LIMEHOUSE

Institute Asks For Improvements on Hill

Improvement of the dangerous school hill at Limehouse will be asked by representatives of the Women's Institute, when they meet with Esqueusing Council.

At a meeting of the W.I. last Thursday, Mrs. Ed Sanford, Mrs. Jack Roughley, Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. W. Mitchell and Mrs. A. J. Smethurst were delegated to meet with council in the hope that something can be done to improve the hill which is dangerous and too narrow for present traffic. Most of the children from Gibraltar School travel this way to and from school and the ladies, especially those with small children, want some action taken before a serious accident occurs. There have been two accidents on the hill recently and the W.I. feels it is time now to have something done to prevent more serious trouble.

Mrs. Charles Jones was hostess and the roll call. A Proverb, was answered by twelve members and three visitors.

Mrs. S. Kirkpatrick reported on Hall activities and Mrs. William Mitchell on the library. Mrs. James S. Noble told of flowers and fruit sent to sick people and a parcel sent to a family in England for which a letter of thanks had been received. Mrs. Roughley gave the report of the financial committee for the month.

A euchre party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spitzer last month, proceeds of which will be used for fencing and beautifying the piece of ground in the centre of the village.

Mrs. Harry Brown, convener of citizenship and education, called on conveners of standing committees to give two-minute reports on their work. Twenty dollars was voted to the Halton Music Festival.

Mrs. Jones and her assistants, Mrs. Charles Meredith and Mrs. Ed Sanford served lunch.

Judy McCumber is Top Public School Speaker

A Georgetown and an Acton girl were chosen to enter the county competition when semi-finals of a public school speaking contest were held Thursday in Howard Wrigglesworth School here.

Ella Yenny, Acton, placed first, telling of her trip from her native Hungary to Acton and Judy McCumber was second with her story of The Watchdog of Ville Marie.

Eleven boys and girls from the district competed in the contest which was judged by Rev. John M. Smith, Rev. Alfred Barker, Mrs. J. Ellerby, and Mrs. Orr of Acton. Shirley Mason, Acton, was third with the story of the flag. Tied for fourth place were Carolyn Biehn, Georgetown, who told the family life of an early settler, and Raymond Braida, Acton, speaking on Lord Nelson.

Other contestants were: Paulene Watson and Linda Mino of Chapel St. School; Ruby Tennant, Linda Moffat and Susan Canham of Wrigglesworth School, Linda Mann of Acton.

The two winners will speak at Milton High School on March 25th, in the finals, when a total of eight Halton young people will participate.

Thomas Leslie Was Pioneer Oxford Farmer

A relative of several district residents, Thomas J. Leslie, 72, died in North Oxford Township on February 26th on the homestead where he was born and where he farmed all his life.

He was a son of the late Benajah Leslie and Jane Neely. He had served several terms in North Oxford Council and was twice reeve. One of the oldest members of Banner United Church, he was a member of the session and a Sunday School teacher 28 years. Mr. Leslie was a past master of King Solomon masonic lodge, Thamesford, a charter member of Court Banner, COF and a member of Thamesford Odd-fellows Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Katherine Leslie, a son Joel, on the home farm, a daughter, Mrs. Roy Gordon, North Oxford; one brother, George Leslie of Thamesford; and one sister, Mrs. Albert Capstick of Ingersoll.

Rev. P. E. James conducted the funeral service in Banner United Church.

GLEN WILLIAMS

Glen Eliminates Erin Beeton Series Next

With Erin eliminated in the ORHA playdowns, Glen Williams meets last year's Intermediate A champions, Beeton, in the next round.

The teams play in Beeton tonight with a return game in Georgetown Arena on Friday. A feature of the Friday game will be the draw for a suit on which tickets have been sold for the past several weeks.

Playing in Erin Saturday, the Glen won an easy 8-4 victory. Erin was no match for the faster-skating Glen team and only over-anxiety plus the good work of the Erin goalie kept the score out of double figures. Seven minor penalties were awarded, 5 to the Glen and 2 to Erin. Marring an otherwise clean game the Erin goalie received a gash on the forehead from a high puck.

Two goals by Carl Schenk, one a solo effort and the other with Hills assisting were registered in the first. Three more were added in the second, the first a three-way combine, Scott to J. Haines to Schenk, followed by goals by Bud Haines and Jarvie, assists from Schenk and Grasby.

In the third, Snow scored Erin's only goal on a breakaway. Scott and McClure teamed for a goal; Grasby scored the 7th on a pass from McClure; Currie and Scott got the final goal of the game.

In the return game last night in Erin, Glen Williams scored another easy 9-2 win.

MACKENZIE NEWS

This is the time of year when all the ladies think of a new hat, and the man about a new fishing rod.

It's a good time to get those odd jobs done, too, before Spring arrives. Sufficient marbocum tile for a bathroom 5x7 would cost $12.42. In Amtico Plazix rubber the cost would be $15.57.

You would probably require poplar plywood for underlay at a cost of $4.95 and 1 gal. of water-proof cement at $3.95. For your time and a modest outlay, you could improve the appearance of your bathroom and have a floor that is easy to keep.

All the ladies who can, should not miss the opportunity of hearing Dr. Hirschmanova at St. John's Hall on Friday afternoon.

FIREMAN CALLED NO FIRE

Firemen, called to the house on Queen Street where Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lavoie and Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Earl live, on Thursday afternoon found their services were not necessary.

Apparently the furnace in the house had just been lit and a passer-by noticed smoke and called the brigade.
