry Cosmetics, handled locally by MacCormack's Drugs were used. Mrs. Reynolds, from the company, was in charge of make up. Behind the scenes Lillian Watson and other members of Silver's staff, assisted with costumes. Mrs. Mary Jourdain, Mrs. L. W. Dann, Mrs. Jack Addy and Mrs. Ken Davidson.

Mrs. J. L. Barber, played piano accompaniment in the afternoon and Mrs. James F. Evans at the evening show. A feature popular with those who attended was presentation of Silver's gift vouchers by the IODE and presentation of fifty pair of nylon stockings by Silver's. Each person attending the show was given a small envelope and those which contained ribbon of different colors were awarded the prizes. Voucher winners included Betty King, Mrs. Walter T. Evans, June Walker, Hampton, Mrs. W. Cummins and Miss Bertha Boyd, Montreal.

IODE regent Jean Mackenzie introduced Miss Davies and officiated at the prize giving. Members of the Chapter served tea and cookies after both performances.

JOY DAVIES, who produced Silver's Fashion Show for the IODE Thursday afternoon and evening, and was commentator.

Flashlights, Lamps and Candles Light a Meeting

Despite the handicap of no electricity during the first part of the evening the Georgetown Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Campbell, George Street, on Wednesday evening, October 1st, with a good number in attendance. Mrs. Seward Wilson, the president was in the chair.

The motto: The hope of reward sweetens labour. The roll call: Sing, Say, Play or Pay. The dimness of the room did not dim the humour of some of the selections which were read with the aid of flashlights. Several were very good and one bears repeating, but will not be very humorous to sufferers of

HAY FEVER

(Parody on an allegory written in a Country Churchyard.)
The curfew tolls the knell of parting day — At-Choo!
There's pollen on the goldenrod and hay — At-Choo!

Although the summer days are stunning
I do not feel like jokes or punning,
Because my eyes and nose are running — At-Choo!

My doctor says I'm past all curing — At-Choo!
He little knows what I'm enduring — At-Choo!

This year I'm never going near him
Because I dread and also fear him
With his infernal shots of serum — At-Choo!

It's always this way in September — At-Choo!
Each year as far as I remember — At-Choo!

A cold in winter is much easier
To cure, because it's much less sneezier
In weather that is crisp and breezier — At-Choo!

But just the same I love the summer — At-Choo!
The one we're having is a hummer — At-Choo!

I'd rather sneeze until I'm weary
Than live through days, cold dark and dreary
Like those we have in January — At-Choo!

The members of the Institute will be wearing silver-plated Maple Leaf pins to advertise the tri-annual meeting of the Associated Country-women of the World, to be held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto next August.

It was decided to hold a chain euche in the near future to aid in the work of Community Activities.

The conveners, Mrs. Norman Snyder and Mrs. J. Ballantine, are planning to pack another bale for the Crippled Civilians, Toronto, this month.

Mrs. Herbert Cleave, programme convener of the month then took over and Mrs. Harold Cleave gave a humorous reading by Edna Jaques "Dad and the Old Overland." Community singing followed, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Fitch.

Lunch was served and a vote of thanks to all those who helped to make the evening enjoyable was tendered by Mrs. Albert Livingstone.
