Farmers Urged to Use Workmen's Compensation

In these days of farm mechanization, farm accidents are numerous and occasionally very costly. Just this morning we heard of an accident involving a tractor and a power take off ten foot mower. The operator while turning was reaching back for the lever and his foot slipped off the clutch and landed on the accelerator. Naturally the tractor jumped and off went the operator. Fortunately the operator was not seriously injured but away went the tractor and power mower through the road fence and landed in the road ditch. All is well that ends well you say, but the operator very easily could have been killed—and who would have been responsible? Why the employer of course. Never a year goes by but somebody's hired man in Halton gets smashed up. Last year, we recall the case of a lad who fell off a load of grain and broke both hips — he spent as we recall several months in hospital and his bills for hospitalization, doctor's care, ambulance fees, etc., amounted to several hundred dollars. The year before one of our Maritime workers got his foot in the auger blower at silo filling time — again the hospital bill, doctor's fees, etc. mounted up to hundreds of dollars. If he had lost his foot, who would be responsible for the compensation or rehabilitation charges. While we do not pose as a legal authority, it is our opinion, that if the case came to law, the employer would be found responsible in a large percentage of cases. It is not difficult to conceive of cases which could run up into a good many thousand dollars. Why, oh why, take such a chance?

Workmen's Compensation for Farmers

The cost of Workmen's Compensation coverage is at the rate of 75 cents per $100 of pay roll which would include the cost of board when supplied or of house rental when housing accommodation is provided as part of the wages paid. For example, a single man, paid at the rate of $75 per month together with board valued at $1.50 per day, would cost the employer 90 cents per month. On a yearly basis that would mean $10.80 — for farmers who hire seasonal helpers for 3 or 4 months only, the cost to the employer would not exceed $5.00.

What Are The Benefits?

Those covered by Workmen's Compensation if injured while at work, receive full medical care, hospitalization where necessary, Pensions where permanent disability exists; Widows' pension; funeral expenses; and last but not least — the employer is protected against suit by the employee.

It is not necessary for a farmer to employ year round help to obtain coverage, provided that he has advised the Board of his arrangements and made the necessary payments. In short, all farmers who employ help whether on a year round or on a part time basis, may protect their employees and themselves.

Where and When to Apply

Now is the time — not next week or next month! Since the cyclone in Western Ontario in late May, farmers who have seen the damage, have increased their coverage against wind damage many, many times. Unfortunately, few if any, of the hundred or more farmers in Western Ontario whose buildings were totally destroyed had anything like sufficient coverage. Workmen's Compensation is now available to farmers — why wait until an accident happens on your farm before you make any enquiry? Pamphlets on the subject are available at the Agricultural Office in Milton or if you write "The Workmen's Compensation Board," Fleet & Bay Sts., Toronto, you will get full information, and also an application form.

Delegation of 45 to Jehovah Convention

Georgetown will be represented by a delegation of 45 persons at the International Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, Yankee Stadium, in New York City. Wm. R. Clegg says that the group will travel by special plane, car and special train to join more than 125,000 other witnesses of Jehovah in their 8-day convention opening July 19th.

Mr. Clegg says that Jehovah's witnesses are coming from every province in Canada and nearly 100 countries to participate in the largest religious convention ever to be held in America. Charter planes carrying delegates from Africa, Europe, and Latin America will soon converge on New York. Large delegations from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Orient are already on the high seas. Some 18,000 Canadians are expected to attend. "It is significant in this materialistic age," Mr. Clegg says, "that people will spend millions of dollars for the privilege of assembling together to worship Jehovah God. It will be a feast for the mind on spiritual food. True faith in God is not declining. Jehovah's Witnesses annually report a world-wide increase of about 20 per cent in the number preaching. We expect thousands more will be baptized at the convention."
