Cadets, Plays, Square Dancing Commencement Program Features

Variety was the keynote of the high school commencement, held this year Thursday and Friday nights in the new Wrigglesworth auditorium.

Thursday was designated athletic night and honour crests were presented to students who had earned them for outstanding extra-curricular activity, as well as cadet awards. Trophies were also presented to groups and individuals for championships won last year.

On Friday, scholastic awards were given, and diplomas presented. Both nights an ambitious program included two playlets, a square dancing demonstration and a cadet display. Board members Walter Biehn and H. Craig Reid were chairmen on the respective nights.

Captain Alan Prouse was in charge of the cadet work and each night the progress of the corps was explained by Cadet Major John Whitney. Top cadet and winner of the Lt.-Col. John R. Barber trophy, Major Whitney has also been chosen to attend cadet camp at Banff, Alberta, this year.

The cadets did a precision rifle drill to whistle commands and on Thursday badges for shooting were presented by Cadet Major John Whitney and Richard Sienko. Crossed rifles and crown went to Bill Hardman, Bruce Denham, Don Puckering, Bill Farmer, Ross McGilvray, Terry Harley, and Kerry Jepsen. Crossed rifles, signifying 70 to 87 per cent proficiency went to Peter Darlington and Tom Dobbie.

Board member George C. Brown presented the honour crests, and these were won by:

Major Jack Armstrong was asked to present inter-school championship trophies. Georgetown had one of their top years, winning a four-school track and field meet and 3-school rugby victory. Paul Barber received the trophy for the rugby team, and also the Tom Watson trophy as winner of the 800 yard race at field day. Wayne Pries, top point winner for the school on field day, received the North Halton trophy, as all who won points assembled on the stage. Anna Spitzer represented the double trio which were prizewinners at Halton Music Festival, in receiving the shield from the mayor.

On Friday night, Arthur Beaumont, member and a past chairman of the high school board, handed out scholarships to top students in each grade. These were: Grade 13, Elling Berg; Grade 12, Mary Beckett; Grade 11, Eileen Oates; Grade 10, Dorothy Williams; Grade 9A, Ross McGilvray; Grade 9B, Betty Greig; Commercial Special, Shirley Forbes. Mr. Beaumont also presented a proficiency prize given by himself to Barbara Lindsay, Grade 10, by W. F. Bradley to Sylvia Lambert, Grade 11, and by the Women's Institute to Sue Crabtree, Grade 9B. The IODE prize to William Hughes, Grade 12, was presented by Mrs. James F. Evans, the Georgetown Herald prize to Sandy Mackenzie, Grade 9A, by Mrs. Walter Biehn and the Lions Club prize to Ola Berg, Grade 9, by Harold McClure. Scholarships, are cash prizes given by the high school board and comprise $15 each in the three senior grades, $10 each in Grade 10 and Commercial, and $5 each in Grade 9.

Dr. J. B. Milne, another board member, presented graduation diplomas and intermediate certificates as follows:

Honour Graduation Diplomas - Elling Berg, Joan Latimer; Secondary School Graduation Diplomas (Academic): Mary Beckett, Eleanor Schenk, Eileen Kerr, Keith Thompson, Elling Berg, William Hughes, George McClure. Secondary School Graduation Diplomas (Commercial): Gwen Conn, Shirley Forbes, June Thompson, Joan Dobbie, Elaine Pries. Intermediate Certificates: Robert Allen, Mary Barber, Audrey Bishop, Gretchen Bradley, Ronald Breen, Muriel Burt, Patricia Carney, Kathleen Cascadden, Donald Cleave, Leona Conn, Glenna Doherty, Robert Freestone, William Hancock, Wilfred Hardman, Carl Hill, Beverley Hyde, Betty Anne Kerr, Barbara Lindsay, Donald Livingston, Yvonne Long, Mary McDonald, Edward Middleton, Paul Prust, Kenneth Richardson, Audrey Robinson, Kenneth Schenk, Gerald Scott, Donald Souther, James Tomleck, Dale Tost, Louise Tucker, Patricia Vickers, Marilyn Warnes, Nancy White, Dorothy Williams, Betty Zilio.

Piano accompaniment for the girls choir and the mixed choir, directed by Kenneth R. Harrison, was provided by Mrs. James F. Evans. The girls sang Stardust and a clever arrangement of nursery rhymes arranged by Leslie Bell. A double trio and a quartet also were featured in the musical program.

A gay touch was provided by a set of square dancers which had entered the competition at the Royal Winter Fair under Mrs. Rose Piercey's direction. The Glassford Orchestra, with George Glassford calling the squares, accompanied them. The set was composed of Leona Conn, Eva Garvin, Bey Hyde, Gail Wheeler, Wayne Pries, Gerald Scott, Harry Grieg, and Paul Prust. On Friday Paul Barber substituted for Paul Prust who could not attend due to illness.

A group of Grade 9 boys were directed by Miss Piercey in two scenes from "Much Ado About Nothing" which is on their English course of study this year. Taking roles in the play were Michael Lambert, Peter Darlington, Koos Vandervoort, Terry Harley, Ross Cunningham, Alex Leslie, David Carter, Bill Farmer and Michael Armstrong. The stage crew for the play was composed of Tom Dobbie, Claudia Milne, Claire Bradley, Dianne Harrison, and Gail King.

The senior play, Potluck, was an entertaining comedy directed by principal J. L. Lambert. Leanne Darou, Alan Darby, Don Anderson, Neretta Zilio, and Gerald Scott were the players. Betty Anne Kerr was in charge of costumes. Mary Barber was prompter, and on the stage crew were Bill Hardman, Don Souther, Don Cleave, Bill Hancock, Ted Middleton, Brian Goodlet and Roger Addy.

On Friday, Miss Piercey was presented with a corsage from the square dancers and the orchestra ladies with flowers. Students were invited to stay after the show for a dance.

Euchre Party Celebrates Second Institute Birthday

Silver-Wood Women's Institute celebrated their second birthday with a euchre party at the Stone School on Saturday.

First and second prizes were won by Barbara Lindsay and Mrs. J. McEnery and the men's prizes were won by Mr. C. Vary and Mrs. Harold Cleave. Floyd Ward won the door prize. These prizes were much appreciated by the Institute, being donated by Ernie's Radio, Goodlet's Hardware Store and Kentner's Drugs.

There was much merriment during lunch, as each cake contained a button, and these were found by Bette Mae Milo, Mr. and Mrs. H. McEnery, Mr. George Burt, Mr. J. McEnery, Mr. Paster, and Russell Miller and a small prize given to each holder of a birthday button. The conveners were Mrs. E. Miller, president, and Mrs. Horace Bell, assisted by all the members of the Silver-Wood Women's Institute.

Talent Time Shows Are Roxy Thursday Feature

A series of Talent Time shows began on Thursday at the Roxy when musicians from Milton were featured on the stage, in addition to the regular show.

Dick Riddall Motors sponsored the first show and winner of the $5 first prize was Louis Nadalin, who played the guitar and mouth organ. A two dollar prize was won by Freddie Hatkey, who sang and played the mandolin, and the third prize went to Elmo Prizmi, singer.

Mr. Riddall was assisted in judging by Roy Magloughlin and Reg Ryall.

Theatre manager Bill Leslie says that the Thursday shows will be a weekly feature at the theatre.

Your visitors and views are always welcome news. When you have items of interest, phone the Herald, No. 8 or 651, evenings.
