"the low fares appeal to me"

"With living costs so high one has to be careful of expenses even when taking a trip. That's why the low bus fares appeal to me. I have a little extra to spend on entertainment or for some of my shopping while I'm away. And travelling by bus these days is really enjoyable."

Fair Board Active Busy Fall Season Seen

Keep your eyes, and your hearts open for the Fair Board canvasser when he calls on you in the program to raise sufficient funds to wipe off the overdraft on the new building.

The largest prize money in the history of the Esqueving Agricultural Society was paid this year, and cheques have been mailed to all winners.

The ladies section of the fair board met recently at the home of Mrs. Jack Williamson and revamped the ladies work, domestic science and flower prize lists for the 1953 fair. It is planned to publish the advance prize list immediately following the Christmas holidays. This will give the ladies of the town and district more time to plan their exhibits. Fall Fair exhibiting can be a lucrative pastime if enough articles are shown.

The first euche and dance of the fall and winter season was held last Friday evening and enjoyed its usual good attendance. In charge of the event were presidents Price and Ellerby, Craig Reid, Doug Currie, Mrs. Cromar and Jean Huddell. Doris Hully's Orchestra supplied the music for dancing. William Anderson called for the squares and the euche prizewinners were Ladies 1st, Miss Elizabeth Leslie, 2nd Miss Margaret Cain, 3rd Miss John Scherz, 2nd Wilfred Harding.

During intermission the silver tray, donated by the Royal Bank, for the best Helstein herd at Georgetown Fair, was presented to the winner, J. F. Trimble of Streetsville by Mr. R. W. Darou, manager of the bank.

The fair board is planning the annual directors' banquet for November 20th in Stewarttown Hall. An endeavour is being made to secure Lance Rumble, president of the Canadian Horse Shows Association as guest speaker. Mr. Rumble is an outstanding after-dinner speaker. Ballinford ladies are catering this year.

Thursday, October 30th was the day put aside for the annual meeting of District No. 5 Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies. The meeting was held in the Beeton Community Hall, with V. A. Ellis, District Director of Collingwood presiding and Stan R. R. McNeil of Woodbridge, secretary. Miss Charlotte McCullough of Georgetown, presided over the ladies meeting. F. A. Lashley, superintendent of Fairs, Province of Ontario, was guest speaker and illustrated his talk with coloured slides "Fall Fair Features in Colour". Mrs. Clark, Home Economist for York, Peel, and Halton Counties also spoke on "Junior Work at Your Fair."

Present at the meeting from the Esqueving Society were Harding Price, Mrs. J. L. Ellerby, Miss C. McCullough, Mrs. P. W. Cleave, Frank Wilson and Pere Cleave.

The new district director is Earl Hammill of Beeton; associate director, Charles Boynton, Gormley; Lady directors, Miss Charlotte McCullough, Georgetown; associate, Mrs. Harold Watson, Athlone; secretary, S. R. R. McNeil, Woodbridge.

The Beeton Society served a delicious lunch following the meeting.

Lions Donate Swings To New Public School

Two sets of swings have been ordered by the Lions Club as a gift for the new Howard Wrigglesworth School.

At last week's dinner meeting of the club at the McGibbon House, plans were made for installing the swings at the school in the near future. Seats and chains will be removed during the winter months.

The Club made plans for the annual Christmas draw and the visit of Santa Claus. Dick Lenta heads the committee and it is planned to have the affair on the Saturday afternoon preceding Christmas at the usual four corners location. Tickets, with prizes of turkeys, chickens and a doll dressed in $1.00 bills are being sold to finance the big day.

A suggestion that the club-owned lot beside the post office be used for car parking as a fund raising activity will be investigated. The club also talked of the possibility of providing street names and numbers in town and will investigate costs of such a project.

The club president, Don Barrager, showed some coloured movies which included scenes of the Stay-At-Home Camp, locally and at Stanley Park, and views of the Legion decoration day parade.

Rev. G. L. Royal Speaker Legion Memorial Supper

The largest crowd ever sat down this year to the annual Remembrance Supper of Branch 124, Canadian Legion. Some 230 were present for the turkey dinner.

Dinner was opened with Grace by the padre of the Branch, Archdeacon W. G. O. Thompson, after which the very plentiful and excellent turkey dinner was served.

After dinner the toastmaster, Les Clark called on past president David Bowman to propose the toast to the Queen. Then Fred McCartney, in a very impressive manner proposed the toast to Our Fallen Comrades. The next toast was that to the Canadian Legion, proposed by the president.

After the toast list was completed, Mayor John T. Armstrong was called on for a few words, to which he replied, paying tribute to the Branch, and to those who had helped do such a wonderful job in the past in making it such a good force in the community. He said that he was honoured to be there, and that on behalf of his wife as well as himself, he thanked everyone present for asking him to come.

The Rev. Alex Caffer was then asked to sing, and accompanied by Jack Wareing, literally "brought down the house" with three beautiful numbers. The president then called on the guest speaker, Rev. G. Lockhart Royal, of Norval and Union to speak to the gathering. Mr. Royal, himself a veteran, gave an exceedingly interesting and thought-provoking address on the reasons for war, and looked in retrospect on the past two conflicts. He left with his audience the thought of the seriousness of the world situation today, and how the only hope for ultimate peace lies with each and every one of us.

The evening was concluded with a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. McCartney and her ladies for the splendid dinner, moved by Charlie Day.

A sing song then took place with Jack Wareing at the piano, and a number of members accompanying him, in singing songs of the two World Wars.

Have Graham and his orchestra then supplied the music for a dance for the remainder of the evening.

Men Take the Service At St. George's Church

Arranged by Fred Chapman, president of St. George's Laymen's Association, the complete morning service in St. George's Anglican Church was conducted on Sunday morning by men of the church.

A. E. Dawson spoke to the congregation of the great force for good which Christianity exerts in the world and traced its origins. He summed up his remarks with the observation: "Our reason is a poor thing, but our faith is infinite."

Harold Henry and Stan Finlay read the lessons, choirmaster Bruce Harding sang the service and others who took part included Cecil Davidson, Sam Penrice and Edwin Wilson. Thomas Warren sang the solo part of the anthem "Seek Ye the Lord." Churchwardenments and said that the annual committee hoped to continue special services at least once a month for the next few months. He thanked the congregation for their work and attendance during the five week period of special services which had marked the church's centennial.

Mission Ladies Learn Japan Religious Picture

Miss Mary Haig, a missionary in Japan, spoke to ladies from several Halton United Churches in Ashgrove Church on Thursday.

It was the sectional meeting of Halton, Presbyterian of the Woman's Missionary Society, with luncheon served during the break between the morning and afternoon sessions.

Miss Haig had wandered before going back to Japan after war, if missionaries would be welcomed after the terrible bombing of Japanese cities, but had found them more welcome than before. The people want to know about democracy as we understand it and are anxious to know western ways, learn western culture and western religion. Young and old are learning English, which they are taught by the means of the Bible.

After weeks of hearing the Bible read, interest is aroused in Christianity and many ask to attend the weekly church Bible classes. The church in the city of Nagano had doubled its membership. Half its members are under thirty years of age. Japanese Christians send thanks to Canada for food and clothing, for sending missionaries and for prayers on their behalf.

Miss Haig closed her stirring talk by saying that God does the work, but he works through our prayers, and she asked the ladies to continue praying for the work in Japan. Mrs. E. B. Clements of Milton, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Walter Brownridge, Georgetown, vice president, opened the meeting with an appropriate call to worship and after the opening hymn Miss B. Hills, Ballinford, responded to a welcome to visitors extended by Mrs. John Bell-Boddy from the Ashgrove members. A thoughtful worship service followed, and during the business session, messages and greetings from other WMS members were read. Mrs. Gordon Kidney, Georgetown, was soloist.

The telling of what each society considered its best program brought a great deal of interesting information. A paper on "Church Work as a Vocation for Young Women" which had been prepared by Mrs. E. M. Readhead, Milton, was read by Miss Humie. Enlistment for life service, she said, is the urgent responsibility of each individual congregation. At the present time, 38 workers are needed in Canada and 43 for overseas work, and the ladies were asked to present this need to young women in their church.

A literature review by Mrs. De Coursey showed a number of new books on Africa available for use. Mrs. Dickard spoke on advance in membership telling of the need for more members, more organizations, more missionaries and more money to meet the church's need and the world's call. Mrs. R. M. Clements presented the report of the courtesy committee.

Groups represented at the meeting included Acton, Ashgrove, Ballinford, Bethel, Georgetown, Melville, Milton, Milton Evening, Ballinford Evening and Churchill Affiliate.

Orion Oddfellows Help Honour Sovereign Master

Many Georgetown Oddfellows were included in a group of over one thousand Oddfellows, who attended a turkey banquet in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, a week ago Saturday.

It was an official reception for P. V. Ibbetson, Q.C., Port Arthur, Sovereign Grand Master of the World and among many gifts presented to him were a television set, an oil painting and a wrist watch.

Those attending from the local lodge were William McDonald, Andy Ritchie, C. A. Grant, August Spitzer, Les Dickenson, Mike Lorusso, Clarence Spence, Ray Thompson, Norman McDonald, Jim Collier, William Cumpsty, Herb Hughes, Jerry Hepburn, Geoffrey Collier, William Ritchie, Dick Packer, Fred Johnson, Gordon Spence, Wilfred Breen, Rod King, Harold Crawford, C.
